Says PTA Group Can't Be Silent

CHICAGO (AP)—The national president of the PTA said today time is fast running out for "a just solution to the injustices, inequalities and deprivations suffered by some children because of their race or color."

Mrs. Clifford N. Jenkins told the annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, "our great organization cannot stand on the sidelines and refuse to be involved. The PTA cannot be a silent spectator."

Mrs. Jenkins added in an interview that she fully expects a resolution calling for a strong PTA stand on segregation to be offered to the convention for a vote on Wednesday.

Not Ripe for Merger

She said however that the time is not yet ripe for the national congress to merge with the National Congress of Colored Parents and Teachers, which has 300,000 members in 14 states.

Such a merger, Mrs. Jenkins said, would deprive millions of Negro children in the south of PTA services and thus do more harm than good. She said this view is shared by Mrs. Jerome Z. Morris, Montgomery, Ala., president of the Negro group.

"These people are doing such fine work," Mrs. Jenkins said, "but there are many places in the South where they cannot, because of local laws or feelings, meet with white PTA members."

Mrs. Jenkins said that as the schools in the South are integrated, the PTAs are integrated, just as they are in the rest of the nation. There were formerly 27 states with separate Negro PTA organizations. This number has been cut to 14, and Mrs. Jenkins said in a very short time there will be only 11.

Cites Objectives

In her prepared keynote address today, Mrs. Jenkins said the objectives of the PTA "commit us to caring for all the children, regardless of their race, color, creed of national origin, and regardless of the social or economic status of their parents."

She also said, "If there is a school that you would not send you're own child to, then that school is not good enough for other children."

About 2,500 PTA members from the 50 states are attending the 68th annual convention which ends Wednesday.

Panic Politics Charged to Bush Campaign Backers

Nelson Burhans, chairman of the Ulster County Citizens Committee for Lloyd A. Newcombe, today charged Bush backers with "Red-Herring" tactics and "panic politics" in the current State Senatorial campaign.

In referring to a front page story by Ulster County Republican Chairman, Kenneth Wilson that appeared in the Friday Kingston Freeman. Burhans said: "Their red-herring campaign seems to be based strictly on denying charges against Mr. Bush we have never made, yet refusing to answer every charge we have."

Burhans stated that the Friday denial of supposed charges that Mr. Bush had relatives on the payroll was "errant nonsense." "We didn't even know Mr. Bush had any relatives," Mr. Burhans said, and "wherever they happen to work is not an issue in this campaign."

Burhans also scored the allegations than any Newcombe backer had mentioned the Bush claim for $16,000 against the City of New York for alleged losses of income through patients being moved from the new reservoir area in Delaware County.

"Of course we have known that the Bush claims were ruled groundless by the State Appellate Division, that the claims were rejected, and that it was established through investigation that there had been no patient loss. But what Mr. Bush does in his private life is not our business."

"We have presented our program. We have only attempted to bring to the attention of the Republican voters of the District facts relevant to his work or lack of it in his official capacity as State Senator. What he does as a dentist is not of interest to us," Burhans said.

Doesn't Answer Charges

"If Mr. Wilson feels he must act as stand in for Mr. Bush in answering charges, why does he not answer the charges we have made. Why does he not name one significant piece of legislation ever introduced by Mr. Bush. Why talk of total State payrolls, which will continue regardless of who is elected, or detail the total work done by the New York State Dept. of Public Works as if Mr. Bush were the commissioner.

Disaster Is Worst In Sports

45,000 Fans Riot Over Soccer Game

LIMA, Peru (AP)—A stampede of 45,000 spectators in a Lima sports stadium after police fired tear gas at rioting soccer fans left hundreds dead today in possibly the worst sports disaster in history.

Authorities still were unable to come up with an official count of victims in Sunday's tragedy. Lima's La Prensa said 260 bodies were counted. The newspaper Expresso said 315 were killed. Hundreds were injured.

Blame Gas for Rush

Many blamed the tear gas for the frantic rush to the exits, and a government statement, taking note of this, declared:

"It was necessary for the police to use tear gas in an attempt, however unfortunately futile, to prevent further disorder. The government is deeply concerned over the fatal results that originated in a trival incident."

This was a reference to the fact that the riot erupted after a fan jumped from the grandstand to protest a referee's decision in the soccer game between Argentina and Peru. The teams were meeting for the right to play in the Tokyo Olympics.

The crowd had witnessed a close contest with neither side able to score in the early action.

After 15 minutes in the final period, Argentina scored the first goal. Within minutes of the final gun, the Peruvians sent the ball into the net.

The crowd roared. But the referee refused to allow the score, saying Peru had committed a foul.

Fans screamed in protest. The Peruvian players continued to play, although they also protested the decision.

The clock ticked on. Only moments were left when a spectator jumped out of the lower-priced seats and raced across the grass toward the referee.

Fans Are Stirred

The referee called off the game. Police escorted him off the field. The players headed for the dressing rooms.

Termination of the game only excited the fans more.

"They threw seat cushions and bottles and anything else they could lay there hands on," said a witness.

Nothing could stop the mobs dashing in frenzy for the exit gates, still closed because of the sudden end of the game.

Body upon body was crushed and stomped in the dash to escape. Men, women and children died, in the stands and at the exits.

Big Traffic Jam

GOP Gathers to Plan For '64 Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans gathered here today to complete arrangements for their 1964 convention and pondered whether a new statement by Dwight D. Eisenhower would influence that convention's choice of a presidential nominee.

The former president called Sunday for "responsibile, forward looking Republicansim" and a candidate who would carry out that program. But he did not name any names, and he repeated that he does not intend to dictate the convention's choice of a nominee.

Job to Pick Slate

The convention arrangements committee's main job today was to pick a slate of officials acceptable to backers of all the major potential nominees.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, a moderate, and Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon, generally considered a liberal Republican, were the likely choices for permanent and temporary chairman respectively.

No Keynoter Yet

The position of keynote speaker was still up in the air.

Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the GOP national chairman, has considerable backing for the job, but he said Sunday night that he does not want it.

There also were reports that Hatfield would be proposed for the dual role of temporary chairman, to open the convention, and keynote speaker, to deliver the quadrennial indictment of the opposition party.

Backers of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., an active candidate for the presidential nomination, indicated they would oppose such a move.

Impressed by Ike

Many committee members were more interested in Eisenhower's statement in a copyright New York Herald Tribune story than in convention arrangements.

The big question was: Had the former president's statement helped or hurt the chances of any of the potential nominees?

Miller had no comment. Other party leaders who are not openly backing any of the candidates seemed to think Eisenhower had knitted a blanket big enough to cover all of them.

F. Clifton White, co-director of field operations for Goldwater, said "the general is just reiterating Republican principles. I am sure the general is not going to participate in any stop movement or any gang up movement on any other Republican."

MSGR. J. J. O'REILLY

Msgr. O'Reilly Is Named Dean Of Ulster County

Appointment of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. O'Reilly, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, as dean of Ulster County, was announced Friday by Francis Cardinal Spellman in New York City, where some 1,800 brothers and priests of the Archdiocese met at dinner at the Americana Hotel.

Msgr. O'Reilly succeeds the late Msgr. Daniel J. Shea, who served as pastor of St. Mary's Church.

Also announced at the meeting Friday was the appointment of Msgr. John A McDermott as dean of Sullivan County and Msgr. Leo. J. Gregg as dean of the Dutchess-Putnam counties.

Twenty five years ago Friday Francis Cardinal Spellman was installed as archbishop of New York's Roman Catholic Archdiocese.

A pontifical Mass marking the anniversary was celebrated by the Massachusetts-born cardinal at St. Patrick's Catherdal. More than 2,000 brothers and priests of the Archdiocese attend the Mass. The date also marked the cardinal's 75th birthday.

Msgr. O'Reilly was appointed pastor of St. Joseph's Church last December after the death of Msgr. Stephen P. Connelly on Oct. 8. He had been a curate at Holy Family Church in New York City when he was transferred to the pastorate of St. John's Parish , West Hurley, Woodstock and West Shokan in mid-1954. He remained there until March 1957, when he was reassigned to the New York City church as pastor.

Woman, Operator Of Coffee Shop Robbed, Beaten

Search was underway throughout the area today for an unidentified thief who assualted and robbed the operator of a coffee shop at the Tamarack Lodge, Greenfield Park.

Ellenville State Police said Mrs. Helen Slansky, of the Bronx, closed the coffee shop at about 3 a. m. Sunday and went to her room. She said she placed a canvas bag containing $350 and some change on a dresser and retired.

At about 4 a. m. she was awakened by someone who smashed through the door of the bedroom. As Mrs. Slansky asked "Who is there?" she was punched on the face by the intruder. Stunned temporarily by the blow, Mrs. Slansky later recovered and screamed for help.

An unidentified employee ran to her ald, but the thief had left carrying the sack containing the day's receipts at the coffee shop. According to BCI Investigator Michael Mahoney of the Ellenville State Police, the intruder apparently was a man.

Farewell Present From Nikita

Nasser Is Promised $277-Million Loan

CAIRO (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev ended a 17-day visit to Egypt today after warming up the farewell with a promise of a $277 million loan for President Gamal Abdel Nasser's second five-year plan.

In return, Nasser gave Khrushchev a wholehearted endorsement of Soviet foreign policy, including the Kremlin's views on peaceful coexistence.

A joint communique by the two leaders placed the Egyptians squarely behind the Soviets in the struggle between Peking and Moscow for influence in Africa's new nations.

2,000 Troops on Hand

Cheering workers, given a half holiday, jammed the airport for Khrushchev's departure, and upwards of 2,000 troops and security men were on hand. Nasser gave his guest a warm embrace. A 21-gun salute boomed out as the Soviet leader waved before entering his airliner.

Khrushchev's departure was delayed an hour and a half, but the reason was not announced.

The joint communique was made public after a final banquet Sunday night in the gardens of former King Farouk's luxurious Kubbah Palace.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union had decided to help the United Arab Republic with its

Heat Wave Breaks Two Records Here On Past Weekend

Two previous temperature records for the city were shattered over the weekend as Kingstonians joined other New York Staters in a sweltering summer-like heat wave.

The City engineer's office reported a high of 96 degrees at 3:20 p. m. Saturday. That broke the previous record of 90 degrees for that date, set in 1941, and came within one degree of matching the record high for the month of 97 degrees set May 20, 1959. On Sunday, old merc reached 94 degrees at 2:15 p. m., breaking the previous record for the date of 92 degrees, set in 1936, 1947 and 1955.

Temperature became more seasonal over night and leveled off to the 70s today with winds varying up to 35 an hour gusts.

Ulster-Kingston Fair Groups Are Big Attraction

Saturday, May 23, 1964 will long be remembered as Ulster County-Kingston Day at the New York World's Fair. Sixteen instrumental and choral groups attracted the attention of many thousands of fair visitors at the State of New York Pavilion, continuously from 10 in the morning until 8:30 in the evening, with the exception of the hour from 2 to 3. Each group performed for about a half hour. It is estimated that 45 busses were required to transport the performers and other visitors from Ulster County to the fair on Saturday. Some also braved the traffic and drove cars.

The amazing thing to the local committee is that all of the performing groups were on time for their appearances and the entire program was carried out on schedule.

Three members of the Ulster County-Kingston Day committee made the trip. They were chairman and Mrs. Albert Kurdt, Joseph Foley and Thomas Wickman. Mayor John J. Schwenk

16th Emmy Show Slated Tonight, Bishop to Emcee

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Comedian Joey Bishop, who has emceed bar mitzvahs, Italian weddings and Ed Sullivan testimonials, will officiate tonight at his first revolution—the 16th annual Emmy Awards.

The show will be telecast over NBC-TV — 10-11:30 p.m., EDT. Both CBS-TV and ABC-TV have boycotted it officially.

CBS and ABC charged that too much bloc voting influenced selection of winners. A CBS statement accused the National Broadcasting Co. of buying television Academy memberships for employes.

An NBC executive, however, countered that all networks pay for employe memberships, either directly or indirectly.

Window Smashed

Kingston State Police are investigating an act of malicious mischief, which smashed a window at the K-Vin Sweet Shop at Katsbaan early Sunday. Trooper John Turck reported a stone thrown through a 30 x 60-inch pane of glass at the shop.

Bungalow Entered

A burglary discovered at a summer bungalow on Route 2, West Saugerties, Sunday was under investigation today by BCI Investigator Frank Stainkamp of the Kingston substation. Trooper John Turck said Mrs. Vera Dejorio, of Yonkers, complained that her summer bungalow had been entered and ransacked. Several items including a pot belly stove, car batteries and lamps were stolen.

Eisenhower Sees Candidate As Man of Firmness

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, in a copyright statement in today's New York Herald Tribune said the Republican presidential nominee must be a man of firmness — but not impulsiveness — in foreign affairs, and show a willingness to meet "new needs" of the people.

Eisenhower also stressed the "furtherance of civil rights" and "loyal support for the United Nations" in the maintenance of peace.

The former president declined again to indicate a preference among announced or unannounced candidates for the GOP nomination, saying it is "not my proper role" to name names, and "I do not intend to attempt this."

He added that the Republican nominee should be a man who "will uphold, earnestly, with dedication and conviction, the principles and traditions of our party."

The leading announced candidates for the nomination are Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. Others officially in the race are Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine and Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota.

Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to South Viet Nam; former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton also have been considered high on the list of possible candidates.

Eisenhower said he has urged that Republicans from coast to coast be given a "fair chance to work their will, in careful deliberations, at the national convention — and therefore to make that convention truly representative of the party."

"I hope they will have that chance," he added, "and I earnestly hope the party will select a nominee who skillfully and wholeheartedly would apply to our problems, both domestic and foreign, those principles which I have noted here."

Motorist Is Cited For Violation; 3 Hurt in Mishaps

A motorist was cited for a traffic violation and three other persons were injured in traffic accidents over the weekend.

Bruce D. Tierney, 23, of Kingston, was cited by Patrolmen Albert P. Johnson and Oscar Gray for passing a stop sign after a two-car collison Saturday at O'Neil Street and Tremper Avenue.

They said a car driven by Tierney collided with a pickup truck driven south on O'Neil by Gerald K. Parkes, 26, of Box 332, Kingston RD 2. Parkes suffered injuries to the left side of the head.

Edith Strait, 58, of Pike County, Pa., told police she was shaken up in a two-car mishap Sunday evening at Babcock's Dairy, 197 Hurley Avenue. Police said she was making a right turn into the dairy when her car was struck in the rear by one driven by Georgiana Brown, 73, of 196 Hurley Avenue.

Jeannette Nagele, 24, of 164 Tremper Avenue, suffered a head injury in a two-car collision Sunday evening at Smith Avenue and Grand Street.

Police said she was driving south on Grand when her car collided with one driven east on Smith by Ilene Compton, 64, of 4 North Oakwood Terrace, New Paltz. Patrolmen Lewis Keator and John Kennedy investigated both Sunday accidents.

". . . Our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

"The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note nor long remember, what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion, that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain, that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

A SQUEEZE ON LAND

Great land booms of the past were caused, for the most part, by a sudden unleashing of demand—demand which had been pent up by things such as depression or war. The present crisis in land values does not result from stifled demand, but from a growing scarcity of usable land.

It can hardly be doubted that we are in the grip of another cycle of inflated real estate values. Unfortunately, the present squeeze threatens to be more costly and more permanent than at previous times.

Only a few statistics are required to verify the almost runaway nature of today's boom. According to a Wall Street Journal poll of builders, many of them reported prices of raw land doubled and even tripled within the last four years. That is a shocking increase which promises to change the character of America's industry.

The most depressing effect this land inflation presents is the restraint it puts on construction of new homes. Rather than one-family dwellings, which need moderately priced lots, multi-family units and the high-rise apartment buildings proliferate on expensive land.

Were the trend to continue it is conceivable the nature of our society could be altered. The United States has become known as the nation of individual homeowners. If we run out of land to accomodate our swiftly rising population, there may be a dramatic change in that picture.

WEIGHTLESS HAZARD

The United States has gone pell mell at the business of getting a man to the moon. Great emphasis has been placed on the need to make it by 1970, though there is no special moon magic in that year. One result has been a tendency to concentrate more on the workings of machines than on the workings of those who will man them.

This emphasis may change in the light of new data on the physiological effects of weightlessness. There is increasing evidence that over long periods the lack of gravity may affect the body—the circulatory and central nervous systems, most notably—in unfortunate ways. These findings may dictate that we make haste a bit more slowly, so that men will not only get to the moon but arrive in good shape.

TO CUT THE TIME KNOT

Nothing can be done this year about the annual summer mishmash of different times in the United States. Something could be done to see that this is the last year of such a ridiculous business. Congress now has before it a measure that would bring order without a lot of complicated fuss.

The silly season of divergent clock settings has already begun. Some states are on standard time, some are on daylight saving time, some will soon be on daylight saving time. If the divergence were merely from state to state, that would be bad enough. The fact is that time varies within states, also. In some areas, the traveler has to be a fast man with a watch setting to keep in step.

The Gordian Knot needs to be cut with one mighty slash. That could be done by passage of a bill, recently introduced in the House of Representatives by Rep. Donald M. Fraser, to place the nation uniformly on daylight saving time each summer. Though there are objections to such a system, on balance it would be much preferable to the present costly and irritating disorder.

EARS IN THE WALLS

It does not come as any particular surprise that the United States embassy in Moscow has been "bugged." The most interesting thing about the discovery of microphones embedded in the embassy walls is that they had gone undiscovered for such a long time—apparently since the building was remodeled for U.S. occupancy in 1952.

This is by no means the first time that listening devices have been found in American embassy buildings behind the Iron Curtain. One recalls the occasion when, as our then ambassador to the United Nations, Henry Cabot Lodge dramatically showed his colleagues a Moscow embassy seal which had been, as it were, wired for sound. The State Department has revealed that even prior to the current discovery in Moscow some 130 listening devices had been found and removed during the past 15 years.

A strong protest has been made; the situation is being reviewed to assess the possible compromise of secret information. That is about all that can be done. Except, of course, for worrying about the far more sensitive devices which have been developed since the early 50s and are now doubtless listening in more subtle ways.

'These Days'

A CUSTOMER'S SEAT AT THE BARGAINING TABLE?

When I suggested out loud the other day that the automobile companies ought to share some of their productivity gains with the customer by way of lower prices rather than pass them all to labor in the form of wage increases and fringe benefits, I was brought up short by an unusual argument. "If General Motors and Ford," so I was told by a conservative economist, "were to lower their car prices significantly, it would put Chrysler and the American Motors Company out of business."

Well, in a real price cutting war I suppose this might be true. But, with Detroit still in a fantastically good sellers' market, there is no reason why any automobile manufacturer should cut his prices drastically. The proposition is merely to give the customer a percentage of what, without a price cut of any kind, would be going to labor in all of the automobile companies, Chrysler and American Motors included.

Since making my suggestion I have come across a copy of a speech delivered by Governor George Romney of Michigan at a forum sponsored by the Republican National Committee in Chicago. Mr. Romney, of course, is the man who saved the American Motors Company from bankruptcy, and he is surely in a position to know whether his former organization would suffer if General Motors were to reduce care prices instead of raising automobile wages. Said Mr. Romney, "Now the facts are that under the current laws we have in this country, permitting the concentration of economic power, unions and employers have largely been picking up the results of progress, and the customers have not been sharing in that progress."

So there, at least obliquely, I have my answer to the conservative economist who fears that neither Chrysler nor American Motors could withstand the economic impact of a price cut. Mr. Romney isn't worried about American Motors being put out of business if the price of cars comes down and wages do not markedly increase.

The talk in Detroit, as it is relayed, is to the effect that the automobile companies are prepared to give Walter Reuther's UAW whatever it asks for provided it can be granted at the present level of car prices. This, so it is argued, would not be "inflationary." Maybe it would not be inflationary so far as Detroit itself is concerned. But it would set a precedent for union demands elsewhere in industries that could not absorb a wage increase without getting compensating price increases. So it would be inflationary at one remove.

The automobile companies are behind the eight-ball in this matter of giving the customer a break simply because consumers have no way of sitting down along with labor and management at the bargaining table. But it should not be beyond the bounds of ingenuity to find a way of bringing the customer into the bargaining room. Why don't the automobile companies, which surely know just what they are prepared to share between labor and the customer even this far in advance of bargaining sessions, poll the country on the subject of how the "improvement factor" money shall be distributed. Polling samples could be weighted to include a proportionate share of industrial laborers. The results of the polls would not be binding, of course. But they would enable management to go into bargaining meetings with an idea of how the population, which is largely made up of working people who also consume, feels about dividing the "improvement factor" pie.

Walter Reuther has spoken brave words in the past about his willingness to relinquish some prospective labor gains if the car buying public would benefit thereby. He, on his own, might poll his own union members to see how many of them propose to buy cars for themselves during the period of time to be covered by the next union contract. He might discover that his own union stands to recoup by a price cut what it would be giving up by demanding less in wages.

Since polls always impress politicians, a customers' poll would have its effect on the Johnson Administration, which might be prompted by a tangible expression of opinion to take the customer's side when it exerts its influence to avert an automobile strike in an election year. After all, the customer, if he can only be organized as the customer has more votes than anybody else in the country.

THE WELL CHILD

Word Blindness Complex; There Are Many Causes

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The 13-year-old grandson of a reader is being held back in school because he is word-blind. He reads like a boy of 6.

Word blindness is a complex problem because it may be the result of defective vision or hearing, a glandular disturbance, a bad start in the early grades or some emotional strain. Most victims are boys.

Often they have normal intelligence despite the fact that teachers, parents and classmates are likely to consider them not bright. The earlier remedial measures are taken the better. They should be started long before the child reaches 13.

This boy should have a thorough physical and psychological examination to discover the causes, so that he can be given special attention. Regardless of the cause, however, it is necessary to bolster the child's ego. Special tutoring in phonetic reading should be given.

It often takes a year or two before any improvement is seen even with the best of care. In planning for the child's future, it must be recognized that, no matter how much progress he makes, reading will never be one of his strong points.

Q—Our son, 6, has frequent colds. He has been given Thorazine three times a day for a long time. Is it safe to give this drug to a child year after year?

A—Chlorpromazine (Thorazine) is a tranquilizer. A 6-year-old child who is so severely disturbed emotionally as to need this powerful drug should have psychiatric care.

Q—Our daughter is 18 months old. For the past nine months she has had a hard time moving her bowels. She screams when she passes a hard dry stool and sometimes it has blood on it. My doctor told me not to worry about it. He had me give her laxatives and plenty of water.

A—Be sure your daughter gets some vegetable and fruit at least twice a day. Withhold foods she likes until she finishes her vegetables and fruit. When the stools are hard use an infant size glycerine suppository or a three-ounce water enema. Give her plenty of water to drink but discontinue all laxatives.

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Johnson is getting pretty deep into the thicket of problems that go with filling important judgeships. No Chief Executive escapes this involvement for long.

His really thankless assignment is choosing a replacement for Judge Ben Cameron of Mississippi. Cameron, who died several weeks ago, was one of the nine judges serving on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit covering Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Florida and the Canal Zone.

Cameron's one-man rulings frequently slowed or blocked court desegregation orders issued by other judges in school cases. He was a key figure in delays which preceded entry of Negro James Meredith into the University of Mississippi in late 1962.

Though recommendations have been quietly filtering in from senators representing some of the affected states, as well as from outside sources, no action on the Fifth Circuit vacancy has been taken or seems likely in the early future.

THE CHOICE WILL NOT BE EASY. Civil rights groups are saying plainly they do not want another Cameron. Militant segregationists will resist a moderate choice. If talent scouts should consult both camps in the search for some sort of compromise, the result could be merely to fan their mutual suspicions and make any selection unpalatable to both.

The problem over the Cameron appeals court vacancy is further aggravated by a current move to split the Fifth Circuit into two smaller circuits. The present circuit is the second largest geographically, and has the largest work load of any appellate region in the United States.

The Judicial Conference of the United States, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, recommended a split many months ago. This official body of top judges suggested the Fifth be divided so as to include Texas, Louisiana and the Canal Zone in one circuit, with Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia and Florida in the other.

A draft bill embodying these proposals is due for Senate committee study. But, once again, civil rights and segregationist forces are each suspicious they will somehow suffer if this or perhaps any division is decided upon.

ONE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT LAWYER comments that, even without the controversy over a possible division, choosing a new judge in a difficult area like the Fifth Circuit can be tougher for the President than naming a new Supreme Court justice.

Not all Johnson's dealings with the judiciary are this troublesome. Thus far in 1964 he has nominated, and had confirmed by the Senate, seven federal judges. He has named another seven on which action is pending.

There are ten spots to be filled on the federal bench at the district court level, and five in various appeals courts from coast to coast.

Four of the vacancies are the oldest on the list, dating from the creation of 73 new federal judgeships in late May of 1961. These posts, in other words, never have been filled. In two of these cases, work loads are not great enough in the area to create heavy pressure for presidential action.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The story of the John F. Kennedy Library has not been told. It has been buried under an avalanche of monuments, busts, hospitals, Kennedy boulevards, orphanages, plaques, memorial coins, books, maudlin poetry, medallions, Kennedy schools, scholarships, stadiums and postage stamps. The national conscience, in a hysteria of atonement, places gifts before the martyr in every place except where he hoped for one.

Few know that the President planned the library in 1960. And fewer know that he planned to spend the post-Presidential years working in it. John Kennedy was aware, when he assumed the high office, that earlier Presidents had built libraries for their personal papers, state documents, gifts, photos, paintings, motion picture films and memoranda.

Herbert Hoover built one. Eleanor Roosevelt put one up at Hyde Park, New York, for Franklin D. Roosevelt. Harry Truman supervised the erection of the most complete one at Independence, Missouri. Eisenhower built one. Young John Kennedy was planning his before he was in office two weeks. He sent an order to all federal departments to keep Presidential papers in a separate file.

The reason was that he recalled that Hoover, Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower each faced the tedious task of locating Presidential papers which had been lost, or buried in old filing systems, or gathered dust in warehouses. Kennedy was not sure whether he was going to be a big part of American history, or a small one. But it would be history, whether he served one term or two, whether he lived one year or forty.

In the Spring of 1960, he canvassed three sites for his library. One was on Cape Cod, one in Boston, and one on the banks of the Charles River at Harvard University. He chose the 2.9 acres offered by Harvard, and, at once moved onto the next step, an architect. Kennedy liked the work of John Warnecke, a San Francisco architect. The President asked Mr. Warnecke to start the preliminary work at once.

He did not want it to be a private library. It was to be public. He hoped it would be available to all the people all the time, and he planned to display more than his own papers: he wanted a detailed history of his country and his time. In fact, his highest hope was that the people would build the library by public subscription because he felt that it would give them a sense of owning it.

Within a few days after his death, dying projects were brought to life by naming them after John F. Kennedy. His name, which had not been listed among the illustrious of the nation in life, became wondrously magic in death. Noble projects and some not-so-noble became successful. Every promotional device, from silk scarves with his face on them to huge hospitals and schools, was used to tap the national conscience of money.

The Kennedy family was shocked and powerless. They could not, in good taste, decline the honors. On the other hand, the work of Mrs. John F. Kennedy, Robert Kennedy, and Senator Edward Kennedy in conjunction with the library made it appear to be a private family affair. In fact, when the ill and grieving father of the President, Joseph P. Kennedy, donated $1,000,000 to the library, most Americans were certain that the total cost of $10,000,000 would be subscribed in a few days by the wealthy.

The family is opposed to this. I spent some time with Stephen Smith, brother-in-law of the dead President, who is in charge of funds for the library. He said that the Kennedys are determined to follow John's wishes as closely as possible. They have close to six million dollars donated by 53,000 people. The best donations, according to Mr. Smith, come from children who enclose a fistful of pennies in an envelope, and write: "This is my spending money."

Smith, who is dark, handsome and energetic — concomitants of Kennedy family life — said that the name of every person who helps to build the library will go on permanent display when the building is completed. I told him that my girls might want to send small amounts, and he said to send it to the John F. Kennedy Library, Cambridge, Mass. I pointed out that they are cheap, as girls go, and he said he would rather have a million contributions of five cents apiece than one donation of $5,000,000.

Kennedy was in office only two years and ten months, but 12,000,000 documents belonging to him are now being catalogued. Everyone who knew the man is being interviewed on film and tape to give candid impressions of what he was like. Richard Nixon, Nikita Khrushchev, Konrad Adenauer — statesmen all over the world will contribute their impressions.

The building will cost $6,500,000. The remaining $3,500,000 will endow its permanent upkeep. In essence, it is the President's love letter to his country . . .

Reducing Civil Rights To Ballot Box Words

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Few people will dispute the theory that discrimination by reason of race or religion or color hurts the pride and feelings of the individuals who are the victims of such discrimination. But the big question today is how to overcome such discrimination without introducing new kinds of inequality, and just how far the power of law itself should be used to limit freedom of association either in private life or in business.

Congress has before it civil rights bill — the most far-reaching statute proposed in nearly 100 years. Probably only a small number of persons throughout the country have had a chance to read it in full, and many of those who have done so possibly have gotten lost in some of its legal phrases and ambiguities.

There have been many suggestions from time to time that legislation of this kind ought to be voted upon by the people directly through a national referendum. But how might the questions be phrased in such a referendum?

An examination of the proposed compromise amendments and the language of the House bill, which is pending before the Senate, leads to the conclusion that there are hundreds of questions that might be submitted to a national referendum and still leave numerous problems unsolved that could arise if the legislation is enacted.

Though not covering by any means all the questions that might be submitted, here is a sample of some on which the voters could be asked to answer "Yes" or "No":

1. Do you want the Federal government to control who shall be customers of hotels, motels, lodging houses, restaurants, cafeterias, lunchrooms, lunch counters, soda fountains, gasoline stations, motion-picture houses, concert houses, sports stadiums and arenas?

2. If you own or operate one of these private businesses, do you want the right to serve or refuse to serve whomever you please?

3. If you have located your restaurant or other public accommodation in a certain neighborhood whose residents happen to be of one color and have built up your business to attract customers from that area, do you want to be required to serve everybody regardless of race or color? To put it another way, should anyone who operates a private business be prevented from discriminating for business reasons and be compelled to go to court in lengthy lawsuits to prove what was in his mind?

4. If you are the owner of one of these "public accommodations," do you want a Federal judge, without a jury, to be able to put you in prison or impose a fine because he says you failed to obey his order not to discriminate?

5. If you own and occupy a lodging house with six rooms to rent, do you want to be subject to punishment for discrimination, while your competitor who has only five rooms to rent is not subject to such penalties?

6. Do you want the Federal government to be authorized to cut off funds from a Federally-assisted project in your state and injure all citizens alike if what the government calls discrimination on racial or religious grounds is proved in a few instances?

7. If you are an employer with 25 or more employees and your business theoretically affects commerce, do you want the Federal government to limit your right to hire or fire your employees and to set their employment conditions?

8. Do you think it is fair to let the employer with less than 25 employees practice discrimination while the employer of more than 25 employees is prohibited from doing so?

9. Do you, as an employer or as an official of a labor union, want agents from a Federal commission to be able to cross-examine everybody in your organization to determine whether there has been any discrimination in allocating jobs or in conducting the affairs of a business or a union?

10. Do you, as an employer, want to be forced by the Federal government to hire applicants who are atheists even though you yourself hold convictions against atheism as a kind of religion that you think condones unmorality?

An affirmative answer to all of the above questions today means that the citizen would favor adoption of the pending civil rights bill as amended by the proposed compromise provisions.

Some of the persons who answer in the negative, however, could still like to see some form of civil rights legislation passed but with no such extensive power given to the Federal government. Those who do not wish any legislation by the Federal government, leaving such matters to the states to handle, would, of course, vote in the negative.

The above questions indicate nevertheless why it is possible for citizens to believe in the doctrine of equal protection of the laws and yet disapprove of the methods that may be applied if the pending civil rights bill is written into law.

The referendum idea has been used to pass judgement on many proposals for state legislation, but no national referendum on any proposed Federal law has ever been taken. Members of Congress sometimes send out lists of questions to voters in their respective districts to ascertain the views of constituents on pending legislation. The final recourse of citizens, therefore, is to vote every two years for the candidates for Congress who favor or oppose particular proposals for legislation.

KENNETH L. WILSON

Two legislators in Albany, representing Ulster County, will be honored by Glasco Rod and Gun Club for their outstanding interest in conservation and recreation, at a testimonial dinner Thursday 7:30 p. m. at The Flamingo Restaurant, Saugerties.

They are Sen. E. Ogden Bush of DeLancey, who represents the 34th Senatorial District (Ulster) Greene, Sullivan and Delaware), and Assembblyman Kenneth L. Wlison of Woodstock.

Sen. Bush is chairman of the Senate Conservation Committee and is responsible for many conservation bills which protect the wildlife of the state. Sen. Bush is also vice chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Conservation Law.

Assemblyman Wilson was the champion of area sportsmen, who fought the open season for antlerless deer, and fostered other legislation relative to conservation and recreation.

Both legislators have been working on a project to provide Ulster County with two recreation and campsite areas. The proposals include state recreation and campsite areas at Wittenberg and Malden-on-Hudson.

Fred Polizzi, president, said the club was using this means to recognize publicly the interest the two legislators have shown in behalf of sportsmen in the district relative to conservation and recreation.

The Glasco club has grown to more than 150 members and is an outstanding club in Ulster County, he said.

Dinner Chairman Frank M. Mauro, charter president of the club, is also a past president of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County.

Attorney Louis P. Francello will serve as toastmaster.

A few tickets are still available and reservations may be made with Chairman Mauro or Tim Troyan.

Teacher's Group Names Sommers As New President

At the final meeting of the year of the Saugerties Central School Teachers' Association held last week at Mount Marion School, Milton Sommers was elected president for the ensuing year.

Other officers elected included Louis Parisi, vice president; Robert Varrell, treasurer; James Luther, recording secretary, and Miss Nancy Davin, corresponding secretary.

Reelected as delegate and alternate, respectively, to the House of Delegates were David Goble and David Jones.

The committee reports called for by Mrs. Ann Mahony, retiring president, showed that the organization had a very successful year. Noteworthy in its accomplishments has been the raising of a very substantial amount of money for its scholarship fund.

The major portion of this sum was raised from the "Book and Bake Sale" held this spring. This June the association will award a $300 scholarship to a Saugerties High School graduate who plans to attend college.

Mrs. Mahoney thanked all of the committee members and others who had worked so diligently for the success of the organization during the past year. In appreciation of her outstanding leadership, Mrs. Mahony was given a rising vote of thanks by the members.

U. S. Proposal Seen as Plot By Red China

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China today called U.S. proposals for guarding the South Viet Nam-Cambodia border with United Nations patrols a plot to expand American aggression in Indochina.

"U.S. aggressors must get out of South Viet Nam; they must get out of Indochina," a Peking radio broadcast quoted a Peking People's Daily editorial as saying.

Replying to U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson's declaration May 21 before the U. N. Security Council, the Chinese said: "China absolutely cannot allow the United Nations to be drawn into the situation in Indochina."

The Red Chinese rejection was spelled out in an editorial by "Commentator," an otherwise unidentified but high-ranking official.

Stevenson proposed that the Security Council request Cambodia and South Viet Nam to establish a military force to patrol the frontier which South Vietnamese troops have crossed in recent weeks in pursuit of Communist Viet Cong units. He said this bilateral force should be augmented by, and possibly commanded by, U.N. observers.

Alternatively, he suggested formation of an all-U.N. force to which the United States would be willing to contribute.

U.S. advisers contend the Communist Viet Cong openly use Cambodia as sanctuary before and after raids on South Viet Nam.

The editorial broadcast by Peking radio said: "These proposals by Stevenson are becoming increasing blatant. They are designed to draw the United Nations, which is under U.S. control, into territories close to South Viet Nam and Cambodia and thus to draw the U.N. into the contaminated South Vietnamese war."

Say Youths Fired Shots at Them

Two 18-year-old youths were arrested Sunday on warrants issued in connection with a state police investigation of a complaint that they fired a shot from a .22 caliber rifle at two town of Saugerties residents.

Trooper John Turck of the Kingston sub-station, reported Dennis Elmendorf, of 106 Farrelly Street, and Joseph Albert Misasi Jr., of 208 Downs Street, were arrested on charges of second degree assault.

Both youths were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Robert Stedge, Town of Ulster, and ordered held pending a hearing before Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly, who issued the warrants.

According to an investigation by BCI Investigators Richard Ryan and James Kaljian and Trooper Thomas Crowley, Charles Ricks III, of Box 100, Saugerties, complained that he and his brother Philip, were on the Hurley Mountain Road, Saturday, when the defendants allegedly fired a shot at them from a .22 caliber rifle. Troopers said Elmendorf and Misasi reportedly drove away after the shot was fired.

Fleischmanns Hotel Damaged by Fire

Fire gutted the top floor of the three-story 60-room new Edgewood Hotel on Halcott Road opposite Lake Switzerland, at Fleischmanns on Saturday, according to Fire Chief Charles Smith of Pine Hill.

Fire officials said the lake had been drained and their efforts to quell the flames were hampered. Firemen used water in the tank trucks to extinguish the fire.

The hotel, it was said, had been closed more than a year and was not occupied last season. Firemen from Pine Hill, Arkville, Fleischmanns and other nearby communities were at the scene for more than four hours.

Ulster GOP Club Monthly Meeting

The Town of Ulster Republican Club held a regular monthly meeting Thursday evening at Elmer's Inn, Ruby. A large turnout of members attended the very active meeting with President Anthony Cicoria presiding.

Guest speaker was Ulster County Commissioner of Jurors John L. Smith, who explained the proceedure of selecting a jury and origin of the jury system and its purpose. He also answered questions within the jurisdiction of his commission.

Other guests of the evening were Mrs. Raymond LeFever, vice-chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee, and Mrs. Eileen Markle. President Cicoria introduced Mrs. LeFevre, who explained the June 2 primary and how people will vote on paper ballots. Donald MacCollam, who organized the Young Republican Club in the county and is a member of the Town of Ulster Republican Club, spoke on unity and asked the fullest support of State Senator E. Ogden Bush at the June 2 primary.

President Cicoria called for reports and asked Jack Smith for a report on the Spring Dance which was held May 9. Smith stated the affair proved to be a great success and the most financial success to date of the club's programs. He thanked members of the committee and all others who supported the dance.

Mrs. Able Ellsworth was appointed by President Cirocia general chairlady for the third annual picnic to be held in August. Time and place will be announced after Mrs. Ellsworth has named her committees.

Tim Troyan was named chairman of the June meeting for the purpose of holding an open house for all members of the club. Date and location of the June meeting will be announced.

A resolution was unanimously adopted donating $25 to the Ulster County Republican Committee to suport the Republican candidates in the November election.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the business meeting.

Rare Coins Missing

CLIFTON SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—A coin collector reported today the theft of between $35,000 in rare coins and bills from the trunk of his automobile on the State Thruway near this Ontario County community.

Sheldon Moses, 61, of Herkimer, told State Police he had placed the money, contained in three briefcases, in the trunk of his car when he left Buffalo Sunday night after attending a collectors convention.

Senate Debate On Civil Rights In 12th Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate civil rights debate enters its 12th week today with leaders still trying to put across a package of amendments designed to pick up the wavering notes needed for passage.

They presented the package—prepared by Republican and Democratic civil rights forces in consultation with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy—at party caucuses last week and found further tinkering is needed.

Republican senators scheduled their fourth conference on the proposed amendments today. Their leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said he expects it to be the last.

Dirksen and assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota said they hoped the package could be submitted to the Senate this week as a substitute for the House bill now being debated.

This substitute, they said, could be discussed this week and much of next week before an attempt is made to shut off debate and bring the bill to a vote.

The approval of two-thirds of the senators present and voting is required to shut off the Southern oratory that has prevented action on the bitterly disputed legislation.

Senate leaders have indicated they might try to invoke cloture by the second week in June.

An Associated Press poll of all 100 senators, however, revealed that the votes needed for cloture in early June are not yet available.

It would take 67 votes to close the debate if the full membership were on hand. Only 56 senators said they were willing to go on record now for cloture in early June. There were 27 opposed to cloture then. The 17 others were either non-committal or unwilling to say whether they would vote for cloture by early June.

These 17, mostly from the Midwest and from Rocky Mountain states, hold the key to the final outcome.

This will be a short work week for Congress with both House and Senate expected to quit on Thursday for a three-day Memorial Day weekend.

Olive Firemen Will Hold Fund Raising Drive

Final arrangements for a house-to-house fund raising campaign, by the Olive Fire Department No. 1, Inc., were made at a meeting held at the Olive Bridge Fire Hall. This campaign will take the place of the annual fire bazaar which has been discarded due to the severe restrictions imposed, by the state, upon certain fund raising features of fire bazaars.

A letter appealing for contributions to the Olive Fire Department will be mailed to every house within the Town of Olive on July 20, 1964. Following the mailing of this letter, volunteer firemen from the local fire companies will personally solicit each house for contributions during the period of July 27 to August 9, 1964.

It was also planned that new fire call cards and dial telephone fire call insert stickers be printed and distributed to every house in th Town of Olive during the period of solicitation.

Fire Chief A. Fox Jr. announced that June 28, July 26, and September 20, are dates planned for the combined departmental fire drills. August 23 is scheduled for the third annual Olive Fire Tournament to be staged at the West Shokan Recreation Field, with the Public invited to attend.

Port Ewen Boy Hurt In Bicycle Crash

A Port Ewen boy was treated at Benedictine Hospital Sunday evening for scalp lacerations and injuries to his hand after his bicycle had been in collision with a car at Mountain View Road and New Salem Road. Donald Van Loan, 32, of 229 Lindorf Street, Ulster Park, reported to the sheriff's office that his car, owned by Joan VanLoan, was traveling west on Mountain View Road when he slowed up for a stop sign at New Salem Road.

The car and bicycle operated by Scott Alan Moore, of 257 Mountain View Road, Port Ewen, were in collision. The boy said his brake failed to operate. He was taken to Benedictine Hospital for treatment. Deputy Sheriff Carl J. E. Swenson investigated.

Rectory, Church In Poughkeepsie Damaged by Fire

Poughkeepsie firemen battled a two-alarm fire Sunday night which damaged the rectory of Mt. Carmel Catholic Church in downtown Poughkeepsie, and caused smoke damage to the church.

The first alarm at about 8:10 p. m. was followed three minutes later by a second alarm which called out all off-duty paid firefighters and seven pieces of the city's apparatus.

The fire apparently started in the library room between the church and rectory, and flames spread over the roof of the latter building before firemen gained control of the fire.

Patrolman James McDermott and two firemen were treated at local hospitals for smoke inhalation, and a sexton of the church was treated for lacerations of the hands. The origin of the fire was not immediately determined, and no dollar estimate of damage was available.

Smoke and water damage was reported in the church, but fire damage was confined to the library room and the rectory. Masses at the church were conducted today or schedule and there was no interruption in classes at Mt. Carmel Parochial school, it was reported.

Morrison Death Mourned Today In New Orleans

By BEN THOMAS

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—This historic city paused in sorrow today to pay tribute to deLesseps S. Morrison, who achieved success in politics, diplomacy and soldiering.

His body, broken in a plane crash in Mexico's Tamaulipas Mountains last Friday, will lie in state for 24 hours in his old office in Gallier Hall—the former city hall where Morrison had served many of his 15 years as mayor.

Morrison, 52; his youngest son John Randolph, 7; and five other persons perished in the crash, which reportedly occurred during a blinding rainstorm.

An Air Force Albatross landed at nearby Alvin Callendar Naval Air Station Sunday with the flag-draped coffins of the seven victims.

Morrison, who resigned a year ago as U.S. ambassador to the Organization of American States to make his third try for governor, will be buried with full military honors. He was a major general in the U.S. Army Reserve.

Others killed were Ovide J. Cenac, 59, of Houma, president of a towing company; Raleigh Pellegrin, 47, of Montegut, a Cenac employe; Hugh Ward, the pilot, Brownsville, Tex.; and Carolyn Vandergrift, 35, and her 7-year-old son, Christopher, who recently had moved from Washington, D.C., to West Palm Beach, Fla.

In West Palm Beach, Margaret Price said Mrs. Vandergrift, her daughter, and Morrison were engaged to be married. Mrs. Vandergrift was divorced. Morrison's wife died in 1956.

The caskets of Morrison and his son will be taken to St. Louis Cathedral Tuesday for a high Requiem Mass.

The Morrison party left New Orleans Friday to fly to the Rancho Santa Clara near Tampico, Mexico, on a combination business-pleasure trip. Their plane took off shortly after 5 p.m. Friday from Matamoros, Mexico, across the border from Brownsville, Tex.

A search party found the wreckage the next day in remote terrain 45 miles southeast of Ciudad Victoria, the capital of the Mexican state of Tamaulipas. There were no survivors.

Barry Would Use Light Atomic Items To Cut Supplies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says low-yield atomic weapons could be used to burn jungle foliage and expose Communist supply lines along South Viet Nam's border.

The Arizona senator was asked Sunday on the ABC radio and television program "Issues and Answers" how jungle trails which can't be spotted from the air should be handled in the U.S.-supported war.

In the interview, Goldwater urged the bombing with conventional weapons of bridges, roads and railroads used to bring supplies from Red China and North Viet Nam into South Viet Nam unless the Communists halted the military shipments.

The senator also indicated he would favor bombing supply routes inside Red China. "You might have to," he said, or the war will drag on and on.

Dutchess Woman Hurt In Highway Mishap

A Dutchess County woman was injured and three other persons escaped unhurt as the result of highway mishaps investigated Sunday by Highland State Police.

Trooper John Salters reported Edna Lawrence, 60, of Creek Road, Wappingers Falls, received a whiplash of the neck after the car driven by Harvey Lawrence, 52, same address, was involved in a collision with another vehicle at the intersection of Routes 299 and 9W, Town of Lloyd.

Trooper Salters said the mishap occurred at 4:15 p. m. yesterday. The other car was driven by Christy Conklin, 61, of 46 Franklin Street, Poughkeepsie. Troopers reported the Lawrence car was stopped for a stop sign on Route 299 when it was hit in the rear by the other automobile.

Robert Martin, 19, of 31 Garden Street, Hyde Park, escaped injury at 2:10 a. m. Sunday, when he lost control of his car on Route 32 about 2½ miles north of New Paltz. Trooper Salters said Martin was going north when the vehicle spun around on the pavement and hit a dirt embankment.

He outlined the proposals in a paper prepared for the annual meeting of the Aviation and Space Writers' Association.

3,200 on Strike At Aluminum Co. Plant in Massena

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP) — The Massena plant of the Aluminum Corporation of America was closed today by a strike that kept about 3,200 employes off the job.

The labor - management dispute involves reclassification of about 60 hourly jobs.

A federal mediator sent here to help settle the dispute left Sunday to attend to other business and was not expected to return until mid-week.

And, although both the company and the union, Local 420, Aluminum Workers International Union, have declared their availability for conferences, officials said privately further discussions were not planned.

It was the first strike called by Local 420 since 1934, a veteran Massena newsman said.

Treated for Slashes

A 29-year-old Poughkeepsie woman was treated at St. Francis' Hospital in that city Saturday for razor slashes of the heels and wrists. Police Lieut. Frank Dunlap said Mrs. Renee Close, of 51 North Clinton Street, was taken to the hospital by ambulance. Twelve sutures were taken to close the wounds, police said.

The company of William J. Taylor (N. J.) was one of the first to produce manganese steel in the U. S. (in the 1800s).

Returns Home

Mrs. Ruth Merritt, 39, of Pancake Hollow Road, Highland, who was the object of a State Police search after relatives reported her missing on May 14, has returned home, according to Trooper John Salters. The trooper said a resident saw the woman and notified relatives who took her home. No further details were available.

Waiting for Baker Storm to Pass

Senate Not Looking Kindly On Changing Its Own Ethics

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press news Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is distinguished by its grim determination to yield none of its privileges. It has two rules of conduct: One for itself and a different one for other people.

It is supposed to be the symbol of democratic government, but for years some of its members, mostly liberal senators, have urged Congress to do to itself what it requires others to do.

Now it's being urged anew as a result of the Bobby Baker case—but once again, embarrassed though it is, it will probably do nothing. This is what is meant:

Congress years ago passed a law, and later tightened and broadened it, to prevent conflict of interest among employes of the executive branch of government. Conflict of interest means mixing a government job with personal gain.

For example: Men appointed by the president to high position are required to get rid of stock they hold in companies dealing with the government. But this does not apply to members of Congress or its employes.

Ignores Proposals

Liberal senators have proposed Congress pass similar legislation on itself, its own code of ethics to prevent conflict of interest. Congress has ignored them.

But from last November until March the Senate Rules Committee investigated the financial doings of Baker who, as secretary of the Democratic majority in the Senate, earned $19,600 a year.

The investigation disclosed that while he held this job he had accumulated a business fortune of about $2 million. He was called to testify but refused to.

While the full Senate authorized the committee to examine the financial or business interests or activities of any Senate employe, it did not authorize the investigation of any senator who might have been involved with Baker.

Baker was a fantastic wheeler and dealer. A report prepared by the Committee staff last week, while attaching no criminal blame to him, accused him of "gross improprieties" in getting his job mixed up with private business.

Harsh on Senate

But the report was harsh on the Senate, saying: "No amount of sophistry can relieve the Senate of the public criticism now directed against it."

The report suggested that to protect its name the Senate should write a code of ethics for itself. And it proposed the Senate and its employes be compelled to disclose publicly their outside income and its sources.

The Senate Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, opposed this suggestion as he had similar ones in the past. He said, "I have never been in favor of making 'class b' citizens out of senators."

Another proposal in the committee report ran into broad opposition in the Senate: This would forbid a senator to intercede with any government agency on behalf of a corporation doing business with the government.

Very Exclusive Club

In a place like the Senate, where each member has tremendous power and is jealous of it, there is enormous resistance to changing any rules or diminishing any privileges. This is truly a club, and a very exclusive one.

The disclosures in the Baker case—the spectacle of this nimble young man, so close to many senators, becoming a millionaire while working for the Senate—was a shock to all 100 members.

It raises a natural question: If all this could happen with just one young man, what else is going on there? If the senators voted to disclose their outside income, the public would have both a check and an insight.

But the Senate, shocked though it is, has been through other unpleasant moments in its long history and will probably do nothing as it sighs and waits for this storm to pass away, thinking, perhaps, in time all things pass away.

Hunt Fourth Man In Kidnaping, Socialite Is Safe

PARIS (AP)—Three men described by police as "little gangsters" are being held in the kidnaping of Mrs. Marcel Dassault, wife of a millionaire French warplane builder, who says she wasn't mistreated during 35 hours as a prisoner.

"The chief was charming with me," the 63-year-old Paris socialite said after two gendarmes stumbled onto the kidnapers' hideout Sunday. "But they were dangerous men."

Fed Her Steak

Mrs. Dassault, who had belted one of the kidnapers in the stomach with her umbrella, said the men provided her with covers during a chilly night and brought her grilled steak and boiled potatoes when she complained of being hungry.

The three suspects, said by police to have been mixed up in prostitution and other underworld activities, were being questioned today.

Mrs. Dassault was freed when two village gendarmes, participating in a check of farms and summer cottages north of Paris shouted "Is anyone here?" outside an abandoned-looking farmhouse.

Hands Over Pistol

They broke in when a woman's voice replied, "Yes. Don't leave." A gunman meekly handed over his pistol and said some friends offered him a little money to guard a farmhouse. He was Mathieu Costa, 26, a bartender, of the French island of Corsica.

The second man arrested, Pierre-Gabriel Darmon, 35, a native of Algeria, was grabbed by police who waited for someone to return to the farm. His brother, Gaston Darmon, 33, who police said once operated an Algiers brothel, was caught by motorcycle policemen who saw him running across a field.

Hundreds Die . . .

jammed for hours. Mounted police charged the crowds outside in an effort to keep order.

Hoodlums looted the pockets of some of the victims. They also snatched watches and other valuables.

Under the stadium lights, survivors and police went to the aid of the injured and tried to sort out the piles of dead. The injured were sent to hospitals in ambulances, taxis, and commandeered cars and trucks.

Many persons blamed the police use of tear gas for starting the panic.

Outside the hospitals, mobs assembled, shouting denunciations of the police. "Revenge," they screamed. "Down with the police."

The government suspended individual liberties — a modified form of martial law — in an attempt to prevent further rioting. It also proclaimed a week of national mourning.

On the crushed chests of some of the bodies were the deep purple imprints of the curtain-like metal exit gates.

Liberals Endorse LBJ

NEW YORK (AP)—The Liberal party has endorsed President Johnson for election in November.

The party, which exists only in New York State, often nominates Democratic candidates—especially for national and state offices. It sometimes runs its own candidates and, at times, endorses Republican nominees.

Bearsville Woman Injured in Mishap

Two cars were in collision Sunday afternoon about 5:45 o'clock on Route 28 at Winchell's Corners, Shokan, and one of the operators was taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's Ambulance with chest injuries.

Mrs. Alice Elting, 41, of Bearsville, received a fractured rib and chest injuries. En route to the hospital oxygen was administered.

Deputy James Freer and Vincent Van Demark of the Sheriff's office investigated.

Mrs. Elting reported a car operated by Clifford Harris, 168 Bruyn Avenue, Kingston, had stopped short and she was unable to avoid a rear end collsion. Harris contended he had stopped for traffic and was struck in the rear.

Panic Politics . . .

"Why does he not show us one word on the record ever spoken by Mr. Bush against the skyrocketing State Budget, even though Mr. Bush is a member of the Senate Committees on Finance and Taxation."

"Rather than speak of the tax money spent on State owned ski runs, why not tell us what we asked, 'Where was Mr. Bush on the Hunter Mountain development proposals?' What has he ever done to assist the development of private resort and ski facilities in our district?"

"And why does not Mr. Wilson allow Mr. Bush to speak for himself. One wonders if Senator Bush is a reality at all, or just another name for Mr. Wilson. Our campaign is not against Mr. Wilson but against Senator Bush," Burhans said.

"Friday's article, as well as the paid advertising on the local radio stations is obviously the politics of panic. The remarks of desperate men who cannot give a straight answer to an honest question."

Burhans pointed to the sudden calling of a meeting of the Ulster County Republican Central Committee, as well as the last minute opening of two Bush Headquarters in the City of Kingston as further indications of the panic in the ranks of Republican leadership.

Committee Meeting

"A meeting of the Central Committee such as called for tonight has not happened in living memory, except for the bi-annual election of officers," Burhans said.

"And the opening of two headquarters in City of Kingston has never happened even on a general election," Burhans stated.

"They are establishing though, that there is still life in the Ulster County Republican Party. But that such activity should be generated for the cause of saving the dead wood at the top of the organization tree seems rather pathetic."

"If half the activity being expended to keep the incumbent Senator in retirement in Albany were used in elections against the opposition party, there can be little doubt there would be more favorable balances on the Board of Supervisors and the Kingston Common Council.

Egg Market

NEW YORK (AP)—(USDA)—Wholesale egg offerings of large slightly lighter; mediums and smaller sizes ample. Demand slightly improved on large and slow on balance.

NEW YORK (AP)—Chrysler was strong in a slightly higher stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderate in the over-all market.

Chrysler spurted more than 2 points following news of the latest in its series of expansion projects. Buying was heavy in the stock.

Gains by scattered blue chips continued to lift the general tone of the market despite a narrowly irregular pattern.

The stocks with mineral finds, which have highlighted the market in recent weeks, continued to cool off. Occidental Petroleum was down more than a point. Texas Gulf Sulphur clung to a thin gain.

Big Three motors all were ahead. A higher tone prevailed among airlines, chemicals, cigarettes, drugs, farm implements and coppers. Rails, utilities, office equipments and electronics were lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 307.1 with industrials up 1.2, rails off .3 and utilities off .4.

Eastman Kodak added about 2 points as it went to another of the new highs it has been making. International Harvester made a similar gain.

Onteora Board Revises Policy On Vacations

The Onteora Board of Education by a 5-2 vote has revised its vacation policy for non-teaching employees. Under the new arrangement, each full time employee is entitled to two weeks (10 working days) paid vacation each fiscal year.

After 10 years of full time employment, the paid vacation period will be extended to three weeks, and after 20 years to four weeks.

Employees working less than a year are entitled to one day per month up to a maxium of 10 days. If the first working month is more than 11 working days it shall be considered as a full month. Vacation for the present year is earned by the months worked the previous year.

The motion to revise the vacation was offered by trustee John W. Ebbs of Woodstock and seconded by Trustee Lloyd K. Collins of West Hurley. On the role call vote it was supported by Trustees Philip Gordon, board president; Arthur P. Knight and Herbert Shultis.

Two Votes Against

Trustees Raymond C. Cruthers and Herbert Epstein voted against the resolution. Trustee Cruthers suggested that after 7 years, vacations be extended to 3 weeks and after 12 years, vacations be extended to 4 weeks. Trustee Epstein did not approve of extending vacations beyond the two-week period.

A motion offered by Trustee Ebbs seconed by Trustee Knight, to fix the holidays to be granted employees carried by a 6-1 vote, with Trustee Cruthers dissenting. The following holidays were granted with pay: 4th of July, Labor Day, Columbus Day, Veterans Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's Day Lincolns' or Washington's birthday (whichever) is being celebrated by the entire school system), Memorial Day and a "roving day" to be determined by the adminstration.

Trustee Cruthers stated he would like to move that a half-day before Christmas and a half-day on Good Friday be granted in addition. The motion was not seconded.

Board president Gordon announced that other phases of this policy will be reviewed at a future meeting.

Reject Increase Bid

The board rejected a request for an increase in traveling allowance by Henry Hosser, Clark of the Works of the current elementary construction projects. Hosser told the board that "last month's mileage totaled 900 miles and the prevailing mileage allotment doesn't approach my personal car maintenance needs."

Trustee Shultis moved that the clerk of the work's mileage allotment be increased to 10 cents per mile for the remainder of his term. No action was taken on this motion.

Trustee Ebbs then moved that the traveling allowance for the clerk of the works remain at the standard allotment designated in the board policy. Trustee Knight seconded and the motion carried unanimously. It was noted that state, county and local agencies also provide an 8-cent per mile travel allowance.

Cite Carolyn Rose For Excellent Poetry

Miss Carolyn Rose, contributor to the volume of poetry, "Lollipops and Tears," published recently by the Onteora Central Schools, has just received Honorable Mention in the Senior division of the Scholastic Magazines Writing Awards for a group of her poems.

Students of 3,250 teachers in 2,462 schools in all fifty states, Canada, the Canal Zone, Guam and Puerto Rico submitted entries to the contest which recognizes talented writers in senior and junior high schools. Only twenty-five Honorable Mentions were awarded to entrants in the Senior Poetry Division.

Miss Rose, a junior at Onteora, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Rose of Bearsville. Although she has been writing for the past two or three years, she received the opportunity to develop her talent this year in the Writers Workshop under the direction of Miss Joan Silberstein.

One of the three students whose work comprises "Lollipops and Tears," Miss Rose's poetry reflects a love of nature, particularly the vast open stretches of land in the western part of the country. This is consistent with the career she wishes to pursue for she plans to study conservation at the University of Arizona.

State Districts Record Is Good On Budget Votes

New York state school districts have an excellent reputation for financial approval of budgets, Dr. George R. Sullivan, Superintendent of the Onteora Central Schools District, said today.

In 1963 there were 844 operating school districts in the state. A total of 782 voted on school budgets while 62 city districts are not required to vote.

Of the 782 districts voting in 1963, a total of 743 passed budgets as originally proposed or as amended with minor changes from the floor at the annual meeting. Budgets were rejected by 39 districts. Twenty-eight rejected budgets were passed on a second vote, 8 districts on a third vote, one district on a fourth vote, and two districts were absorbed by a city district. No district operated on an "austerity" budget throughout the entire school year.

The changes in rejected budgets ranged from an increase of 3.2 per cent to a decrease of 7.7 per cent. The average change was 1.1 per cent downward.

State History

The history of budget rejections in New York State from 1956 to 1963 is as follows: 1956, 3 rejections, 17 in 1957, 15 in 1958, 34 in 1959, 8 in 1960, 20 in 1961, 28 in 1962, 39 in 1963.

Factors contributing to a trend toward increasing budget defeats are as follows, Dr. Sullivan said:

1. Increasing demand for quality education; 2. the population explosion more children to educate; 3. rising costs of all services and materials; 4. general rebellion against all taxes with the only direct channel for expression being the school taxes; 5. the plight of taxpayers on "fixed incomes"; 6. inequalities resulting from archaic property assessment practices.

All of the above factors must be attacked with equal vigor if public education is to survive and improve in the years ahead, Dr. Sullivan said.

Faculty Additions Listed at Onteora

Several faculty appointments to fill vacancies were approved by the Onteora Board of Education at its regular May meeting.

The appointments included: Marion H. Blish, elementary, $5500 plus $500 for intramurals and recreational supervision; Eileen Keeler, elementary, $6900; William Keeler, elementary, $7860; Loretta Lorenzen, elementary, $5300; Susan Wallace, elementary, $6220; Alice Murphy, elementary, $6340; Sheila Margey, elementary, $5500; Jean Engel, secondary, $8050; Eugene Malkis, secondary, $8820; Mona Moore, secondary, $6340; Paul Flanders, secondary, $5560; Judith Howard, home economics, $5300.

Frances Ganci was approved as a part time clerk at the rate of $1.25 an hour.

Honor Teacher On Retirement

MARGUERITE MALLOW

Mrs. Marguerite Mallow of Shady, who recently retired as a teacher in the Onteora Central Schools, was honored by the faculty of the Bennett elementary school, Boiceville, at a reception on Teacher Recognition Day, May 19.

Mrs. Mallow has devoted 35 years of her life to the teaching profession in both rural and central schools. For the last seven years, she has been a member of the faculty of the Onteora Central School. Her most recent assignment was that of third grade teacher in the Mt. Tremper Annex.

Prior to joining the Onteora staff, Mrs. Mallow taught in various rural schools in the Woodstock area including Zena, Shady, and Willow.

The Teacher Recognition Day reception for Mrs. Mallow was held in recognition of her long service to public education. She was presented with a gift from the faculty as a token of the esteem in which she is held by her colleagues — both as a person and a fellow teacher.

To Take Loss or Not Depends on Objective

Q—"I bought Schenley Industries 3 years ago for 31¼, and it has been on the decline ever since. Should I take my loss and get out? Also what do you think of Interstate Department Stores? — L. A.

A — I always hesitate and weigh many factors before advising anyone to register a substantial loss.

If your objective is income, I would tell you to hold, since Schenley yields over 5 per cent on its well protected $1 annual dividend. Schenley is a soundly managed company which has seen earnings decline from the peak $3.07 a share of 1959 to $1.69 last year. Competition has been intense, and the company's profit margins have been hurt.

If growth is your objective, however, I would take my loss and buy Consolidated Foods.

I like Interstate Department Stores — one of the best of the discounters. At present levels, though, I prefer Arlan's Department Stores — in the same field — and with a very strong record of growth and less potential dilution.

Q—"I am interested in growth utility stocks. I have been told that the following are young and have a future: California Liquid Gas; Chattanooga Gas; Commonwealth Gas; National Gas & Oil; Southwest Gas Producing; and Volunteer Natural Gas. What is your opinion?" — V. M.

A — Presumably you want my opinion on these as growth utilities. This leaves me in a rather difficult spot.

Only two of the stocks you mentioned are classed as public utilities, and the rest are gas and oil producers or sell propane gas — neither of which operations is rated as a public utility.

The two franchised utilities are Chattanooga Gas and Volunteer National Gas, both pretty good companies operating in rather restricted areas in Tennessee. I can find no evidence of marked growth in either and suggest you aim a little higher.

I advise you to buy American Electric Power and Northern Illinois Gas, both showing consistent patterns of strong growth.

Stolen Car Smashed When It Hits Posts

Ellenville State police today continued search for a car thief, who smashed a stolen vehicle aganist guard posts on Route 52, Town of Shawangunk, about two miles west of Pine Bush.

Troopers said the 1961 car was owned by Anna Florio, of Pine Bush Lake Estates. It was not known that the car had been stolen until it reportedly crashed into the guard posts.

The operator of the vehicle, who is sought for questioning apparently fled on foot after the crash.

In another accident investigated Sunday night by Ellenville troopers, Paul Bain, 24, of Pine Bush, sustained lacerations of his left elbow, when his car was involved in a collision on Ulsterville Road, Town of Shawangunk, with a vehicle driven by James Little, 36, of Hamburg, N. J.

Bain told troopers he would see his own physician.

Partner Refuses to Sign Off

By OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

What is sauce for the goose is not always sauce for the gander at the bridge table. In expert circles, repeated bids of the same suit are known as sign offs and invite partner to pass. In other circles, they are still sign offs, but partner doesn't ever accept.

When North bid two hearts he wasn't trying to get anywhere except out of no-trump. When South rebid to two no-trump, North realized that a three heart bid would just elicit a further bid from his partner. So North gave up the struggle and settled for what he hoped would be a small penalty.

It was a small penalty. West opened the three of clubs. East took his king and returned the jack. South's queen lost to West ace and a third club lead gave South two club tricks.

East shed the deuce of diamonds on the fourth club whereupon South led the queen of hearts and covered with dummy's king after West played low. He led a diamond, finessed his queen, cashed the ace and led a third diamond to set up his last diamond as another trick. Results, down one only.

South was bitter about the whole thing. He pointed out that he had made one no-trump, but that North had put him one trick higher. It did North no good at all to mention that there really was no play for one no-trump and that two hearts was an absolute cinch.

Delighted With Tears

WEST HOLLYWOD, Fla. (AP) — When 11-year-old Thomas Pasquino was told he couldn't go out to play, he burst into tears. His parents were delighted. The tears were the first Thomas ever shed. They were evidence that surgeons had made progress correcting eye troubles with which the boy was born, inability to raise the eyelids including blocked tear ducts and inability to raise the eyelids more than halfway. The operation was performed at Wills Eye Clinic in Philadelphia.

Dear Abby . . .

A Lot of Scratch!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I love flowers. For many years my tulips have taken prizes. Last year some new neighbors moved to the north of us. They keep chickens. But their chickens are not copped up or fenced in to keep them on their own property so every morning those chickens head right for my bulbs. So far I have had about $200 worth of fine imported bulbs scratched up. I don't want to fence in my property because it will ruin the looks of it; neither do I want to start a feud with my neighbors. Have you any suggestions?

LOVE FLOWERS

DEAR LOVES: I assume you have already complained to your neighbors. If you have, and were ignored, ask your lawyer to write them a letter pointing out their legal responsibilities. If that doesn't work, you may have to sue. Two hundred dollars worth of bulbs is not chicken feed.

DEAR ABBY: When a child must go to the hospital for a tonsillectomy operation and the mother is unable to go, isn't it all right for the father to be there instead? A friend of mine, right out of the blue, asked me how I could have stayed away from my child at a time like that. She said nothing in the world could have kept HER away if it had been her child. She hurt me terribly when she said that. Abby, I have small children at home and no one to leave them with, and things beyond my control made it impossible for me to go to the hospital that day. Did I do wrong?

HURT

DEAR HURT: No. Your friend was just blabbing and unmindful of the hurt she was causing — at least if she is a GOOD friend.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter's girl friend has asked my daughter and four other girls to be her bridesmaids. She made it clear that each girl was expected to pay for her own gown. The bride and her mother picked out the gowns without asking any of the bridesmaids for an opinion about price. Both my daughter and I were shocked when we found out how much the gowns cost. This bride has very expensive tastes, which she herself cannot afford. I think if the bride wants her bridesmaids to wear such expensive gowns, she should pay for them. My daughter says she would rather turn down the honor of being a bridesmaid than complain about the price. To give you an idea of how overboard the bride went, each dress is $69.95, plus tax! And my daughter has never spent more than HALF that amount on even her best dress. I would like some advice.

WORKING MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Since the price of the gown is more than twice what your daughter would ordinarily spend on a gown, I think she would show good judgment to decline the "honor."

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, May 25, the 146th day of 1964. There are 220 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1787, the first session of the Constitutional Convention was held in Philadelphia, ostensibly to amend the old Articles of Confederation. As it turned out, however, the convention framed the Constitution we have today.

On this date

In 1862, Confederate Gen. Thomas J. (Stonewall) Jackson defeated Union forces at Winchester, Va.

In 1942, Gen. Joseph W. (Vinegar Joe) Stilwell arrived in New Delhi, India, after his epic retreat from Burma.

In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill held a joint news conference in Washington.

In 1944, the Anzio beachhead was linked to the main Allied front in Italy.

Ten years ago—A bomb, presumably intended for Gen. Augustin Guillaume, retiring resident general in French Morocco, exploded in Marrakesh just after his car had passed.

Five years ago—A United Nations world economic survey indicated the economies of Communist nations were growing at a more rapid rate than those of the free world.

One year ago—30 independent African states formed the Organization of African Unity at a conference in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

General Grant made no demand for the surrender of General Lee's sword at Appomattox Court House and no tender was made of it.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Profits still point upward. Early reports on second-quarter operations and reassuring predictions at annual stockholder meetings are in near unanimous agreement on the trend. The dollar volume is rising. This should continue for a while.

Interpretation Differs

But there the unanimity ends. How to interpret profits; even how to figure them; what they should mean to workers, stockholders and customers; how would-be investors should react —there you have a wide choice.

Labor is using the record net earnings after taxes that are being reported or predicted by many companies as a talking point in demanding higher wage scales, and some unions seem likely to get them.

Stockholders dream of higher dividend payments, and the total continues to rise.

The government has suggested that customers might share in the happy event if prices were cut a bit as profits rise. But management usually replies that increasing production costs make that unlikely.

Wall Street eyes rising stock prices to see if they're advancing faster than dividends. This makes returns on investment really less glamorous than they might seem without close inspection.

Dollar Profits Piling Up

And corporate treasurers and presidents point out that the announced profit figures themselves can give the wrong impression to the general public, unless they're lined up against all the other changes in the economy.

But the dollar profits are piling up. Much of this is because sales volume and increased production multiply earnings at a fast rate after the break-even point is passed. Part of the fatter net income is due to the lower federal tax on gross corporate earnings. A lot is the result of cost-cutting and labor-saving devices.

Management argues that the profit increase so far is merely a catching up after earlier stagnation. And it says that today's profits are still much too low if industry is to expand and provide all the higher-priced plant and machinery that are called for to bring the economy up to potentiality.

Kingston Point Park

1900 - 1909: Turn of the Century

Kingston Point Park was in its heyday. On a Sunday afternoon in the summer, families would arrive by steamboat and by trolley to enjoy picnics and band concerts of a more leisurely period. At the other end of the trolley line, busy Wall Street was the focal point for business and financial establishments serving a prosperous and ever-growing hinterland covering much of the nearby valley. Kingston Savings Bank in 1900 erected a new building designed especially for convenient and comfortable banking purposes at 273 Wall Street, its present location. By the end of this decade, the bank's assets had passed the three million mark.

Banking in Ten Decades

(Fourth in a Series)

This year Kingston Savings Bank marks its 90th anniversary. The bank has served the people of Kingston from the post-Civil War decade of the 1870's to the present exciting "Soaring Sixties." Visit Kingston Savings Bank this week — see the interesting historical exhibits in the lobby. While you're there, ask about the many services offered which have built the bank's reputation over the years as "your family bank."

Certificates Go To Bennett and Highland Sheets

The Ulster County TB and Health Association as Ulster County sponsors of the 1963, 27th National School Press Project, presented the National Certificate of Honor to two Ulster County School papers at the recent Association dinner. Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, chairman of the Association's Respiratory Diseases Committee, made the presentations to the Bennett Banner of the Reginald R. Bennett Elementary School, Onteora School System, Boiceville and to the Highland Fling, published by the Highland Senior High School.

Best Entry of Group

Jessie Wolf, editor-in-chief, accepted the award for the Bennett Banner. Dr. Schwartz introduced Mrs. Emma Argulewicz, the Banner advisor and noted that the winning edition had been the work of Editor Wolf, Ellen Schwarz, Marilyn McGuhy, Betsy Warneke, Laura Nuchow, Mark Grazier, Patty Schallert and John Buoymaster. The comments of the judges, Dr. Schwarz added, indicated that the Bennett Banner, in its group, was "the best entry;" that its "series of careers interviews was especially good" and the "general emphasis on health careers was good."

The Highland Fling award was presented to Editor-in-chief Michelle Morano whose award winning staff included Virginia Achille, Donna Temm, Conrad Loreto, Sandra Demare, Sherida Stellar, Bernadette Brennie and Joan LaSusa. Robert Wattles, the staff advisor of the Highland Fling also was introduced by Dr. Schwartz. Judging comments noted that the Highland Fling had given "very full coverage" and that the "volume of correct information is good, and the writing is generally above par . . ."

"I am deeply honored to give these awards," Dr. Schwartz noted. He pointed out that the local School Press Project had been governed again in 1963 by the TB and Health Association as the local division of the National School Press Project sponsored by the National Tuberculosis Association, the local group's national affiliate, and by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

"The purpose of the Project," Dr. Schwartz pointed out, "is to disseminate correct, current health information and to alert youth to its responsibility for its own health and the health of the community. The project encourages young journalists, helps to raise standards of school journalism, and encourages citizenship."

Exacting Judging

Three Ulster County School Press entries were submitted by the Ulster County TB and Health Association to state judges, and all three passed the state judging and were submitted to the national judging team. The two Ulster County national winners were selected by the National Judges at their Feb. 14 session.

"The Bennett Banner and Highland Fling won their National Certificates of Honor on very exacting points of judging," Dr. Schwartz pointed out. "Each paper was screened carefully and had to meet national standards in total effort of newspaper staff, accuracy, originality, journalistic style, evidence of research, understanding of subject matter, and total appearance and format of the publication."

Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., association president, commented that the TB group "has sponsored this worthwhile student project for well over 10 years here in Ulster County, and we look forward to its continued efforts and journalism refinements." Past award winners have also been the M.J.M. Chatterbox, Myron J. Michael School, The Cherry Tree, George Washington School; The Quill, Ellenville High School; and The Flying Goose, Rondout Valley Central School.

School papers interested in entering the 1964 School Press Project are invited to contact E. Robert Johnson, the Association Executive Director, at TB and Health headquarters, 124 Green Street. "State and national effort toward the further effective development of this health-journalism project promise to make the National School Press Project and its awards one of the top forms of recognition available to our outstanding school papers and youthful journalists." Johnson said. "We have seen the calibre of school papers in our county, and believe that our entries late in the fall should further reflect the goals of health and good journalism, and produce award recipients for Ulster County again in 1964."

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

MOON FLIGHT: The United States has a better than 50-50 chance of landing a man on the moon by 1970, Dr. Wernher von Braun, director of the Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala., said today.

In a copyright interview in U.S. News and World Report, Von Braun said: "We cannot be absolutely certain, because any critical setback may, of course, still deny us success in time. But I would say, if you asked me for a personal opinion, that we have a better than 50 per cent chance of being on the moon before the decade is out."

BANK INSURANCE: Chairman Wright Patman, of the House Banking Committee, says the American Bankers Association is "deliberately falsifying the facts" in its opposition to an increase from $10,000 to $20,000 in federal insurance on bank deposits.

The Texas Democrat is sponsor of the measure which is scheduled for House action on Wednesday.

LOSING GROUND: Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D - Ohio, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, says the United States is losing ground to the Communists "in every corner of the world."

Writing for the Reader's Digest, Lausche called Secretary of State Dean Rusk a sincere, devoted diplomat but said the State Department has within its ranks "long-entrenched and frequently misguided men whose views too often account for our unsuccessful policies."

Mikoyan in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan of the Soviet Union was received in audience by Emperior Hirohito today. Officials of the imperial household said he was the first Russian of Cabinet rank to be received by the emperor since World War II.

Investor Forum

By HARRY C. FRANCE

THE DOLLAR STOCKS

A distinguished Pacific Coast professional man has lost $25,000 in promotions during the past ten years. His motives were of the best, but his judgment was bad.

He has always been looking for an embryo General Motors, Ford or American Telephone that, with a relatively small investment, would make him a fortune.

More than 90 per cent of promotions fail and he has succeeded in picking those that have. The irony of the whole situation is that most of the $25,000 he has lost was taken from his checking account in a leading California bank and if he had bought $25,000 of that bank's stock, his investment would now be worth $50,000.

Years ago, Russell H. Conwell, one of the greatest lecturers ever to live, gave a lecture called "Acres of Diamonds." Its theme was that people looked all over the world for things they cherished and failed to see that acres of diamonds lay at their very feet.

Millions of investors today need to be reminded constantly that sound common stocks are at their very doorstep and there is no need for them to buy unsound promotions and risk-laden stocks.

Every investor in America who carries a checking account in a commercial bank should own some bank stocks. For four years, I worked for a leading international commercial bank. The first year I was there, I bought ten shares for $900. Those shares have been split up 5 for 1, and there have been numerous tax-free stock dividends.

Those 10 shares are now worth more than $15,000 and I am getting $600 a year in cash dividends on my $900 original investment.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific, there are hundreds of sound, well-managed banks. I shall mention five of them here.

The First National Bank of Boston is the biggest bank in New England. It owns the Old Colony Trust Company. During the five-year period: 1959-1963 inclusive, it earned $27.09 a share. In cash dividends it paid out $14.03 — about half of earnings.

Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York, that has accounts with 96 of the top 100 corporations in America, made $29.48 in 1959-'63 and paid out in cash $18.83.

First National Bank of Chicago earned $18.78 and paid $6.33.

National Bank of Detroit earned $26.66 and paid $8.51.

Bank of America (the biggest in the United States), with 850 Pacific Coast branches, earned $15.86 and paid $9.57.

Besides these cash dividends, there were many stock dividends.

First National Bank of Chicago paid in cash only about one-third of its earnings. There were frequent stock dividends.

A New England investor might well buy First National of Boston.

An Eastern seaboard investor might accumulate Morgan Guaranty Trust of New York—the greatest bank in the world, I think. (I worked there four years.)

And from industrial Detroit to dynamic California, investors could well buy shares in the other institutions.

State Young GOP Endorses Rocky For Nomination

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) —The possibility of Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy seeking the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator in the state drew heavy fire at a weekend meeting of the state's Young Republican Clubs here.

In other action at the annual convention, the young GOPs endorsed Gov. Rockefeller for the Republican nomination for president.

State Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo said Saturday night in an address to the group that the "forces of Democratic bossism, the new breed and the old" were attempting to dictate the selection of the Democratic senate candidate in the state.

Franco Has Favorite

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Generalissimo Francisco Franco showed marked favor for Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon Sunday, apparently rebuffing the aspiration of Prince Carlos Hugo of Bourbon-Parma to occupy the Spanish throne.

Franco gave the grandson of Spain's last king second place on the reviewing stand, beside the army minister, during an annual military parade. The prince's wife, Princess Sophie of Greece, sat at Mrs. Franco's right in her box.

Can't Be Sure of Detecting All

Sleuths Find 170 Hidden Transmitters in 15 Years

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. sleuths overseas have discovered that fireplaces can have ears.

One such fireplace was in the office at the residence of the American ambassador in Prague. Late last year State Department security men found a tiny radio hidden in the framework.

The midget transmitter, which could beam conversations in the room to eavesdroppers outside the ambassador's home, was described today as the most sophisticated device yet uncovered in a continuing check on attempts to spy against U.S. envoys abroad.

Find 170 Snoopers

Over the past 15 years some 170 hidden electronic snoopers have been ferreted out of the offices and homes of American officials in foreign lands, mostly behind the Iron Curtain.

The bugging is still going on and so are searches by specially trained State Department security men. Their biggest find announced last week, was 40 microphones in the U.S. Embassy in Moscow.

The Soviet microphones were relatively crude as spy devices go. But they defied U.S. detection for 12 years because they were so deeply embedded in the walls of the embassy and because they sent their signals by wire, not radio.

The State Department has a 95-man security squad operating abroad, headed by a former FBI and Central Intelligence Agency officer, G. Marvin Gentile.

Some of the overseas investigators are engineering graduates who specialize in electronic counter-espionage. Others do personnel security work, such as checking the backgrounds of federal job applicants who have lived overseas.

'Chamber of Horrors'

In Washington, the State Department has a locked "chamber of horrors" room for display of captured gadgets. The security men are briefed on the latest advances in eavesdropping technology.

Armed with modern detecting equipment, the overseas investigators travel out of Frankfurt, Beirut and Tokyo headquarters to "sweep" official quarters in the more than 100 countries where the U.S. government has buildings. If Congress votes the money, they will set up another headquarters in Africa.

Even with the stepped-up program, the security men cannot be 100 per cent sure they have uncovered all the spy devices. It is a standard rule for U.S. diplomats, especially in Communist countries, to assume unfriendly ears are trying to listen in.

Hard to Fool Monitors

Just turning on a water faucet or blaring a hi-fi set is not enough to offset a secret listening device. Skilled monitors can still pick out the conversation.

The best safeguard devised so far is "secure," or bug-proof, rooms specially constructed in embassies. Talk is possible in these rooms-within-rooms without fear of eavesdropping.

The embassies are regarded as easier to keep free of bugging than diplomats' homes. That's because embassies have a 24-hour guard, while homes are often unattended or are visited by local people who could be agents.

When the security men do turn up a hidden gadget, they face another problem: what secrets did the eavesdropper get? Also, they must check on what non-secret but still embarrassing information the snooper might have picked up to use as blackmail against his diplomat victim.

Committee Named On Hospital Costs

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Marion B. Folsom, a cabinet member in former President Eisenhower's Republican administration, is the chairman of a committee assigned to find ways of keeping the quality of hospital care up in New York State and costs as low as possible.

Folsom, former U.S. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, is a resident of Rochester and a director of the Eastman Kodak Co.

Gov. Rockefeller said Sunday he had named Folsom and six other members to the committee on hospital costs. Others on the committee include.

Joseph P. Molony of Buffalo, District 4 director for the United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO, AND Roy H. Park of Ithaca, business executive and a trustee of Tompkins County Hospital.

Seventh Fire Victim

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A seventh victim died today of burns suffered in a fire that swept the parish hall of All Hallows Catholic Church during a Samoan fire dance Saturday night.

The victims were members of the city's Samoan community.

Seventy - five other persons were badly burned and 12 were said to be still in critical condition today.

It is a non-sectarian, cooperative school which is operated without profit as a service to the Kingston area and surrounding communities. Having met the highest standards for nursery education, the school is accredited, licensed and supervised by the State Education Department. She is a graduate of New Jersey State Teachers' College where she majored in elementary education After teaching for four years in South Orange, N. J., she moved to Kingston where she assisted in the founding of the Fair Street Nursery School which she has directed since its beginning. She has been honored to be chosen for the third summer as instructor in nursery school education at the National Laboratory School for the Reformed Church of America at Hope College, Holland, Mich.

Mrs. Lincoln Christensen will remain on the staff as teacher of the three-year-olds for her fifth year with Fair Street Nursery School. She is a graduate of Wheaton College, Mass., and did post graduate work at Radcliffe. Prior to coming to Kingston, Mrs. Christensen taught in schools at Cambridge, Mass., Washington, D. C., and New York City.

The calendar of the Fair Street Nursery School follows that of the Kingston Consolidated Schools. The program includes in part visits to many local businesses and other places of interest. Also included are a special Fathers' Day at school and a Grandparents' Day, as well as several informative parents' programs during the year. A large and well-selected library of books dealing with understanding the development of young children is available to parents of the school, and the school has one of the finest libraries of children's books in the area.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Television re-runs present faithful viewers with problems not encountered in other entertainment areas.

Few television shows prove so utterly fascinating that viewers want to savor them a second time around. That is particularly true of comedy—where an important ingredient is the viewer's surprise—and in the action-adventure stories.

There may be some who can chuckle repeatedly at the surprised look on a lady's face—on "Candid Camera" Sunday night—when she finds that a cigarette she had just put into an ashtray had disappeared. This viewer didn't laugh the first time. Nor did I roar as did the studio audience at the anger of an earnest plumber puzzled by having beer run out of a leaky faucet and confronted with insults from the make-believe businessman who summoned him.

The second re - run problem for most of us viewers is that we are creatures of habits formed during the cold weather months. We sampled the network offerings last September and October, made our choices of preferred shows—and stuck with them.

It would seem that re - run time should give a follower of CBS, social work drama, "East Side, West Side," a chance to watch the ABC or NBC shows he missed. But it doesn't seem to work out that way.

The warm weather months however, are happy times for the baseball fans, particularly the lucky fans who can see televised games with their favorite teams.

Ed Sullivan had a mighty impressive list of guest stars on his show Sunday night — Duke Ellington, the great Lipizzaner horses, Michaelangelo's Pieta, the Beatles and more. But what kept me preoccupied was trying to figure out why the sponsor had announcer George Fenniman in the commercial carrying a pitcher of ice tea by helicopter to some people who were having a cookout in what looked like their back yard. It just seemed it would have been easier to make it in their kitchen.

Tonight is NBC's well publicized "Emmy Awards" show, 10-11:30 EDT—and for the first time in the history of televised awards ceremonies, it will be more interesting to note who keeps away than who turns up.

Health for All

Funny Notions

A little bit of camphor tied around the neck doesn't keep out disease. Rock candy won't cure a cough or cold. There's no such thing as "brain food." And shortness of breath isn't "natural" in middle-aged or elderly people.

Most of us by now have learned to disregard the first three of those once-popular myths. But when it comes to the fourth, many are still floating contentedly in the romantic mists of medical superstition.

How "natural" is it for people in their 40s, 50s, even 60s to get shortwinded when they haven't been putting out any exceptional effort? Answer: Not the least bit. After trotting briskly up a flight of stairs, hauling a heavy table across a room, or running a 100-yard dash, anybody's entitled to puff and pant a little. But when it comes to just ordinary exertion — walking around, doing light household chores, or working normally at a job—age is no excuse for failure of the breathing appartus to function properly.

And yet we've all heard the home-made explanations: "Getting on in years—gotta stop and catch my breath!" Or, "Wind ain't what it used to be when I was 25!" Maybe it isn't, but doctors stress that this is not a natural development. A healthy person's wind is adequate—at 17 or 70.

In short, the complaint that one is "too old" to breathe properly may be a way of rationalizing — instead of facing — a symptom of disease.

Old medical superstitions make quaint conversation pieces but thoroughly dubious guides to health. A better guide is the one now being voiced throughout the land by the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated groups in their May 1-June 15 Alert against respiratory diseases: "Short of breath? Cough too much? Don't take chances with Respiratory Disease. See a doctor."

BRING UNINVITED CHILDREN TO DINNER

Q: Will you please tell me how I can avoid a recurrence of a very upsetting incident? I invited three couples to my house for cocktails and dinner. One couple has two children. I made no mention of the children and since the invitation was given one week in advance I thought that would give them ample time to engage a baby sitter. I was shocked and chagrined when they arrived with their two children. They romped the house, interrupted conversation and in general spoiled my well-planned evening. I know that my smile instead of being spontaneous became quite frozen and brittle as the evening wore on and I am sure the parents sensed my displeasure and felt hurt. I thought the fact that the party was an evening one would be enough to insure against such contingency.

A: You are quite right and this couple was remiss in bringing their uninvited children to your dinner party. To prevent this from happening again, the next time you invite them, say: "If you can find someone to take care of the children next Thursday, would you and John like to come to dinner?"

Eating Grapefruit at Table

Q: I would like to know if, after eating the fruit from a half a grapefruit, it is proper to pick it up in the hand and squeeze the juice into a spoon and drink it? I have a friend who insists that this is acceptable manners. What is your opinion?

A: At a family table, squeezing the remaining juice of a grapefruit into one's spoon is quite all right, but one should not do this at a lunch or dinner party.

Wearing Ring Over Glove

Q: When wearing long evening gloves, is it ever proper to wear a ring over a gloved finger?

A: Most certainly not!

Details concerning the announcement of an engagement are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Announcing the Engagement." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Freeman.

GEOFFREY O'HARA SPEAKS HERE — Among the principals attending a luncheon meeting for members of the Music Appreciation Group of Kingston at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Friday, May 22 were, seated (l-r) Dr. George F. Composer Addresses Music Appreciation Group in Kingston; His Music Is Played

Geoffrey O'Hara, well known composer and lecturer, feels that "the absence of good music today has given rise to such groups as the Beatles."

Speaking Friday, May 22, at a luncheon meeting of the Music Appreciation Group of Kingston, Mr. O'Hara of "K-K-K-Katy," fame, delighted his audience with interesting facts about his background and the world of music in general.

One of seven remaining charter members of ASCAP, Mr. O'Hara stressed that "in any profession you have to start at the bottom. I made my way gradually. I played the organ when I was 12 and at 18 I learned there was such a thing as written music. I became a professional tenor in the Episcopal Church and later joined the minstrels for more money."

O'Hara finally became a song plugger in Tin Pan Alley and he was successful in selling his own compositions to outstanding singers of his day including Enrico Caruso.

O'Hara included interesting facts about the time he worked with the American Indians on music therepy long before this art was taken seriously in America. He was the Pioneer Army Song Leader in World War 1 and his songs helped name the American troops "The Singing Armies."

The composer, who was honored with the Lafayette Baton in 1955, also described the world of music today as far more difficult for composers than it was in his time.

"Sheet music is on its way out," he said. "Today, the recording takes first place. Publishers no longer want sheet music. You have to record your number and send it to them for approval. It was different when I first started.

All we did was talk into a publisher's office with the words on a piece of paper, sat down at a piano, and auditioned. Today you must interest a leading singing to record your composition before you can interest a publisher."

Asked whether the music or words come first, Mr. O'Hara stated that in his case he has always worked with the prepared text first.

Frederic Snyder, fellow - lecturer, introduced the guest speaker and the guest of honor Dr. George F. Chandler. In his introductory address, Mr. Snyder referred to music as " . . . the sun of the mind and the light of the heart."

Mrs. John Sterley conducted the program.

Two soloists were present to sing several of Mr. O'Hara's compositions. They were John McCullough, well known tenor and president of Community Concerts Association, and Nelson G. Burhans of West Camp, baritone. Accompanist was Mrs. Barbara Sparks of Saugerties.

Mr. McCullough sang "I walked Today Where Jesus Walked," and "There Is No Death." Mr. Burhans sang "The Living God."

Also serving on the luncheon committee were Mrs. William Ochs and Mrs. Arthur T. Pedersen.

Tuesday Primary Will Test Barry's Florida Backing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's strength among Florida Republicans will be tested Tuesday in a primary that highlights this week's political schedule.

However, much of the political interest is on a race that won't be decided until June 2: The Arizona senator's battle with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York for California's 86 Republican convention votes.

Other events this week include Tuesday's runoff primary in Oklahoma and Saturday's primary in North Carolina and a Republican convention in Mississippi, also Saturday.

The Republican National Convention arrangements committee meets here today to go over final plans and choose the three top convention officers.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., and Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon appear to be the likely choices for permanent and temporary chairmen. There is strong support for Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the party's national chairman, to deliver the keynote address.

The Florida GOP primary is to decide whether a slate of delegates pledged to Goldwater and endorsed by him, or an unpledged slate, most of whose members favor Goldwater, will cast the state's 34 convention votes.

Either way the senator is assured a good bloc of votes. He also is expected to pick up Mississippi's 13 votes at that state's GOP convention.

At the start of the week, The Associated Press survey of first ballot votes showed this lineup:

Barry Goldwater	304
William W. Scranton	70
Henry Cabot Lodge	44
Nelson W. Rockefeller	40
Margaret Chase Smith	15
Richard M. Nixon	11
Favorite sons	102
Uncommitted	225

The Florida election also includes a Democratic gubernatorial runoff primary between Mayor Haydon Burns of Jacksonville, who led the field in the May 5 primary, and Mayor Robert King High of Miami.

The bonds will be dated April 1, 1964, and will mature (without option of prior redemption) in the principal amount of $28,600 on April 1, 1965, $30,000 on April 1, 1966, $25,000 on April 1, 1967, $30,000 on April 1, 1968, $10,000 on April 1 in each of the years 1969 to 1973, inclusive, and $5,000 on April 1 in each of the years 1974 to 1987, inclusive, with interest payable April 1 and October 1 in each year, commencing October 1, 1964.

The bonds will be issued in bearer form with coupons and will be of the denomination of $5,000 each, except bond numbered 1, maturing April 1, 1965, of the denomination of $800 and bonds numbered 2, 3 and 4, maturing April 1 1963, of the denomination of $1,000 each, and will be convertible into fully registered bonds, and payable as to both principal and interest at the office of the Rondout National Bank, Kingston, New York.

Each proposal must be a bid of not less than $233,600 for all of the bonds and must state in a multiple of ¼ or 1/10 of 1% a single rate of interest not exceeding 5% per annum which all of the bonds are to bear. Each proposal must be enclosed in a sealed envelope and should be addressed to Honorabble Mathias G. Richardson, City Treasurer, City Hall, Kingston, New York, and marked on the outside "Proposal for Bonds." As a condition precedent to the consideration of his proposal, each bidder must deposit with the said City Treasurer, a certified or cashier's check drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company to the order of the "City of Kingston, New York," for $4,672 as a good faith deposit, and such check should be enclosed with the proposal.

The bonds will be awarded and sold to the bidder complying with the terms of sale and offering to purchase said bonds at the lowest rate of interest, and if two or more such bidders offer the same lowest rate of interest, then to the one of such bidders offering to pay therefor the highest price. The successful bidder must also pay an amount equal to the interest on the bonds accrued to the date of payment of the purchase price.

When the successful bidder has been ascertained, the City Treasurer will promptly return all deposits made to the persons making the same, except the deposit made by such bidder. Such successful bidder will be promptly notified of the award to him, and if he refuses or neglects to pay the agreed price for the bonds less the amount deposited by him, the amount deposited by him shall be forfeited to and retained by the City as liquidated damages for such neglect or refusal. The bonds will be delivered on or about July 7, 1964 at the office of Hawkins, Delafield & Wood, 67 Wall Street, New York City, or at such other place as may be agreed upon with the successful bidder. The successful bidder may at his option refuse to accept the bonds if prior to their delivery any income tax law of the United States of America shall provide that the interest on such bonds is taxable, or shall be taxable at a future date, for federal income tax purposes, and in such case the deposit made by him will be returned and he will be relieved of his contractual obligations arising from the acceptance of his proposal.

Counties, Cities, Towns, Villages and School Districts

The right is reserved to reject all bids and any bid not complying with the terms of this notice will be rejected.

Said $233,800 bonds are a combined issue including $17,000 bonds to be issued for the purpose of financing the purchase of accounting and tabulating equipment for use by the Accounting Department, $105,000 bonds to be issued for the purpose of financing the construction of an addition to the sanitary sewer system, $48,000 and $38,000 bonds to be issued for the purpose of financing, respectively, the reconstruction and resurfacing of certain public streets or portions thereof and resurfacing of certain public streets or portions thereof, $4,000 bonds to be issued for the purpose of financing the construction of a sanitary sewer main, $11,600 bonds to be issued for the purpose of financing the purchase of a four-wheel-tractor shovel and $10,000 bonds to be issued for the purpose of financing the construction of curbs, all for and within the said City. The bonds are general obligations of the City of Kingston. There is no limitation, either as to rate or amount, upon ad valorem taxes upon taxable real property in the City which may be required to pay the bonds and the interest thereon. The State Constitution requires the City to pledge its faith and credit for the payment of the principal of the bonds and the interest thereon and to make annual appropriations for the payment of such interest and the redemption of the bonds. The State Constitution also provides that if at any time the appropriating authorities fail to make the required appropriations for the annual debt service on the bonds and certain other obligations of the City, a sufficient sum shall be set apart from the first revenues thereafter received and shall be applied for such purposes, and also that the fiscal officer of the City may be required to set apart and apply such revenues as aforesaid at the suit of any holder of such obligations.

Counties, Cities, Towns, Villages, and a School District in a city (except housing)

The population of the City as shown by the 1960 U. S. Census is estimated to be $29,768. The debt statement to be filed pursuant to §109.00 of the Local Finance Law in connection with the sale of the bonds hereinabove described, prepared as of May 20, 1964, will show the average full valuation of real estate subject to taxation by the City to be $114,657,527, its debt limit to be $8,026,026 and its total net indebtedness subject to the debt limit (exclusive of such bonds) to be $1,651,197. The proceeds of such bonds will be used to retire outstanding indebtedness of $233,600 evidenced by bond anticiation notes. The indebtedness to be evidenced by such bonds will not increase such net indebtedness.

It shall be a condition of the successful bidder's obligation to accept the bonds that such bidder will be furnished, without cost, with (a) the approving opinion of Hawkins, Delafield & Wood to the effect that the bonds are valid and legally binding general obligations of said City of Kingston and that all the taxable real property therein will be subject to the levy of ad valorem taxes to pay said bonds and interest thereon without limitation as to rate or amount, and (b) certificates in form satisfactory to said firm evidencing the proper execution and delivery of the bonds and receipt of payment therefor, including a statement, dated as of the date of such delivery, to the effect that there is no litigation pending or (to the knowledge of the signer or signers thereof) threatened affecting the validity of the bonds.

A detailed report of essential facts will be furnished to any interested bidder on request.

21 Years in Welfare Office

Coming Retirement Reminds Mrs. Alice Bohan of Her Age

By Charles M. McCarthy
Freeman Staff Writer

Alice M. Bohan cleared the hurdles in a breeze as a rangy, athletic miss in college.

She climbed mountainsides in the Woodstock area to carry out her later role as a physical education supervisor.

She took time out to raise a family and after that was accomplished she put in a 21-year career as a caseworker for the Ulster County Welfare Department.

And now they went and blew the whistle on her.

It seems that all of a sudden Mrs. Bohan is 70 years old and she had to be reminded of it by retirement—as of May 31 —from the department.

Alice Bohan, a quiet, demure person whose physical appearance betrays a stature achieved by three careers in which she has proven to be a success, has not had what you would call an "ordinary" life—unless, you call compiling several thousand miles of footwork, including mountain climbing, an ordinary thing.

All Around Champ

Born Alice Chaffee in Brooklyn, Mrs. Bohan graduated from Far Rockaway High School, Queens and took a course at Cornell University College of Agriculture. She then matriculated at the Savage School of Physical Education — which is now incorporated with New York University—where she proved herself to be a part of the school's history. While at Savage, she proceded to establish herself as all-around athletic champion, setting records all over the place. She set the school's all time high jump record when to jump one's height —something over five feet that is — was quite an accomplishment.

After graduation from Savage, she set out to pursue her first career — supervisor of physical training in the Lawrence School District, Town of Hempstead, in Lawrence, L. I. — on foot. She supervised and taught phys ed to children in the Lawrence High School and also supervised the same subject for four elementary schools from 1918 to 1919.

Before that, from 1917 to 1918, she more than hoofed her way around Ulster County. She supervised physical education in the old School District 4 which encompassed 39 rural schools in the towns of Hardenbergh, Woodstock, Hurley, Olive and Shokan. Her duties required instruction of pupils in physical education and games as well as instruction of teachers. She introduced the New York State Physical Training curriculum to 46 teachers in the schools. As she put it herself, "We had to teach the teachers physical education so that they could teach the children."

It was not, therefore, an unusual sight to see Alice surveying her wonderland — the Catskill foothills — on foot. A hike from Phoenicia to Woodstock, let's say, is a brisk challenge for any outdoor enthusiast. But how would you like to have to do it in the winter when the roads weren't plowed and when transportation came to a practical halt when the snow hit.

By 'Shank's Mare'

Alice Bohan made it, somehow. She recalls how she did it — by horse and carriage, train, bus, mailman or just on foot — "but mostly by shank's mare."

But even this rugged young miss rolled on the wheels of progress. She recalls how in 1917 she bought a Ford. But even that had its drawbacks. For that meant taking the water out of the radiator every night during the winter if you didn't want the water to freeze.

And other incidentals, such as using a tire iron and arm and leg muscles when you got a flat tire. Area folk, however, registered contentment when they saw that the little miss was now afforded with the relative protection of a motor car instead of having to make her way over the forest filled mountainsides. (They registered surprise when she told them she never even carried a gun.)

By the time she was ready to settle down to married life with "Tom" Bohan, Mrs. Bohan had served as physical ed instructor at Far Rockaway High School; phys ed instructor for boys and girls and director of after-school atletics for girls from 1916-1917; supervisor of the playground for the Convalescent Home for Children on the Astor Estate at Rhinebeck in June 1916; supervisor at Christ Church Summer School and Camp in New York City, summer of 1916, and playground instructor in Newark, N. J. during the summer of 1915. She also gave private instruction in calisthenics and reducing exercises and did extensive work as basketball player and coach for various church teams.

Housewife and Mother

The next three decades meant the role of housewife and mother for Mrs. Bohan and her husband Thomas Bohan, who is executive secretary of Ulster County Department of Civil Service. Today, they have a daughter, Mary Alice Bohan, who is an artist and copywriter for advertising agencies in New York City. They also have a son, Navy Commander Norman Chaffee Bohan, of Fairfax, Va. and Washington, D. C., married to the former Frances Stout and father of grandchildren David, Michael, Barbara, Richard, Stephan and Jane Bohan.

"Grandmother" Bohan — and somehow the name doesn't seem to fit Alice Bohan, who still looks the part of a rangy, handsome woman athlete—is a member of the Ulster County Civil Service Employes Association; the American Legion Auxiliary of Esopus Post 1298, and the board of directors of the Port Ewen Library.

She will be honored at a testimonial dinner at the Kingston Post 150, American Legion at 7:30 p. m., Thursday, May 28, at the post home, 18 West O'Reilly Street.

Mrs. Bohan's husband, who recently was named an honorary life member of Kingston Post 150, takes a philosophical view about his wife—of whom he is justifiably proud—preceding him into retirement. "After all," he said, "we have some 80 acres of land and she's a good gardener." Besides, he said, "there's plenty of work and she's a master mechanic.

And after all, she had to be

ANOTHER HURDLE FOR CHAMPION—Mrs. Thomas (Alice) Bohan, of Ulster Park, a 21-year employe of the Ulster County Welfare Department, turned up with a typical smile as she presented retirement papers to Department Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons. Her retirement, effective May 31, will climax a career that included role of star college athlete, physical education instructor and supervisor, housewife and mother, and case worker in Welfare Department. She will be honored at testimonial dinner Thursday at Kingston Post American Legion Home.

Young Says Rocky Greatest Vote-Getter

MALONE, N.Y. (AP) — New York's Republican state chairman says that if Sen. Barry Goldwater heads the party ticket this year, Democrats could win control of the state Legislature.

Fred A. Young said Gov. Rockefeller was "the Republican Party's greatest vote-getter" and should be named to oppose President Johnson in the November elections.

Young, speaking Saturday night at a meeting of the Women's Republican Club of Franklin County, did not mention Goldwater by name, but referred to him in the terms Rockefeller has been using in discussing the Arizona conservative.

Phouma Demand Is Retreat by Lao Force

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — A retreat by Communist Pathet Lao forces to their former positions in the Plaine des Jarres is the condition given by neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma for his joining a proposed new 14-nation conference on the Laotian crisis.

The premier told newsmen Sunday his government would attend the conference "only on the condition that a ceasefire comes about immediately throughout Laotian territory and on the other hand the Pathet Lao, who have deliberately attacked us and dislodged us from our positions in the Plaine des Jarres, retreat to their original positions."

Offer Tax Relief

MALONE, N.Y. (AP) — Officials of communities in three North Country counties want to offer tax relief to the Rutland Railroad in a move to keep the New York section of the railroad in operating condition.

About 40 supervisors, elected officials and community leaders from St. Lawrence, Clinton and Franklin counties met Saturday with Rutland officers in an effort to maintain the Vermont-based carrier's trackage in New York State.

Body Is Recovered

SYLVAN BEACH, N.Y. (AP) —State Police recovered Saturday the body of John Rock, 25, of Syracuse, who was drowned on Oneida Lake May 2.

Troopers said the body was sighted by fishermen about two miles from the spot in Messanger's Bay where Rock jumped from a boat in an effort to rescue a friend. The friend survived.

Race for Moon 'Crazy'

CANBERRA (AP) — Sir John Eccles, a Nobel Prize winner, says the race for the moon is "futile, fantastic and crazy."

"I don't know the point of going to the moon," Sir John said in a speech to the Australian National Science Faculties Association conference in Canberra. "It's an awfully dull place with just dust, mountains and no climate."

CampaigningGoes Into Final Week In Coast Primary

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Campaigning in the pivotal California primary goes into its final week today with Republican presidential aspirants battling in opposite ends of the state.

The presidential hopes of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefelier and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater clash June 2. The plum: 86 votes at the Republican National Convention.

The candidates each campaigned today in an area where they are weakest — Goldwater in the north and Rockefeller in the south.

On Bustamente's Goal

Sport Club Ties Troy In Final Minutes, 3-3

Carlos Bustamente"s goal with only three minutes left to play enabled the Kingston Sport Club to tie the Troy Sport Club, 3-3, and retain their slim lead in the Central New York Soccer Association.

Bustamente's game-tying goal was his second of the day.

The Troy club, in its best performance ever against the locals, took the lead with penalty shot at the 12-minute mark of the opening period. Eight minutes later, Tony Fitzharris, back in action after a four-weeks suspension, tied the score at 1-1.

Bustamente slammed his first goal from an assist by Lee Roberts at the 55-minute mark to put Kingston ahead, 2-1, only to have the Trojans tie it again with a penalty shot at 62 minutes. The locals then had to scramble back to set up Bustamente's tying goal.

In a preliminary game, Manager Tony Alexander's second team scored a 4-3 win over Middletown's newly formed soccer team. With only a few practices behind them, Middletown showed excellent teamwork. There is a strong possibility that Middletown will acquire a Central New York league franchise next season.

What Campers Want

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — Family campers willingly forego many "comforts of home" but want some simple physical facilities at their campsites, A University of Illinois study of 158 families revealed what they looked for in camping sites. Good clean water for drinking headed the list. Hot showers ranked low on the list. So did electricity and flush toilets. Harvey Schweitzer, extension rural sociologist, said nearly all families agreed that a graveled drive and pad for tent or trailer, cooking grill, picnic table and wood supply were satisfactory.

Stuart Aids Sox To Sweep

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dick Stuart, whose glove sometimes beats Boston, now has come close to whipping the Red Sox with his bat.

The Boston slugger's bat put Kansas City ahead with a home run in the first game of a doubleheader Sunday.

Then Stuart clouted a grand slam home run for a 6-2 victory. He came back with a two-run homer that gave Boston a 3-1 triumph in the nightcap

The home run that put the Athletics into a 2-1 lead actually was hit by Jim Gentile, who had borrowed one of Stuart's bats.

The big first baseman's grand slam off Moe Drabowsky in the eighth inning broke a 2-2 tie. It was his first homer since April 28 when he also smashed a grand slam. He also connected with a man aboard in the fourth inning of the nightcap, giving him four this season.

Stuart's average is only .230, but he has 28 runs batted in, third best in the American League. Last year he hit 42 homers and drove in 118 runs.

Orioles Sweep

Of five scheduled doubleheaders in the AL, Baltimore had the only other sweep, beating Minnesota 2-0 and 7-6. Chicago downed Washington, then lost 3-0 while New York defeated Los Angeles 8-5 after dropping a 3-0 decision. Detroit got by Cleveland 7-5. Rain washed out the second game.

Stuart's blast in the opener enabled Jack Lamabe, who came to Boston from Pittsburgh with the first baseman, to win his fifth game in six decisions. Rookie Ed Connolly won his first major league game in the nightcap with relief help from Bob Heffner and Dick Radatz.

The Orioles were on the verge of losing the second game when they struck for three runs in the ninth. Jerry Adair's homer, a walk, an infield hit and an error brought home the tying runs. Then Luis Aparicio knocked in Jackie Brandt with a sacrifice fly.

Harmon Killebrew socked a two-run homer for the Twins in the eighth, tying the game 4-4, and Tony Oliva connected with one on in the ninth.

Robin Roberts set down the Twins on five hits in the opener, reducing his earned run average to 1.88 on a 2-2 record.

The White Sox had a five-game winning streak until Buster Narum limited them to six hits in the second game. The Senators gave him two runs in the first on singles by Don Blasingame, John Kennedy and Chuck Hinton and Don Lock's sacrifice fly.

Pinch hitter Floyd Robinson doubled with the bases loaded in the eighth, driving in two runs and bringing the White Sox from behind in the opener. J. C. Martin's sacrifice fly accounted for a third run in the inning. The Senators had taken a 4-3 lead in the eighth on Kennedy's single and Hinton's double.

Mickey Mantle sparked the

Mantle Homers

Yankees to their second-game triumph after Dean Chance blanked them on three hits in the opener. Mantle homered in the second, then triggered a four-run rally in the sixth with a two-strike bunt. The Yankees trailed 5-2 going into the inning. Ed Kirkpatrick hammered a two-run homer for the Angels in the second.

Los Angeles actually won the first game in the first inning. Billy Moran doubled home Lee Thomas and Bob Rodgers, then scored on a double by Tom Satriano.

Joe Torre Hits Well For Braves

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Boy, are you fat!" Warren Spahn exclaimed nine years ago when Joe Torre first appeared in a Milwaukee dressing room, accompanied by big brother Frank, then the Braves' regular first baseman.

Spahn didn't get an argument—the younger Torre, at 15, weighed 240 pounds—but today the Braves' pitching ace would be the first to admit that the fattest think about Joe is his .370 batting average.

On the other hand, if you had asked Bobby Bragan Sunday, after Torre's hitting rampage led the Braves to a 7-4, 10-0 doubleheader sweep of St. Louis, the Milwaukee manager would have told you that Joe is the fattest commodity in the game.

"He's the most valuable piece of baseball property today," Bragan said, following Torre's 7-for-10 spree that lifted him from seventh to third position in the National League batting derby. "I wouldn't trade him for anybody, not even Willie Mays, because I'd be giving up eight years."

Torre's current streak lends weight to Bragan's claim. The catcher-first baseman, whose three-week spring holdout led both leagues, has hit at a .418 clip since May 1, raising his average 79 points from .291. He hit his fifth and sixth home runs of the month Sunday for a total of 9—five less than his 1963 output.

Keeping Close

While Milwaukee closed to within 1½ games of the NL lead, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati kept pace with double victories. The Pirates stunned San Francisco 3-0 and 5-3; the Reds downed Chicago 6-5 and 12-4. Los Angeles employed Sandy Koufax in relief to nail down a 3-0 victory over Philadelphia and Houston blanked New York 5-0 in a night game.

Torre singled four times in the Braves' first-game victory, credited to Spahn, and drove in two runs. His two homers and a single — good for three more RBI — Backed Denny Lemaster's three-hit pitching in the nightcap.

The Brooklyn native has 54 hits, second in the league, and is third in RBI.

Pittsburgh southpaw Bob Veale stopped San Francisco on two hits and fanned seven Giants in the opener for his fourth victory. Rookie right-hander Tom Butters drove in three Pirate runs in the second game and recorded his first major league victory with help from relievers Bob Priddy and Al McBean.

Mays Slips to 393

Mays had one hit in five atbats and his batting average fell from .400 to .393.

Chicago's Billy Williams regained the top spot, going 3-for-6 to climb from .394 to .398, but the Cubs succumbed to Bill Henry's clutch relief pitching in the opener and an eight-run Cincinnati inning in the finale.

Henry halted Chicago's two-run ninth inning rally to save the victory for Jim O'Toole. Tommy Harper and Vada Pinson each hit safely twice in the Reds' third inning second-game outburst.

Koufax, making his first relief appearance since 1962, quelled a Philadelphia threat in the seventh inning and the Dodgers whipped the Phillies for the first time in seven meetings.

Joe Moeller, the winner, allowed only one hit through the first six innings but faltered in the seventh when Johnny Callison led off with a single and Wes Covington followed with a double. Koufax retired the next three batters and gave up one hit the rest of the way.

Rookie Wes Parker cracked two doubles and a triple to pace the Dodgers' attack.

Houston right-hander Bob Bruce ran his record to 6-1, firing a four-hitter and striking out 10 Mets. Mike White drove in three runs with a first inning single and a double in the seventh.

The number of kids it holds has never been settled.
The Volkswagen Station Wagon is a good four feet shorter than conventional wagons. Yet it holds more than the biggest wagon you can buy. (Herbert, stop that this minute!)
It holds an army of kids. Or eight adults. None of them skinny: the seats are five feet wide. All of them tall: the seats are higher than in conventional wagons. (Herbert, don't you dare!)
Take out the middle and rear seats, and you can carry a seesaw, a slide, a rocking horse. (Wait till I tell your father!)
Keep the rear seat in and you can still carry bigger, bulkier things than you could in a conventional wagon. A crib or a baby carriage. A chest of drawers standing upright. An open playpen. They fit comfortably through the wide side doors. (Herbert!)
All the way back, behind the rear seat, there's room for 9 or 10 pieces of luggage. Easy to load or unload through the back door.
Shown: the VW Deluxe Station Wagon with sunroof and 21 windows, $2,765.00.* The VW Standard model is only $2,605.00.* Hundreds of dollars less than any other wagon and perfect for people with lots of kids.

NEW HAVEN, Conn, (AP) — An industrial engineering student at New Haven College failed to turn in a mid-term paper on time. But he had an unusual explanation for instructor Gene Simons. The student said the paper was in his locker at a company where he worked while going to school. The employes were on strike and he couldn't cross the picket line to get to his locker, he said.

DIFFERENT STORY

On accidents I beam with smiles
When half an inch is good as miles.
But when my clothes begin to pinch
I frown upon one-fourth an inch.
—Theresa E. Black.

I am not bound to win, but I am bound to be true. I am not bound to succeed, but I am bound to live up to what light I have. I must stand with anybody that stands right, stand with him while he is right and part with him when he goes wrong.

—Abraham Lincoln
16th President (1809-65)

She—He wanted the wedding in May, but I preferred to wait until this month when his semi-annual financial report was published.

Miriam—Oh men are all alike.

Helen—Men are all Ah like, too.

Live sponges come from water and from where your relatives live.

It seems natural that having a bellhop carry your grips up to your hotel room makes you feel important.

The death of Dorothy Haskin, 40, of 3 Hickory Street, Ellenville, who was found dead when authorities arrived at her home Sunday shortly after noon, is under investigation by Ellenville Chief of Police Abe Rand, State Police Investigator Michael Mahoney and Coroner Arthur C. Chipp.

An autopsy was ordered performed by Coroner Chipp after she was pronounced dead at her home, 3 Hickory Street, by Dr. Charles Rosenstock.

It was reported she had been at a party Saturday night and was taken ill at a Clinton Avenue home. She reportedly was taken home and about 1:10 p. m. Sunday James Chapman, also of 3 Hickory Street, reported to Chief Rand that she was ill. The first aid and rescue squad was summoned as well as Dr. Rosenstock. He pronounced her dead on arrival.

Steel Plant Included

He said the assistance would include a steel plant with an annual capacity of one million tons and a 10,000-acre model farm where Soviet techniques would be used to reclaim the desert. He left it to Nasser to tell the cheering crowd the amount of the aid.

Terms of the loan were not disclosed, but it was presumed that they called for repayment over 12 years at 2.5 per cent interest. The previous $500 million in Soviet credits to Egypt was on this basis.

The United States has supplied Egype with $750 million in assistance in the last 10 years.

The U.S. State Department warned last fall that further U.S. assistance was imperiled by Nasser's intervention in Yemen's civil war and the Senate tacked a rider onto the foreign aid bill barring aid to countries "engaged in or preparing for aggressive military effort."

Stand on Cuba

In the Khrushchev - Nasser communique, Nasser defended the "legitimate right of the Cuban people to defend their sovereignty" after Khrushchev warned that U.S. reconnaissance flights over the island could have "most fatal consequences for those who undertake such gambles."

Both leaders denounced "attempts to torpedo the Geneva agreements of 1962 with regard to Laos," but they did not say whether they thought the United States or Communist China was responsible for the crisis in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Nasser endorsed the Soviet Union's bid to attend the coming meeting of Asian - African states as an Asian power. Red China says the Soviet Union is predominantly a European power and should be barred.

Says PTA Group Can't Be Silent

CHICAGO (AP)—The national president of the PTA said today time is fast running out for "a just solution to the injustices, inequalities and deprivations suffered by some children because of their race or color."

Mrs. Clifford N. Jenkins told the annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, "our great organization cannot stand on the sidelines and refuse to be involved. The PTA cannot be a silent spectator."

Mrs. Jenkins added in an interview that she fully expects a resolution calling for a strong PTA stand on segregation to be offered to the convention for a vote on Wednesday.

Not Ripe for Merger

She said however that the time is not yet ripe for the national congress to merge with the National Congress of Colored Parents and Teachers, which has 300,000 members in 14 states.

Such a merger, Mrs. Jenkins said, would deprive millions of Negro children in the south of PTA services and thus do more harm than good. She said this view is shared by Mrs. Jerome Z. Morris, Montgomery, Ala., president of the Negro group.

"These people are doing such fine work," Mrs. Jenkins said, "but there are many places in the South where they cannot, because of local laws or feelings, meet with white PTA members."

Mrs. Jenkins said that as the schools in the South are integrated, the PTAs are integrated, just as they are in the rest of the nation. There were formerly 27 states with separate Negro PTA organizations. This number has been cut to 14, and Mrs. Jenkins said in a very short time there will be only 11.

Cites Objectives

In her prepared keynote address today, Mrs. Jenkins said the objectives of the PTA "commit us to caring for all the children, regardless of their race, color, creed of national origin, and regardless of the social or economic status of their parents."

She also said, "If there is a school that you would not send you're own child to, then that school is not good enough for other children."

About 2,500 PTA members from the 50 states are attending the 68th annual convention which ends Wednesday.

Disaster Is Worst In Sports

45,000 Fans Riot Over Soccer Game

LIMA, Peru (AP)—A stampede of 45,000 spectators in a Lima sports stadium after police fired tear gas at rioting soccer fans left hundreds dead today in possibly the worst sports disaster in history.

Authorities still were unable to come up with an official count of victims in Sunday's tragedy. Lima's La Prensa said 260 bodies were counted. The newspaper Expresso said 315 were killed. Hundreds were injured.

Blame Gas for Rush

Many blamed the tear gas for the frantic rush to the exits, and a government statement, taking note of this, declared:

"It was necessary for the police to use tear gas in an attempt, however unfortunately futile, to prevent further disorder. The government is deeply concerned over the fatal results that originated in a trival incident."

This was a reference to the fact that the riot erupted after a fan jumped from the grandstand to protest a referee's decision in the soccer game between Argentina and Peru. The teams were meeting for the right to play in the Tokyo Olympics.

The crowd had witnessed a close contest with neither side able to score in the early action.

After 15 minutes in the final period, Argentina scored the first goal. Within minutes of the final gun, the Peruvians sent the ball into the net.

The crowd roared. But the referee refused to allow the score, saying Peru had committed a foul.

Fans screamed in protest. The Peruvian players continued to play, although they also protested the decision.

Fans Are Stirred

The referee called off the game. Police escorted him off the field. The players headed for the dressing rooms.

Termination of the game only excited the fans more.

"They threw seat cushions and bottles and anything else they could lay there hands on," said a witness.

Nothing could stop the mobs dashing in frenzy for the exit gates, still closed because of the sudden end of the game.

Body upon body was crushed and stomped in the dash to escape. Men, women and children died, in the stands and at the exits.

GOP Gathers to Plan For '64 Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans gathered here today to complete arrangements for their 1964 convention and pondered whether a new statement by Dwight D. Eisenhower would influence that convention's choice of a presidential nominee.

The former president called Sunday for "responsibile, forward looking Republicansim" and a candidate who would carry out that program. But he did not name any names, and he repeated that he does not intend to dictate the convention's choice of a nominee.

Job to Pick Slate

The convention arrangements committee's main job today was to pick a slate of officials acceptable to backers of all the major potential nominees.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, a moderate, and Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon, generally considered a liberal Republican, were the likely choices for permanent and temporary chairman respectively.

No Keynoter Yet

The position of keynote speaker was still up in the air.

Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the GOP national chairman, has considerable backing for the job, but he said Sunday night that he does not want it.

There also were reports that Hatfield would be proposed for the dual role of temporary chairman, to open the convention, and keynote speaker, to deliver the quadrennial indictment of the opposition party.

Backers of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., an active candidate for the presidential nomination, indicated they would oppose such a move.

Impressed by Ike

Many committee members were more interested in Eisenhower's statement in a copyright New York Herald Tribune story than in convention arrangements.

The big question was: Had the former president's statement helped or hurt the chances of any of the potential nominees?

Miller had no comment. Other party leaders who are not openly backing any of the candidates seemed to think Eisenhower had knitted a blanket big enough to cover all of them.

F. Clifton White, co-director of field operations for Goldwater, said "the general is just reiterating Republican principles. I am sure the general is not going to participate in any stop movement or any gang up movement on any other Republican."

MSGR. J. J. O'REILLY

Msgr. O'Reilly Is Named Dean Of Ulster County

Appointment of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. O'Reilly, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, as dean of Ulster County, was announced Friday by Francis Cardinal Spellman in New York City, where some 1,800 brothers and priests of the Archdiocese met at dinner at the Americana Hotel.

Msgr. O'Reilly succeeds the late Msgr. Daniel J. Shea, who served as pastor of St. Mary's Church.

Also announced at the meeting Friday was the appointment of Msgr. John A McDermott as dean of Sullivan County and Msgr. Leo. J. Gregg as dean of the Dutchess-Putnam counties.

Twenty five years ago Friday Francis Cardinal Spellman was installed as archbishop of New York's Roman Catholic Archdiocese.

A pontifical Mass marking the anniversary was celebrated by the Massachusetts-born cardinal at St. Patrick's Catherdal. More than 2,000 brothers and priests of the Archdiocese attend the Mass. The date also marked the cardinal's 75th birthday.

Msgr. O'Reilly was appointed pastor of St. Joseph's Church last December after the death of Msgr. Stephen P. Connelly on Oct. 8. He had been a curate at Holy Family Church in New York City when he was transferred to the pastorate of St. John's Parish , West Hurley, Woodstock and West Shokan in mid-1954. He remained there until March 1957, when he was reassigned to the New York City church as pastor.

Panic Politics Charged to Bush Campaign Backers

Nelson Burhans, chairman of the Ulster County Citizens Committee for Lloyd A. Newcombe, today charged Bush backers with "Red-Herring" tactics and "panic politics" in the current State Senatorial campaign.

In referring to a front page story by Ulster County Republican Chairman, Kenneth Wilson that appeared in the Friday Kingston Freeman. Burhans said: "Their red-herring campaign seems to be based strictly on denying charges against Mr. Bush we have never made, yet refusing to answer every charge we have."

Burhans stated that the Friday denial of supposed charges that Mr. Bush had relatives on the payroll was "errant nonsense." "We didn't even know Mr. Bush had any relatives," Mr. Burhans said, and "wherever they happen to work is not an issue in this campaign."

Burhans also scored the allegations than any Newcombe backer had mentioned the Bush claim for $16,000 against the City of New York for alleged losses of income through patients being moved from the new reservoir area in Delaware County.

"Of course we have known that the Bush claims were ruled groundless by the State Appellate Division, that the claims were rejected, and that it was established through investigation that there had been no patient loss. But what Mr. Bush does in his private life is not our business."

"We have presented our program. We have only attempted to bring to the attention of the Republican voters of the District facts relevant to his work or lack of it in his official capacity as State Senator. What he does as a dentist is not of interest to us," Burhans said.

Doesn't Answer Charges

"If Mr. Wilson feels he must act as stand in for Mr. Bush in answering charges, why does he not answer the charges we have made. Why does he not name one significant piece of legislation ever introduced by Mr. Bush. Why talk of total State payrolls, which will continue regardless of who is elected, or detail the total work done by the New York State Dept. of Public Works as if Mr. Bush were the commissioner.

Farewell Present From Nikita

Nasser Is Promised $277-Million Loan

CAIRO (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev ended a 17-day visit to Egypt today after warming up the farewell with a promise of a $277 million loan for President Gamal Abdel Nasser's second five-year plan.

In return, Nasser gave Khrushchev a wholehearted endorsement of Soviet foreign policy, including the Kremlin's views on peaceful coexistence.

A joint communique by the two leaders placed the Egyptians squarely behind the Soviets in the struggle between Peking and Moscow for influence in Africa's new nations.

2,000 Troops on Hand

Cheering workers, given a half holiday, jammed the airport for Khrushchev's departure, and upwards of 2,000 troops and security men were on hand. Nasser gave his guest a warm embrace. A 21-gun salute boomed out as the Soviet leader waved before entering his airliner.

Khrushchev's departure was delayed an hour and a half, but the reason was not announced.

The joint communique was made public after a final banquet Sunday night in the gardens of former King Farouk's luxurious Kubbah Palace.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union had decided to help the United Arab Republic with its

Heat Wave Breaks Two Records Here On Past Weekend

Two previous temperature records for the city were shattered over the weekend as Kingstonians joined other New York Staters in a sweltering summer-like heat wave.

The City engineer's office reported a high of 96 degrees at 3:20 p. m. Saturday. That broke the previous record of 90 degrees for that date, set in 1941, and came within one degree of matching the record high for the month of 97 degrees set May 20, 1959. On Sunday, old mercy reached 94 degrees at 2:15 p. m., breaking the previous record for the date of 92 degrees, set in 1936, 1947 and 1955.

Temperature became more seasonal over night and leveled off to the 70s today with winds varying up to 35 an hour gusts.

DAR Observes Memorial Rite At Uptown Church

Members of Wiltwyck Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution honored the dead of all wars in traditional ceremonies Sunday morning.

Preceded by a colorguard of Boy Scouts bearing the American Flag, Wiltwyck Chapter banner and flags of Troop 12 and Post 12 chapter members attended the 11 a. m. service at Old Dutch Church.

Ceremonies after the worship service were conducted in the churchyard by Mrs. Cloyd L. Elias, regent and Mrs. R. R. Empringham, first vice regent. The Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of Old Dutch Church gave a brief talk.

Miss Katy Barnhart placed the chapter wreath at the monument of Governor George Clinton and Dr. George Clinton Andrews placed the family wreath. Miss Patricia Matthews and Clinton James Andrews, descendants of Governor Clinton, were unable to participate due to illness.

Taps were sounded by Boy Scout Robert Schlatter and Explorer Scout James DuBois. Color guard members were Explorers Dennis Robinson, Donald Temple and Associate Advisor David Millham of Post 12; Boy Scouts, Donald Burnett, Richard Middagh, Wayne Grey, Robert Stingel and Robert Wells of Troop 12. Scoutmaster Ralph Shapiro arranged the scout participation.

Revolutionary patriots gravestones are decorated with American Flags each year by Wiltwyck Chapter.

Saturday is Memorial Day and local residents are urged to display the flag in observance of the legal holiday and in respect for the dead of all wars.

Woman, Operator Of Coffee Shop Robbed, Beaten

Search was underway throughout the area today for an unidentified thief who assualted and robbed the operator of a coffee shop at the Tamarack Lodge, Greenfield Park.

Ellenville State Police said Mrs. Helen Slansky, of the Bronx, closed the coffee shop at about 3 a. m. Sunday and went to her room. She said she placed a canvas bag containing $350 and some change on a dresser and retired.

At about 4 a. m. she was awakened by someone who smashed through the door of the bedroom. As Mrs. Slansky asked "Who is there?" she was punched on the face by the intruder. Stunned temporarily by the blow, Mrs. Slansky later recovered and screamed for help.

An unidentified employee ran to her ald, but the thief had left carrying the sack containing the day's receipts at the coffee shop. According to BCI Investigator Michael Mahoney of the Ellenville State Police, the intruder apparently was a man.

Ulster-Kingston Fair Groups Are Big Attraction

Saturday, May 23, 1964 will long be remembered as Ulster County-Kingston Day at the New York World's Fair. Sixteen instrumental and choral groups attracted the attention of many thousands of fair visitors at the State of New York Pavilion, continuously from 10 in the morning until 8:30 in the evening, with the exception of the hour from 2 to 3. Each group performed for about a half hour. It is estimated that 45 busses were required to transport the performers and other visitors from Ulster County to the fair on Saturday. Some also braved the traffic and drove cars.

The amazing thing to the local committee is that all of the performing groups were on time for their appearances and the entire program was carried out on schedule.

Three members of the Ulster County-Kingston Day committee made the trip. They were chairman and Mrs. Albert Kurdt, Joseph Foley and Thomas Wickman. Mayor John J. Schwenk

16th Emmy Show Slated Tonight, Bishop to Emcee

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Comedian Joey Bishop, who has emceed bar mitzvahs, Italian weddings and Ed Sullivan testimonials, will officiate tonight at his first revolution—the 16th annual Emmy Awards.

The show will be telecast over NBC-TV — 10-11:30 p.m., EDT. Both CBS-TV and ABC-TV have boycotted it officially.

CBS and ABC charged that too much bloc voting influenced selection of winners. A CBS statement accused the National Broadcasting Co. of buying television Academy memberships for employes.

An NBC executive, however, countered that all networks pay for employe memberships, either directly or indirectly.

Window Smashed

Kingston State Police are investigating an act of malicious mischief, which smashed a window at the K-Vin Sweet Shop at Katsbaan early Sunday. Trooper John Turck reported a stone thrown through a 30 x 60-inch pane of glass at the shop.

Bungalow Entered

A burglary discovered at a summer bungalow on Route 2, West Saugerties, Sunday was under investigation today by BCI Investigator Frank Stainkamp of the Kingston substation. Trooper John Turck said Mrs. Vera Dejorio, of Yonkers, complained that her summer bungalow had been entered and ransacked. Several items including a pot belly stove, car batteries and lamps were stolen.

Eisenhower Sees Candidate As Man of Firmness

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, in a copyright statement in today's New York Herald Tribune said the Republican presidential nominee must be a man of firmness — but not impulsiveness — in foreign affairs, and show a willingness to meet "new needs" of the people.

Eisenhower also stressed the "furtherance of civil rights" and "loyal support for the United Nations" in the maintenance of peace.

The former president declined again to indicate a preference among announced or unannounced candidates for the GOP nomination, saying it is "not my proper role" to name names, and "I do not intend to attempt this."

He added that the Republican nominee should be a man who "will uphold, earnestly, with dedication and conviction, the principles and traditions of our party."

The leading announced candidates for the nomination are Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. Others officially in the race are Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine and Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota.

Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to South Viet Nam; former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton also have been considered high on the list of possible candidates.

Eisenhower said he has urged that Republicans from coast to coast be given a "fair chance to work their will, in careful deliberations, at the national convention — and therefore to make that convention truly representative of the party."

"I hope they will have that chance," he added, "and I earnestly hope the party will select a nominee who skillfully and wholeheartedly would apply to our problems, both domestic and foreign, those principles which I have noted here."

Motorist Is Cited For Violation; 3 Hurt in Mishaps

A motorist was cited for a traffic violation and three other persons were injured in traffic accidents over the weekend.

Bruce D. Tierney, 23, of Kingston, was cited by Patrolmen Albert P. Johnson and Oscar Gray for passing a stop sign after a two-car collison Saturday at O'Neil Street and Tremper Avenue.

They said a car driven by Tierney collided with a pickup truck driven south on O'Neil by Gerald K. Parkes, 26, of Box 332, Kingston RD 2. Parkes suffered injuries to the left side of the head.

Edith Strait, 58, of Pike County, Pa., told police she was shaken up in a two-car mishap Sunday evening at Babcock's Dairy, 197 Hurley Avenue. Police said she was making a right turn into the dairy when her car was struck in the rear by one driven by Georgiana Brown, 73, of 196 Hurley Avenue.

Jeannette Nagele, 24, of 164 Tremper Avenue, suffered a head injury in a two-car collision Sunday evening at Smith Avenue and Grand Street.

Police said she was driving south on Grand when her car collided with one driven east on Smith by Ilene Compton, 64, of 4 North Oakwood Terrace, New Paltz. Patrolmen Lewis Keator and John Kennedy investigated both Sunday accidents.

". . . Our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

"The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note nor long remember, what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion, that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain, that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

A SQUEEZE ON LAND

Great land booms of the past were caused, for the most part, by a sudden unleashing of demand—demand which had been pent up by things such as depression or war. The present crisis in land values does not result from stifled demand, but from a growing scarcity of usable land.

It can hardly be doubted that we are in the grip of another cycle of inflated real estate values. Unfortunately, the present squeeze threatens to be more costly and more permanent than at previous times.

Only a few statistics are required to verify the almost runaway nature of today's boom. According to a Wall Street Journal poll of builders, many of them reported prices of raw land doubled and even tripled within the last four years. That is a shocking increase which promises to change the character of America's industry.

The most depressing effect this land inflation presents is the restraint it puts on construction of new homes. Rather than one-family dwellings, which need moderately priced lots, multi-family units and the high-rise apartment buildings proliferate on expensive land.

Were the trend to continue it is conceivable the nature of our society could be altered. The United States has become known as the nation of individual homeowners. If we run out of land to accomodate our swiftly rising population, there may be a dramatic change in that picture.

WEIGHTLESS HAZARD

The United States has gone pell mell at the business of getting a man to the moon. Great emphasis has been placed on the need to make it by 1970, though there is no special moon magic in that year. One result has been a tendency to concentrate more on the workings of machines than on the workings of those who will man them.

This emphasis may change in the light of new data on the physiological effects of weightlessness. There is increasing evidence that over long periods the lack of gravity may affect the body—the circulatory and central nervous systems, most notably—in unfortunate ways. These findings may dictate that we make haste a bit more slowly, so that men will not only get to the moon but arrive in good shape.

TO CUT THE TIME KNOT

Nothing can be done this year about the annual summer mishmash of different times in the United States. Something could be done to see that this is the last year of such a ridiculous business. Congress now has before it a measure that would bring order without a lot of complicated fuss.

The silly season of divergent clock settings has already begun. Some states are on standard time, some are on daylight saving time, some will soon be on daylight saving time. If the divergence were merely from state to state, that would be bad enough. The fact is that time varies within states, also. In some areas, the traveler has to be a fast man with a watch setting to keep in step.

The Gordian Knot needs to be cut with one mighty slash. That could be done by passage of a bill, recently introduced in the House of Representatives by Rep. Donald M. Fraser, to place the nation uniformly on daylight saving time each summer. Though there are objections to such a system, on balance it would be much preferable to the present costly and irritating disorder.

EARS IN THE WALLS

It does not come as any particular surprise that the United States embassy in Moscow has been "bugged." The most interesting thing about the discovery of microphones embedded in the embassy walls is that they had gone undiscovered for such a long time—apparently since the building was remodeled for U.S. occupancy in 1952.

This is by no means the first time that listening devices have been found in American embassy buildings behind the Iron Curtain. One recalls the occasion when, as our then ambassador to the United Nations, Henry Cabot Lodge dramatically showed his colleagues a Moscow embassy seal which had been, as it were, wired for sound. The State Department has revealed that even prior to the current discovery in Moscow some 130 listening devices had been found and removed during the past 15 years.

A strong protest has been made; the situation is being reviewed to assess the possible compromise of secret information. That is about all that can be done. Except, of course, for worrying about the far more sensitive devices which have been developed since the early 50s and are now doubtless listening in more subtle ways.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

A CUSTOMER'S SEAT AT THE BARGAINING TABLE?

When I suggested out loud the other day that the automobile companies ought to share some of their productivity gains with the customer by way of lower prices rather than pass them all to labor in the form of wage increases and fringe benefits, I was brought up short by an unusual argument. "If General Motors and Ford," so I was told by a conservative economist, "were to lower their car prices significantly, it would put Chrysler and the American Motors Company out of business."

Well, in a real price cutting war I suppose this might be true. But, with Detroit still in a fantastically good sellers' market, there is no reason why any automobile manufacturer should cut his prices drastically. The proposition is merely to give the customer a percentage of what, without a price cut of any kind, would be going to labor in all of the automobile companies, Chrysler and American Motors included.

Since making my suggestion I have come across a copy of a speech delivered by Governor George Romney of Michigan at a forum sponsored by the Republican National Committee in Chicago. Mr. Romney, of course, is the man who saved the American Motors Company from bankruptcy, and he is surely in a position to know whether his former organization would suffer if General Motors were to reduce care prices instead of raising automobile wages. Said Mr. Romney, "Now the facts are that under the current laws we have in this country, permitting the concentration of economic power, unions and employers have largely been picking up the results of progress, and the customers have not been sharing in that progress."

So there, at least obliquely, I have my answer to the conservative economist who fears that neither Chrysler nor American Motors could withstand the economic impact of a price cut. Mr. Romney isn't worried about American Motors being put out of business if the price of cars comes down and wages do not markedly increase.

The talk in Detroit, as it is relayed, is to the effect that the automobile companies are prepared to give Walter Reuther's UAW whatever it asks for provided it can be granted at the present level of car prices. This, so it is argued, would not be "inflationary." Maybe it would not be inflationary so far as Detroit itself is concerned. But it would set a precedent for union demands elsewhere in industries that could not absorb a wage increase without getting compensating price increases. So it would be inflationary at one remove.

The automobile companies are behind the eight-ball in this matter of giving the customer a break simply because consumers have no way of sitting down along with labor and management at the bargaining table. But it should not be beyond the bounds of ingenuity to find a way of bringing the customer into the bargaining room. Why don't the automobile companies, which surely know just what they are prepared to share between labor and the customer even this far in advance of bargaining sessions, poll the country on the subject of how the "improvement factor" money shall be distributed. Polling samples could be weighted to include a proportionate share of industrial laborers. The results of the polls would not be binding, of course. But they would enable management to go into bargaining meetings with an idea of how the population, which is largely made up of working people who also consume, feels about dividing the "improvement factor" pie.

Walter Reuther has spoken brave words in the past about his willingness to relinquish some prospective labor gains if the car buying public would benefit thereby. He, on his own, might poll his own union members to see how many of them propose to buy cars for themselves during the period of time to be covered by the next union contract. He might discover that his own union stands to recoup by a price cut what it would be giving up by demanding less in wages.

Since polls always impress politicians, a customers' poll would have its effect on the Johnson Administration, which might be prompted by a tangible expression of opinion to take the customer's side when it exerts its influence to avert an automobile strike in an election year. After all, the customer, if he can only be organized as the customer has more votes than anybody else in the country.

THE WELL CHILD

Word Blindness Complex; There Are Many Causes

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The 13-year-old grandson of a reader is being held back in school because he is word-blind. He reads like a boy of 6.

Word blindness is a complex problem because it may be the result of defective vision or hearing, a glandular disturbance, a bad start in the early grades or some emotional strain. Most victims are boys.

Often they have normal intelligence despite the fact that teachers, parents and classmates are likely to consider them not bright. The earlier remedial measures are taken the better. They should be started long before the child reaches 13.

This boy should have a thorough physical and psychological examination to discover the causes, so that he can be given special attention. Regardless of the cause, however, it is necessary to bolster the child's ego. Special tutoring in phonetic reading should be given.

It often takes a year or two before any improvement is seen even with the best of care. In planning for the child's future, it must be recognized that, no matter how much progress he makes, reading will never be one of his strong points.

Q—Our son, 6, has frequent colds. He has been given Thorazine three times a day for a long time. Is it safe to give this drug to a child year after year?

A—Chlorpromazine (Thorazine) is a tranquilizer. A 6-year-old child who is so severely disturbed emotionally as to need this powerful drug should have psychiatric care.

Q—Our daughter is 18 months old. For the past nine months she has had a hard time moving her bowels. She screams when she passes a hard dry stool and sometimes it has blood on it. My doctor told me not to worry about it. He had me give her laxatives and plenty of water.

A—Be sure your daughter gets some vegetable and fruit at least twice a day. Withhold foods she likes until she finishes her vegetables and fruit. When the stools are hard use an infant size glycerine suppository or a three-ounce water enema. Give her plenty of water to drink but discontinue all laxatives.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Johnson is getting pretty deep into the thicket of problems that go with filling important judgeships. No Chief Executive escapes this involvement for long.

His really thankless assignment is choosing a replacement for Judge Ben Cameron of Mississippi. Cameron, who died several weeks ago, was one of the nine judges serving on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit covering Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Florida and the Canal Zone.

Cameron's one-man rulings frequently slowed or blocked court desegregation orders issued by other judges in school cases. He was a key figure in delays which preceded entry of Negro James Meredith into the University of Mississippi in late 1962.

Though recommendations have been quietly filtering in from senators representing some of the affected states, as well as from outside sources, no action on the Fifth Circuit vacancy has been taken or seems likely in the early future.

THE CHOICE WILL NOT BE EASY. Civil rights groups are saying plainly they do not want another Cameron. Militant segregationists will resist a moderate choice. If talent scouts should consult both camps in the search for some sort of compromise, the result could be merely to fan their mutual suspicions and make any selection unpalatable to both.

The problem over the Cameron appeals court vacancy is further aggravated by a current move to split the Fifth Circuit into two smaller circuits. The present circuit is the second largest geographically, and has the largest work load of any appellate region in the United States.

The Judicial Conference of the United States, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, recommended a split many months ago. This official body of top judges suggested the Fifth be divided so as to include Texas, Louisiana and the Canal Zone in one circuit, with Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia and Florida in the other.

A draft bill embodying these proposals is due for Senate committee study. But, once again, civil rights and segregationist forces are each suspicious they will somehow suffer if this or perhaps any division is decided upon.

ONE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT LAWYER comments that, even without the controversy over a possible division, choosing a new judge in a difficult area like the Fifth Circuit can be tougher for the President than naming a new Supreme Court justice.

Not all Johnson's dealings with the judiciary are this troublesome. Thus far in 1964 he has nominated, and had confirmed by the Senate, seven federal judges. He has named another seven on which action is pending.

There are ten spots to be filled on the federal bench at the district court level, and five in various appeals courts from coast to coast.

Four of the vacancies are the oldest on the list, dating from the creation of 73 new federal judgeships in late May of 1961. These posts, in other words, never have been filled. In two of these cases, work loads are not great enough in the area to create heavy pressure for presidential action.

The story of the John F. Kennedy Library has not been told. It has been buried under an avalanche of monuments, busts, hospitals, Kennedy boulevards, orphanages, plaques, memorial coins, books, maudlin poetry, medallions, Kennedy schools, scholarships, stadiums and postage stamps. The national conscience, in a hysteria of atonement, places gifts before the martyr in every place except where he hoped for one.

Few know that the President planned the library in 1960. And fewer know that he planned to spend the post-Presidential years working in it. John Kennedy was aware, when he assumed the high office, that earlier Presidents had built libraries for their personal papers, state documents, gifts, photos, paintings, motion picture films and memoranda.

Herbert Hoover built one. Eleanor Roosevelt put one up at Hyde Park, New York, for Franklin D. Roosevelt. Harry Truman supervised the erection of the most complete one at Independence, Missouri. Eisenhower built one. Young John Kennedy was planning his before he was in office two weeks. He sent an order to all federal departments to keep Presidential papers in a separate file.

The reason was that he recalled that Hoover, Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower each faced the tedious task of locating Presidential papers which had been lost, or buried in old filing systems, or gathered dust in warehouses. Kennedy was not sure whether he was going to be a big part of American history, or a small one. But it would be history, whether he served one term or two, whether he lived one year or forty.

In the Spring of 1960, he canvassed three sites for his library. One was on Cape Cod, one in Boston, and one on the banks of the Charles River at Harvard University. He chose the 2.9 acres offered by Harvard, and, at once moved onto the next step, an architect. Kennedy liked the work of John Warnecke, a San Francisco architect. The President asked Mr. Warnecke to start the preliminary work at once.

He did not want it to be a private library. It was to be public. He hoped it would be available to all the people all the time, and he planned to display more than his own papers; he wanted a detailed history of his country and his time. In fact, his highest hope was that the people would build the library by public subscription because he felt that it would give them a sense of owning it.

Within a few days after his death, dying projects were brought to life by naming them after John F. Kennedy. His name, which had not been listed among the illustrious of the nation in life, became wondrously magic in death. Noble projects and some not-so-noble became successful. Every promotional device, from silk scarves with his face on them to huge hospitals and schools, was used to tap the national conscience of money.

The Kennedy family was shocked and powerless. They could not, in good taste, decline the honors. On the other hand, the work of Mrs. John F. Kennedy, Robert Kennedy, and Senator Edward Kennedy in conjunction with the library made it appear to be a private family affair. In fact, when the ill and grieving father of the President, Joseph P. Kennedy, donated $1,000,000 to the library, most Americans were certain that the total cost of $10,000,000 would be subscribed in a few days by the wealthy.

The family is opposed to this. I spent some time with Stephen Smith, brother-in-law of the dead President, who is in charge of funds for the library. He said that the Kennedys are determined to follow John's wishes as closely as possible. They have close to six million dollars donated by 53,000 people. The best donations, according to Mr. Smith, come from children who enclose a fistful of pennies in an envelope, and write: "This is my spending money."

Smith, who is dark, handsome and energetic — concomitants of Kennedy family life — said that the name of every person who helps to build the library will go on permanent display when the building is completed. I told him that my girls might want to send small amounts, and he said to send it to the John F. Kennedy Library, Cambridge, Mass. I pointed out that they are cheap, as girls go, and he said he would rather have a million contributions of five cents apiece than one donation of $5,000,000.

Kennedy was in office only two years and ten months, but 12,000,000 documents belonging to him are now being catalogued. Everyone who knew the man is being interviewed on film and tape to give candid impressions of what he was like. Richard Nixon, Nikita Khrushchev, Konrad Adenauer — statesmen all over the world will contribute their impressions.

The building will cost $6,500,000. The remaining $3,500,000 will endow its permanent upkeep. In essence, it is the President's love letter to his country . . .

Reducing Civil Rights To Ballot Box Words

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Few people will dispute the theory that discrimination by reason of race or religion or color hurts the pride and feelings of the individuals who are the victims of such discrimination. But the big question today is how to overcome such discrimination without introducing new kinds of inequality, and just how far the power of law itself should be used to limit freedom of association either in private life or in business.

Congress has before it civil rights bill — the most far-reaching statute proposed in nearly 100 years. Probably only a small number of persons throughout the country have had a chance to read it in full, and many of those who have done so possibly have gotten lost in some of its legal phrases and ambiguities.

There have been many suggestions from time to time that legislation of this kind ought to be voted upon by the people directly through a national referendum. But how might the questions be phrased in such a referendum?

An examination of the proposed compromise amendments and the language of the House bill, which is pending before the Senate, leads to the conclusion that there are hundreds of questions that might be submitted to a national referendum and still leave numerous problems unsolved that could arise if the legislation is enacted.

Though not covering by any means all the questions that might be submitted, here is a sample of some on which the voters could be asked to answer "Yes" or "No":

1. Do you want the Federal government to control who shall be customers of hotels, motels, lodging houses, restaurants, cafeterias, lunchrooms, lunch counters, soda fountains, gasoline stations, motion-picture houses, concert houses, sports stadiums and arenas?

2. If you own or operate one of these private businesses, do you want the right to serve or refuse to serve whomever you please?

3. If you have located your restaurant or other public accommodation in a certain neighborhood whose residents happen to be of one color and have built up your business to attract customers from that area, do you want to be required to serve everybody regardless of race or color? To put it another way, should anyone who operates a private business be prevented from discriminating for business reasons and be compelled to go to court in lengthy lawsuits to prove what was in his mind?

4. If you are the owner of one of these "public accommodations," do you want a Federal judge, without a jury, to be able to put you in prison or impose a fine because he says you failed to obey his order not to discriminate?

5. If you own and occupy a lodging house with six rooms to rent, do you want to be subject to punishment for discrimination, while your competitor who has only five rooms to rent is not subject to such penalties?

6. Do you want the Federal government to be authorized to cut off funds from a Federally-assisted project in your state and injure all citizens alike if what the government calls discrimination on racial or religious grounds is proved in a few instances?

7. If you are an employer with 25 or more employees and your business theoretically affects commerce, do you want the Federal government to limit your right to hire or fire your employees and to set their employment conditions?

8. Do you think it is fair to let the employer with less than 25 employees practice discrimination while the employer of more than 25 employees is prohibited from doing so?

9. Do you, as an employer or as an official of a labor union, want agents from a Federal commission to be able to cross-examine everybody in your organization to determine whether there has been any discrimination in allocating jobs or in conducting the affairs of a business or a union?

10. Do you, as an employer, want to be forced by the Federal government to hire applicants who are atheists even though you yourself hold convictions against atheism as a kind of religion that you think condones unmorality?

An affirmative answer to all of the above questions today means that the citizen would favor adoption of the pending civil rights bill as amended by the proposed compromise provisions.

Some of the persons who answer in the negative, however, could still like to see some form of civil rights legislation passed but with no such extensive power given to the Federal government. Those who do not wish any legislation by the Federal government, leaving such matters to the states to handle, would, of course, vote in the negative.

The above questions indicate nevertheless why it is possible for citizens to believe in the doctrine of equal protection of the laws and yet disapprove of the methods that may be applied if the pending civil rights bill is written into law.

The referendum idea has been used to pass judgement on many proposals for state legislation, but no national referendum on any proposed Federal law has ever been taken. Members of Congress sometimes send out lists of questions to voters in their respective districts to ascertain the views of constituents on pending legislation. The final recourse of citizens, therefore, is to vote every two years for the candidates for Congress who favor or oppose particular proposals for legislation.

They are Sen. E. Ogden Bush of DeLancey, who represents the 34th Senatorial District (Ulster) Greene, Sullivan and Delaware), and Assembblyman Kenneth L. Wlison of Woodstock.

Sen. Bush is chairman of the Senate Conservation Committee and is responsible for many conservation bills which protect the wildlife of the state. Sen. Bush is also vice chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Conservation Law.

Assemblyman Wilson was the champion of area sportsmen, who fought the open season for antlerless deer, and fostered other legislation relative to conservation and recreation.

Both legislators have been working on a project to provide Ulster County with two recreation and campsite areas. The proposals include state recreation and campsite areas at Wittenberg and Malden-on-Hudson.

Fred Polizzi, president, said the club was using this means to recognize publicly the interest the two legislators have shown in behalf of sportsmen in the district relative to conservation and recreation.

The Glasco club has grown to more than 150 members and is an outstanding club in Ulster County, he said.

Dinner Chairman Frank M. Mauro, charter president of the club, is also a past president of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County.

Attorney Louis P. Francello will serve as toastmaster.

A few tickets are still available and reservations may be made with Chairman Mauro or Tim Troyan.

Teacher's Group Names Sommers As New President

At the final meeting of the year of the Saugerties Central School Teachers' Association held last week at Mount Marion School, Milton Sommers was elected president for the ensuing year.

Other officers elected included Louis Parisi, vice president; Robert Varrell, treasurer; James Luther, recording secretary, and Miss Nancy Davin, corresponding secretary.

Reelected as delegate and alternate, respectively, to the House of Delegates were David Goble and David Jones.

The committee reports called for by Mrs. Ann Mahony, retiring president, showed that the organization had a very successful year. Noteworthy in its accomplishments has been the raising of a very substantial amount of money for its scholarship fund.

The major portion of this sum was raised from the "Book and Bake Sale" held this spring. This June the association will award a $300 scholarship to a Saugerties High School graduate who plans to attend college.

Mrs. Mahoney thanked all of the committee members and others who had worked so diligently for the success of the organization during the past year. In appreciation of her outstanding leadership, Mrs. Mahony was given a rising vote of thanks by the members.

U. S. Proposal Seen as Plot By Red China

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China today called U.S. proposals for guarding the South Viet Nam-Cambodia border with United Nations patrols a plot to expand American aggression in Indochina.

"U.S. aggressors must get out of South Viet Nam; they must get out of Indochina," a Peking radio broadcast quoted a Peking People's Daily editorial as saying.

Replying to U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson's declaration May 21 before the U. N. Security Council, the Chinese said: "China absolutely cannot allow the United Nations to be drawn into the situation in Indochina."

The Red Chinese rejection was spelled out in an editorial by "Commentator," an otherwise unidentified but high-ranking official.

Stevenson proposed that the Security Council request Cambodia and South Viet Nam to establish a military force to patrol the frontier which South Vietnamese troops have crossed in recent weeks in pursuit of Communist Viet Cong units. He said this bilateral force should be augmented by, and possibly commanded by, U.N. observers.

Alternatively, he suggested formation of an all-U.N. force to which the United States would be willing to contribute.

U.S. advisers contend the Communist Viet Cong openly use Cambodia as sanctuary before and after raids on South Viet Nam.

The editorial broadcast by Peking radio said: "These proposals by Stevenson are becoming increasing blatant. They are designed to draw the United Nations, which is under U.S. control, into territories close to South Viet Nam and Cambodia and thus to draw the U.N. into the contaminated South Vietnamese war."

Say Youths Fired Shots at Them

Two 18-year-old youths were arrested Sunday on warrants issued in connection with a state police investigation of a complaint that they fired a shot from a .22 caliber rifle at two town of Saugerties residents.

Trooper John Turck of the Kingston sub-station, reported Dennis Elmendorf, of 106 Farrelly Street, and Joseph Albert Misasi Jr., of 208 Downs Street, were arrested on charges of second degree assault.

Both youths were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Robert Stedge, Town of Ulster, and ordered held pending a hearing before Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly, who issued the warrants.

According to an investigation by BCI Investigators Richard Ryan and James Kaljian and Trooper Thomas Crowley, Charles Ricks III, of Box 100, Saugerties, complained that he and his brother Philip, were on the Hurley Mountain Road, Saturday, when the defendants allegedly fired a shot at them from a .22 caliber rifle. Troopers said Elmendorf and Misasi reportedly drove away after the shot was fired.

Fleischmanns Hotel Damaged by Fire

Fire gutted the top floor of the three-story 60-room new Edgewood Hotel on Halcott Road opposite Lake Switzerland, at Fleischmanns on Saturday, according to Fire Chief Charles Smith of Pine Hill.

Fire officials said the lake had been drained and their efforts to quell the flames were hampered. Firemen used water in the tank trucks to extinguish the fire.

The hotel, it was said, had been closed more than a year and was not occupied last season. Firemen from Pine Hill, Arkville, Fleischmanns and other nearby communities were at the scene for more than four hours.

Ulster GOP Club Monthly Meeting

The Town of Ulster Republican Club held a regular monthly meeting Thursday evening at Elmer's Inn, Ruby. A large turnout of members attended the very active meeting with President Anthony Cicoria presiding.

Guest speaker was Ulster County Commissioner of Jurors John L. Smith, who explained the proceedure of selecting a jury and origin of the jury system and its purpose. He also answered questions within the jurisdiction of his commission.

Other guests of the evening were Mrs. Raymond LeFever, vice-chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee, and Mrs. Eileen Markle. President Cicoria introduced Mrs. LeFevre, who explained the June 2 primary and how people will vote on paper ballots. Donald MacCollam, who organized the Young Republican Club in the county and is a member of the Town of Ulster Republican Club, spoke on unity and asked the futiest support of State Senator E. Ogden Bush at the June 2 primary.

President Cicoria called for reports and asked Jack Smith for a report on the Spring Dance which was held May 9. Smith stated the affair proved to be a great success and the most financial success to date of the club's programs. He thanked members of the committee and all others who supported the dance.

Mrs. Able Ellsworth was appointed by President Cirocia general chairlady for the third annual picnic to be held in August. Time and place will be announced after Mrs. Ellsworth has named her committees.

Tim Troyan was named chairman of the June meeting for the purpose of holding an open house for all members of the club. Date and location of the June meeting will be announced.

A resolution was unanimously adopted donating $25 to the Ulster County Republican Committee to suport the Republican candidates in the November election.

Rare Coins Missing

CLIFTON SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—A coin collector reported today the theft of between $35,000 in rare coins and bills from the trunk of his automobile on the State Thruway near this Ontario County community.

Sheldon Moses, 61, of Herkimer, told State Police he had placed the money, contained in three briefcases, in the trunk of his car when he left Buffalo Sunday night after attending a collectors convention.

Senate Debate On Civil Rights In 12th Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate civil rights debate enters its 12th week today with leaders still trying to put across a package of amendments designed to pick up the wavering notes needed for passage.

They presented the package—prepared by Republican and Democratic civil rights forces in consultation with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy—at party caucuses last week and found further tinkering is needed.

Republican senators scheduled their fourth conference on the proposed amendments today. Their leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said he expects it to be the last.

Dirksen and assistant Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota said they hoped the package could be submitted to the Senate this week as a substitute for the House bill now being debated.

This substitute, they said, could be discussed this week and much of next week before an attempt is made to shut off debate and bring the bill to a vote.

The approval of two-thirds of the senators present and voting is required to shut off the Southern oratory that has prevented action on the bitterly disputed legislation.

Senate leaders have indicated they might try to invoke cloture by the second week in June.

An Associated Press poll of all 100 senators, however, revealed that the votes needed for cloture in early June are not yet available.

It would take 67 votes to close the debate if the full membership were on hand. Only 56 senators said they were willing to go on record now for cloture in early June. There were 27 opposed to cloture then. The 17 others were either non-committal or unwilling to say whether they would vote for cloture by early June.

These 17, mostly from the Midwest and from Rocky Mountain states, hold the key to the final outcome.

This will be a short work week for Congress with both House and Senate expected to quit on Thursday for a three-day Memorial Day weekend.

Olive Firemen Will Hold Fund Raising Drive

Final arrangements for a house-to-house fund raising campaign, by the Olive Fire Department No. 1, Inc., were made at a meeting held at the Olive Bridge Fire Hall. This campaign will take the place of the annual fire bazaar which has been discarded due to the severe restrictions imposed, by the state, upon certain fund raising features of fire bazaars.

A letter appealing for contributions to the Olive Fire Department will be mailed to every house within the Town of Olive on July 20, 1964. Following the mailing of this letter, volunteer firemen from the local fire companies will personally solicit each house for contributions during the period of July 27 to August 9, 1964.

It was also planned that new fire call cards and dial telephone fire call insert stickers be printed and distributed to every house in th Town of Olive during the period of solicitation.

Fire Chief A. Fox Jr. announced that June 28, July 26, and September 20, are dates planned for the combined departmental fire drills. August 23 is scheduled for the third annual Olive Fire Tournament to be staged at the West Shokan Recreation Field, with the Public invited to attend.

Port Ewen Boy Hurt In Bicycle Crash

A Port Ewen boy was treated at Benedictine Hospital Sunday evening for scalp lacerations and injuries to his hand after his bicycle had been in collision with a car at Mountain View Road and New Salem Road. Donald Van Loan, 32, of 229 Lindorf Street, Ulster Park, reported to the sheriff's office that his car, owned by Joan VanLoan, was traveling west on Mountain View Road when he slowed up for a stop sign at New Salem Road.

The car and bicycle operated by Scott Alan Moore, of 257 Mountain View Road, Port Ewen, were in collision. The boy said his brake failed to operate. He was taken to Benedictine Hospital for treatment. Deputy Sheriff Carl J. E. Swenson investigated.

Rectory, Church In Poughkeepsie Damaged by Fire

Poughkeepsie firemen battled a two-alarm fire Sunday night which damaged the rectory of Mt. Carmel Catholic Church in downtown Poughkeepsie, and caused smoke damage to the church.

The first alarm at about 8:10 p. m. was followed three minutes later by a second alarm which called out all off-duty paid firefighters and seven pieces of the city's apparatus.

The fire apparently started in the library room between the church and rectory, and flames spread over the roof of the latter building before firemen gained control of the fire.

Patrolman James McDermott and two firemen were treated at local hospitals for smoke inhalation, and a sexton of the church was treated for lacerations of the hands. The origin of the fire was not immediately determined, and no dollar estimate of damage was available.

Smoke and water damage was reported in the church, but fire damage was confined to the library room and the rectory. Masses at the church were conducted today or schedule and there was no interruption in classes at Mt. Carmel Parochial school, it was reported.

Morrison Death Mourned Today In New Orleans

By BEN THOMAS

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—This historic city paused in sorrow today to pay tribute to deLesseps S. Morrison, who achieved success in politics, diplomacy and soldiering.

His body, broken in a plane crash in Mexico's Tamaulipas Mountains last Friday, will lie in state for 24 hours in his old office in Gallier Hall—the former city hall where Morrison had served many of his 15 years as mayor.

Morrison, 52; his youngest son John Randolph, 7; and five other persons perished in the crash, which reportedly occurred during a blinding rainstorm.

An Air Force Albatross landed at nearby Alvin Callendar Naval Air Station Sunday with the flag-draped coffins of the seven victims.

Morrison, who resigned a year ago as U.S. ambassador to the Organization of American States to make his third try for governor, will be buried with full military honors. He was a major general in the U.S. Army Reserve.

Others killed were Ovide J. Cenac, 59, of Houma, president of a towing company; Raleigh Pellegrin, 47, of Montegut, a Cenac employe; Hugh Ward, the pilot, Brownsville, Tex.; and Carolyn Vandergrift, 35, and her 7-year-old son, Christopher, who recently had moved from Washington, D.C., to West Palm Beach, Fla.

In West Palm Beach, Margaret Price said Mrs. Vandergrift, her daughter, and Morrison were engaged to be married. Mrs. Vandergrift was divorced. Morrison's wife died in 1956.

The caskets of Morrison and his son will be taken to St. Louis Cathedral Tuesday for a high Requiem Mass.

The Morrison party left New Orleans Friday to fly to the Rancho Santa Clara near Tampico, Mexico, on a combination business-pleasure trip. Their plane took off shortly after 5 p.m. Friday from Matamoros, Mexico, across the border from Brownsville, Tex.

A search party found the wreckage the next day in remote terrain 45 miles southeast of Ciudad Victoria, the capital of the Mexican state of Tamaulipas. There were no survivors.

Barry Would Use Light Atomic Items To Cut Supplies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says low-yield atomic weapons could be used to burn jungle foliage and expose Communist supply lines along South Viet Nam's border.

The Arizona senator was asked Sunday on the ABC radio and television program "Issues and Answers" how jungle trails which can't be spotted from the air should be handled in the U.S.-supported war.

In the interview, Goldwater urged the bombing with conventional weapons of bridges, roads and railroads used to bring supplies from Red China and North Viet Nam into South Viet Nam unless the Communists halted the military shipments.

The senator also indicated he would favor bombing supply routes inside Red China. "You might have to," he said, or the war will drag on and on.

Dutchess Woman Hurt In Highway Mishap

A Dutchess County woman was injured and three other persons escaped unhurt as the result of highway mishaps investigated Sunday by Highland State Police.

Trooper John Salters reported Edna Lawrence, 60, of Creek Road, Wappingers Falls, received a whiplash of the neck after the car driven by Harvey Lawrence, 52, same address, was involved in a collision with another vehicle at the intersection of Routes 299 and 9W, Town of Lloyd.

Trooper Salters said the mishap occurred at 4:15 p. m. yesterday. The other car was driven by Christy Conklin, 61, of 46 Franklin Street, Poughkeepsie. Troopers reported the Lawrence car was stopped for a stop sign on Route 299 when it was hit in the rear by the other automobile.

Robert Martin, 19, of 31 Garden Street, Hyde Park, escaped injury at 2:10 a. m. Sunday, when he lost control of his car on Route 32 about 2½ miles north of New Paltz. Trooper Salters said Martin was going north when the vehicle spun around on the pavement and hit a dirt embankment.

Navy Studying Weapon to Take Place of Polaris

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The director of the Polaris program said today the submarine missile may be an effective weapon until the 1980s and the Navy is studying advanced underwater missile concepts as possible successors.

Rear Adm. I. J. Galantin said systems being considered are deep diving submarines made of titanium or glass which could hug the ocean bottom; missiles powered by nuclear energy or exotic fuels, and deployment of large missiles in submerged tubes anchored in the sea.

He outlined the proposals in a paper prepared for the annual meeting of the Aviation and Space Writers' Association.

Baptists List Beliefs

By TOM SEPPY

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—North American Baptists ended an unprecedented conclave here with a "message to the world" outlining the beliefs of their members.

The three-day 150th anniversary jubilee, which brought together for the first time representatives of the seven largest Baptist groups in North America, ended Sunday after an address by evangelist Billy Graham, who called for a religious revival to obtain equal rights for all Americans.

The Baptists stood "as an affirmation of our belief" in approving the message, drafted by key leaders from each body.

Must Desegregate Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ordered Prince Edward County, Va., today to reopen its public schools on a desegregated basis by next September.

County education officials closed the schools in 1959 to avoid court-ordered admission of Negroes.

The Prince Edward racial controversy has been fought in state and federal courts since May, 1951. It was one of the original school desegregation cases decided by the Supreme Court on May 17, 1954.

Texas Fans Pampered

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Spectators at the new Harris County circular stadium — the nation's largest domed structure —will be comfortable no matter what happens to their favorites on the playing field. As described in "Steel Facts," published by American Iron and Steel Institute, the huge 642-foot-wide, clear span, steel framed building will be completely air conditioned. As further luxury touches, 44,000 seats will be upholstered, and 6,000 low-level, electronically adjusted loudspeakers will make listening easier. Scheduled to open in time for the 1965 baseball season, the 9.5-acre stadium will require 9,000 tons of steel in its dome and movable stands, which quickly convert it for baseball, football or boxing.

3,200 on Strike At Aluminum Co. Plant in Massena

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP) — The Massena plant of the Aluminum Corporation of America was closed today by a strike that kept about 3,200 employes off the job.

The labor - management dispute involves reclassification of about 60 hourly jobs.

A federal mediator sent here to help settle the dispute left Sunday to attend to other business and was not expected to return until mid-week.

And, although both the company and the union, Local 420, Aluminum Workers International Union, have declared their availability for conferences, officials said privately further discussions were not planned.

It was the first strike called by Local 420 since 1934, a veteran Massena newsman said.

Treated for Slashes

A 29-year-old Poughkeepsie woman was treated at St. Francis' Hospital in that city Saturday for razor slashes of the heels and wrists. Police Lieut. Frank Dunlap said Mrs. Renee Close, of 51 North Clinton Street, was taken to the hospital by ambulance. Twelve sutures were taken to close the wounds, police said.

The company of William J. Taylor (N. J.) was one of the first to produce manganese steel in the U. S. (in the 1800s).

Returns Home

Mrs. Ruth Merritt, 39, of Pancake Hollow Road, Highland, who was the object of a State Police search after relatives reported her missing on May 14, has returned home, according to Trooper John Salters. The trooper said a resident saw the woman and notified relatives who took her home. No further details were available.

Waiting for Baker Storm to Pass

Senate Not Looking Kindly On Changing Its Own Ethics

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press news Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is distinguished by its grim determination to yield none of its privileges. It has two rules of conduct: One for itself and a different one for other people.

It is supposed to be the symbol of democratic government, but for years some of its members, mostly liberal senators, have urged Congress to do to itself what it requires others to do.

Now it's being urged anew as a result of the Bobby Baker case—but once again, embarrassed though it is, it will probably do nothing. This is what is meant:

Congress years ago passed a law, and later tightened and broadened it, to prevent conflict of interest among employes of the executive branch of government. Conflict of interest means mixing a government job with personal gain.

For example: Men appointed by the president to high position are required to get rid of stock they hold in companies dealing with the government. But this does not apply to members of Congress or its employes.

Ignores Proposals

Liberal senators have proposed Congress pass similar legislation on itself, its own code of ethics to prevent conflict of interest. Congress has ignored them.

But from last November until March the Senate Rules Committee investigated the financial doings of Baker who, as secretary of the Democratic majority in the Senate, earned $19,600 a year.

The investigation disclosed that while he held this job he had accumulated a business fortune of about $2 million. He was called to testify but refused to.

While the full Senate authorized the committee to examine the financial or business interests or activities of any Senate employe, it did not authorize the investigation of any senator who might have been involved with Baker.

Baker was a fantastic wheeler and dealer. A report prepared by the Committee staff last week, while attaching no criminal blame to him, accused him of "gross improprieties" in getting his job mixed up with private business.

Harsh on Senate

But the report was harsh on the Senate, saying: "No amount of sophistry can relieve the Senate of the public criticism now directed against it."

The report suggested that to protect its name the Senate should write a code of ethics for itself. And it proposed the Senate and its employes be compelled to disclose publicly their outside income and its sources.

The Senate Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, opposed this suggestion as he had similar ones in the past. He said, "I have never been in favor of making 'class b' citizens out of senators."

Another proposal in the committee report ran into broad opposition in the Senate: This would forbid a senator to intercede with any government agency on behalf of a corporation doing business with the government.

Very Exclusive Club

In a place like the Senate, where each member has tremendous power and is jealous of it, there is enormous resistance to changing any rules or diminishing any privileges. This is truly a club, and a very exclusive one.

The disclosures in the Baker case—the spectacle of this nimble young man, so close to many senators, becoming a millionaire while working for the Senate—was a shock to all 100 members.

It raises a natural question: If all this could happen with just one young man, what else is going on there? If the senators voted to disclose their outside income, the public would have both a check and an insight.

But the Senate, shocked though it is, has been through other unpleasant moments in its long history and will probably do nothing as it sighs and waits for this storm to pass away, thinking, perhaps, in time all things pass away.

Civil Service Group to State Slates Contest

At the June 3 annual session, delegates and members will hear of latest developments in milk shed in an annual report by John C. York, executive secretary, as well as a special assignment from retiring President, James Speer.

Hunt Fourth Man In Kidnaping, Socialite Is Safe

PARIS (AP)—Three men described by police as "little gangsters" are being held in the kidnaping of Mrs. Marcel Dassault, wife of a millionaire French warplane builder, who says she wasn't mistreated during 35 hours as a prisoner.

"The chief was charming with me," the 63-year-old Paris socialite said after two gendarmes stumbled onto the kidnapers' hideout Sunday. "But they were dangerous men."

Fed Her Steak

Mrs. Dassault, who had belted one of the kidnapers in the stomach with her umbrella, said the men provided her with covers during a chilly night and brought her grilled steak and boiled potatoes when she complained of being hungry.

The three suspects, said by police to have been mixed up in prostitution and other underworld activities, were being questioned today.

Mrs. Dassault was freed when two village gendarmes, participating in a check of farms and summer cottages north of Paris shouted "Is anyone here?" outside an abandoned-looking farmhouse.

Hands Over Pistol

They broke in when a woman's voice replied, "Yes. Don't leave." A gunman meekly handed over his pistol and said some friends offered him a little money to guard a farmhouse. He was Mathieu Costa, 26, a bartender, of the French island of Corsica.

The second man arrested, Pierre-Gabriel Darmon, 35, a native of Algeria, was grabbed by police who waited for someone to return to the farm. His brother, Gaston Darmon, 33, who police said once operated an Algiers brothel, was caught by motorcycle policemen who saw him running across a field.

Hundreds Die . . .

jammed for hours. Mounted police charged the crowds outside in an effort to keep order.

Hoodlums looted the pockets of some of the victims. They also snatched watches and other valuables.

Under the stadium lights, survivors and police went to the aid of the injured and tried to sort out the piles of dead. The injured were sent to hospitals in ambulances, taxis, and commandeered cars and trucks.

Many persons blamed the police use of tear gas for starting the panic.

Outside the hospitals, mobs assembled, shouting denunciations of the police. "Revenge," they screamed. "Down with the police."

The government suspended individual liberties — a modified form of martial law — in an attempt to prevent further rioting. It also proclaimed a week of national mourning.

On the crushed chests of some of the bodies were the deep purple imprints of the curtain-like metal exit gates.

Liberals Endorse LBJ

NEW YORK (AP)—The Liberal party has endorsed President Johnson for election in November.

The party, which exists only in New York State, often nominates Democratic candidates—especially for national and state offices. It sometimes runs its own candidates and, at times, endorses Republican nominees.

Bearsville Woman Injured in Mishap

Two cars were in collision Sunday afternoon about 5:45 o'clock on Route 28 at Winchell's Corners, Shokan, and one of the operators was taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's Ambulance with chest injuries.

Mrs. Alice Elting, 41, of Bearsville, received a fractured rib and chest injuries. En route to the hospital oxygen was administered.

Deputy James Freer and Vincent Van Demark of the Sheriff's office investigated.

Mrs. Elting reported a car operated by Clifford Harris, 168 Bruyn Avenue, Kingston, had stopped short and she was unable to avoid a rear end collsion. Harris contended he had stopped for traffic and was struck in the rear.

Panic Politics . . .

"Why does he not show us one word on the record ever spoken by Mr. Bush against the skyrocketing State Budget, even though Mr. Bush is a member of the Senate Committees on Finance and Taxation."

"Rather than speak of the tax money spent on State owned ski runs, why not tell us what we asked, 'Where was Mr. Bush on the Hunter Mountain development proposals?' What has he ever done to assist the development of private resort and ski facilities in our district?"

"And why does not Mr. Wilson allow Mr. Bush to speak for himself. One wonders if Senator Bush is a reality at all, or just another name for Mr. Wilson. Our campaign is not against Mr. Wilson but against Senator Bush," Burhans said.

"Friday's article, as well as the paid advertising on the local radio stations is obviously the politics of panic. The remarks of desperate men who cannot give a straight answer to an honest question."

Burhans pointed to the sudden calling of a meeting of the Ulster County Republican Central Committee, as well as the last minute opening of two Bush Headquarters in the City of Kingston as further indications of the panic in the ranks of Republican leadership.

Committee Meeting

"A meeting of the Central Committee such as called for tonight has not happened in living memory, except for the bi-anunal election of officers," Burhans said.

"And the opening of two headquarters in City of Kingston has never happened even on a general election," Burhans stated.

"They are establishing though, that there is still life in the Ulster County Republican Party. But that such activity should be generated for the cause of saving the dead wood at the top of the organization tree seems rather pathetic."

"If half the activity being expended to keep the incumbent Senator in retirement in Albany were used in elections against the opposition party, there can be little doubt there would be more favorable balances on the Board of Supervisors and the Kingston Common Council.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Chrysler was strong in a slightly higher stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderate in the over-all market.

Chrysler spurted more than 2 points following news of the latest in its series of expansion projects. Buying was heavy in the stock.

The stocks with mineral finds, which have highlighted the market in recent weeks, continued to cool off. Occidental Petroleum was down more than a point. Texas Gulf Sulphur clung to a thin gain.

Big Three motors all were ahead. A higher tone prevailed among airlines, chemicals, cigarettes, drugs, farm implements and coppers. Rails, utilities, office equipments and electronics were lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 307.1 with industrials up 1.2, rails off .3 and utilities off .4.

Eastman Kodak added about 2 points as it went to another of the new highs it has been making. International Harvester made a similar gain.

Onteora Board Revises Policy On Vacations

The Onteora Board of Education by a 5-2 vote has revised its vacation policy for non-teaching employees. Under the new arrangement, each full time employee is entitled to two weeks (10 working days) paid vacation each fiscal year.

After 10 years of full time employment, the paid vacation period will be extended to three weeks, and after 20 years to four weeks.

Employees working less than a year are entitled to one day per month up to a maxium of 10 days. If the first working month is more than 11 working days it shall be considered as a full month. Vacation for the present year is earned by the months worked the previous year.

The motion to revise the vacation was offered by trustee John W. Ebbs of Woodstock and seconded by Trustee Lloyd K. Collins of West Hurley. On the role call vote it was supported by Trustees Philip Gordon, board president; Arthur P. Knight and Herbert Shultis.

Two Votes Against

Trustees Raymond C. Cruthers and Herbert Epstein voted against the resolution. Trustee Cruthers suggested that after 7 years, vacations be extended to 3 weeks and after 12 years, vacations be extended to 4 weeks. Trustee Epstein did not approve of extending vacations beyond the two-week period.

A motion offered by Trustee Ebbs seconed by Trustee Knight, to fix the holidays to be granted employees carried by a 6-1 vote, with Trustee Cruthers dissenting. The following holidays were granted with pay: 4th of July, Labor Day, Columbus Day, Veterans Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's Day Lincolns' or Washington's birthday (whichever) is being celebrated by the entire school system), Memorial Day and a "roving day" to be determined by the adminstration.

Trustee Cruthers stated he would like to move that a half-day before Christmas and a half-day on Good Friday be granted in addition. The motion was not seconded.

Board president Gordon announced that other phases of this policy will be reviewed at a future meeting.

Reject Increase Bid

The board rejected a request for an increase in traveling allowance by Henry Hosser, Clark of the Works of the current elementary construction projects. Hosser told the board that "last month's mileage totaled 900 miles and the prevailing mileage allotment doesn't approach my personal car maintenance needs."

Trustee Shultis moved that the clerk of the work's mileage allotment be increased to 10 cents per mile for the remainder of his term. No action was taken on this motion.

Trustee Ebbs then moved that the traveling allowance for the clerk of the works remain at the standard allotment designated in the board policy. Trustee Knight seconded and the motion carried unanimously. It was noted that state, county and local agencies also provide an 8-cent per mile travel allowance.

Cite Carolyn Rose For Excellent Poetry

Miss Carolyn Rose, contributor to the volume of poetry, "Lollipops and Tears," published recently by the Onteora Central Schools, has just received Honorable Mention in the Senior division of the Scholastic Magazines Writing Awards for a group of her poems.

Students of 3,250 teachers in 2,462 schools in all fifty states, Canada, the Canal Zone, Guam and Puerto Rico submitted entries to the contest which recognizes talented writers in senior and junior high schools. Only twenty-five Honorable Mentions were awarded to entrants in the Senior Poetry Division.

Miss Rose, a junior at Onteora, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Rose of Bearsville. Although she has been writing for the past two or three years, she received the opportunity to develop her talent this year in the Writers Workshop under the direction of Miss Joan Silberstein.

One of the three students whose work comprises "Lollipops and Tears," Miss Rose's poetry reflects a love of nature, particularly the vast open stretches of land in the western part of the country. This is consistent with the career she wishes to pursue for she plans to study conservation at the University of Arizona.

State Districts Record Is Good On Budget Votes

New York state school districts have an excellent reputation for financial approval of budgets, Dr. George R. Sullivan, Superintendent of the Onteora Central Schools District, said today.

In 1963 there were 844 operating school districts in the state. A total of 782 voted on school budgets while 62 city districts are not required to vote.

Of the 782 districts voting in 1963, a total of 743 passed budgets as originally proposed or as amended with minor changes from the floor at the annual meeting. Budgets were rejected by 39 districts. Twenty-eight rejected budgets were passed on a second vote, 8 districts on a third vote, one district on a fourth vote, and two districts were absorbed by a city district. No district operated on an "austerity" budget throughout the entire school year.

The changes in rejected budgets ranged from an increase of 3.2 per cent to a decrease of 7.7 per cent. The average change was 1.1 per cent downward.

State History

The history of budget rejections in New York State from 1956 to 1963 is as follows: 1956, 3 rejections, 17 in 1957, 15 in 1958, 34 in 1959, 8 in 1960, 20 in 1961, 28 in 1962, 39 in 1963.

Factors contributing to a trend toward increasing budget defeats are as follows, Dr. Sullivan said:

1. Increasing demand for quality education; 2. the population explosion more children to educate; 3. rising costs of all services and materials; 4. general rebellion against all taxes with the only direct channel for expression being the school taxes; 5. the plight of taxpayers on "fixed incomes"; 6. inequalities resulting from archaic property assessment practices.

All of the above factors must be attacked with equal vigor if public education is to survive and improve in the years ahead, Dr. Sullivan said.

Faculty Additions Listed at Onteora

Several faculty appointments to fill vacancies were approved by the Onteora Board of Education at its regular May meeting.

The appointments included: Marion H. Blish, elementary, $5500 plus $500 for intramurals and recreational supervision; Eileen Keeler, elementary, $6900; William Keeler, elementary, $7860; Loretta Lorenzen, elementary, $5300; Susan Wallace, elementary, $6220; Alice Murphy, elementary, $6340; Sheila Margey, elementary, $5500; Jean Engel, secondary, $8050; Eugene Malkis, secondary, $8820; Mona Moore, secondary, $6340; Paul Flanders, secondary, $5560; Judith Howard, home economics, $5300.

Frances Ganci was approved as a part time clerk at the rate of $1.25 an hour.

Honor Teacher On Retirement

MARGUERITE MALLOW

Mrs. Marguerite Mallow of Shady, who recently retired as a teacher in the Onteora Central Schools, was honored by the faculty of the Bennett elementary school, Boiceville, at a reception on Teacher Recognition Day, May 19.

Mrs. Mallow has devoted 35 years of her life to the teaching profession in both rural and central schools. For the last seven years, she has been a member of the faculty of the Onteora Central School. Her most recent assignment was that of third grade teacher in the Mt. Tremper Annex.

Prior to joining the Onteora staff, Mrs. Mallow taught in various rural schools in the Woodstock area including Zena, Shady, and Willow.

The Teacher Recognition Day reception for Mrs. Mallow was held in recognition of her long service to public education. She was presented with a gift from the faculty as a token of the esteem in which she is held by her colleagues — both as a person and a fellow teacher.

To Take Loss or Not Depends on Objective

Q—"I bought Schenley Industries 3 years ago for 31¼, and it has been on the decline ever since. Should I take my loss and get out? Also what do you think of Interstate Department Stores? — L. A.

A — I always hesitate and weigh many factors before advising anyone to register a substantial loss.

If your objective is income, I would tell you to hold, since Schenley yields over 5 per cent on its well protected $1 annual dividend. Schenley is a soundly managed company which has seen earnings decline from the peak $3.07 a share of 1959 to $1.69 last year. Competition has been intense, and the company's profit margins have been hurt.

If growth is your objective, however, I would take my loss and buy Consolidated Foods.

I like Interstate Department Stores — one of the best of the discounters. At present levels, though, I prefer Arlan's Department Stores — in the same field — and with a very strong record of growth and less potential dilution.

Q—"I am interested in growth utility stocks. I have been told that the following are young and have a future: California Liquid Gas; Chattanooga Gas; Commonwealth Gas; National Gas & Oil; Southwest Gas Producing; and Volunteer Natural Gas. What is your opinion?" — V. M.

A — Presumably you want my opinion on these as growth utilities. This leaves me in a rather difficult spot.

Only two of the stocks you mentioned are classed as public utilities, and the rest are gas and oil producers or sell propane gas — neither of which operations is rated as a public utility.

The two franchised utilities are Chattanooga Gas and Volunteer National Gas, both pretty good companies operating in rather restricted areas in Tennessee. I can find no evidence of marked growth in either and suggest you aim a little higher.

Stolen Car Smashed When It Hits Posts

Ellenville State police today continued search for a car thief, who smashed a stolen vehicle against guard posts on Route 52, Town of Shawangunk, about two miles west of Pine Bush.

Troopers said the 1961 car was owned by Anna Florio, of Pine Bush Lake Estates. It was not known that the car had been stolen until it reportedly crashed into the guard posts.

Uptown Stores Are Open Tonight, to Close on Saturday

The association president said the late hour today was decided in order that uptown merchants may pay homage to the War dead on Saturday, May 30, Memorial Day. All member stores will be closed on Saturday.

WW1 Hero Sgt. York Is Reported Improved

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Medal of Honor winner Sgt. Alvin York was listed in very satisfactory condition today at Veterans Hospital, where he was admitted Friday for internal hemorrhaging.

Doctors stopped the bleeding several hours after the 76-year-old World War I hero was rushed here by ambulance but said he must remain in the hospital several days.

York lives on a mountain farm at Pall Mall, Tenn., about 140 miles northeast of here. He has been bed-ridden about 10 years and has been in and out of hospital a number of times.

Partner Refuses to Sign Off

By OSWALD JACOBY

What is sauce for the goose is not always sauce for the gander at the bridge table. In expert circles, repeated bids of the same suit are known as sign offs and invite partner to pass. In other circles, they are still sign offs, but partner doesn't ever accept.

When North bid two hearts he wasn't trying to get anywhere except out of no-trump. When South rebid to two no-trump, North realized that a three heart bid would just elicit a further bid from his partner. So North gave up the struggle and settled for what he hoped would be a small penalty.

It was a small penalty. West opened the three of clubs. East took his king and returned the jack. South's queen lost to West ace and a third club lead gave South two club tricks.

East shed the deuce of diamonds on the fourth club whereupon South led the queen of hearts and covered with dummy's king after West played low. He led a diamond, finessed his queen, cashed the ace and led a third diamond to set up his last diamond as another trick. Results, down one only.

South was bitter about the whole thing. He pointed out that he had made one no-trump, but that North had put him one trick higher. It did North no good at all to mention that there really was no play for one no-trump and that two hearts was an absolute cinch.

Delighted With Tears

WEST HOLLYWOD, Fla. (AP) — When 11-year-old Thomas Pasquino was told he couldn't go out to play, he burst into tears. His parents were delighted. The tears were the first Thomas ever shed. They were evidence that surgeons had made progress correcting eye troubles with which the boy was born, inability to raise the eyelids including blocked tear ducts and inability to raise the eyelids more than halfway. The operation was performed at Wills Eye Clinic in Philadelphia.

Dear Abby . . .

A Lot of Scratch!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I love flowers. For many years my tulips have taken prizes. Last year some new neighbors moved to the north of us. They keep chickens. But their chickens are not copped up or fenced in to keep them on their own property so every morning those chickens head right for my bulbs. So far I have had about $200 worth of fine imported bulbs scratched up. I don't want to fence in my property because it will ruin the looks of it; neither do I want to start a feud with my neighbors. Have you any suggestions?

LOVE FLOWERS

DEAR LOVES: I assume you have already complained to your neighbors. If you have, and were ignored, ask your lawyer to write them a letter pointing out their legal responsibilities. If that doesn't work, you may have to sue. Two hundred dollars worth of bulbs is not chicken feed.

DEAR ABBY: When a child must go to the hospital for a tonsillectomy operation and the mother is unable to go, isn't it all right for the father to be there instead? A friend of mine, right out of the blue, asked me how I could have stayed away from my child at a time like that. She said nothing in the world could have kept HER away if it had been her child. She hurt me terribly when she said that. Abby, I have small children at home and no one to leave them with, and things beyond my control made it impossible for me to go to the hospital that day. Did I do wrong?

HURT

DEAR HURT: No. Your friend was just blabbing and unmindful of the hurt she was causing — at least if she is a GOOD friend.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter's girl friend has asked my daughter and four other girls to be her bridesmaids. She made it clear that each girl was expected to pay for her own gown. The bride and her mother picked out the gowns without asking any of the bridesmaids for an opinion about price. Both my daughter and I were shocked when we found out how much the gowns cost. This bride has very expensive tastes, which she herself cannot afford. I think if the bride wants her bridesmaids to wear such expensive gowns, she should pay for them. My daughter says she would rather turn down the honor of being a bridesmaid than complain about the price. To give you an idea of how overboard the bride went, each dress is $69.95, plus tax! And my daughter has never spent more than HALF that amount on even her best dress. I would like some advice.

WORKING MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Since the price of the gown is more than twice what your daughter would ordinarily spend on a gown, I think she would show good judgment to decline the "honor."

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, May 25, the 146th day of 1964. There are 220 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1787, the first session of the Constitutional Convention was held in Philadelphia, ostensibly to amend the old Articles of Confederation. As it turned out, however, the convention framed the Constitution we have today.

On this date

In 1862, Confederate Gen. Thomas J. (Stonewall) Jackson defeated Union forces at Winchester, Va.

In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill held a joint news conference in Washington.

Ten years ago—A bomb, presumably intended for Gen. Augustin Guillaume, retiring resident general in French Morocco, exploded in Marrakesh just after his car had passed.

Five years ago—A United Nations world economic survey indicated the economies of Communist nations were growing at a more rapid rate than those of the free world.

One year ago—30 independent African states formed the Organization of African Unity at a conference in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

General Grant made no demand for the surrender of General Lee's sword at Appomattox Court House and no tender was made of it.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Profits still point upward. Early reports on second-quarter operations and reassuring predictions at annual stockholder meetings are in near unanimous agreement on the trend. The dollar volume is rising. This should continue for a while.

Interpretation Differs

But there the unanimity ends. How to interpret profits; even how to figure them; what they should mean to workers, stockholders and customers; how would-be investors should react —there you have a wide choice.

Labor is using the record net earnings after taxes that are being reported or predicted by many companies as a talking point in demanding higher wage scales, and some unions seem likely to get them.

Stockholders dream of higher dividend payments, and the total continues to rise.

The government has suggested that customers might share in the happy event if prices were cut a bit as profits rise. But management usually replies that increasing production costs make that unlikely.

Wall Street eyes rising stock prices to see if they're advancing faster than dividends. This makes returns on investment really less glamorous than they might seem without close inspection.

Dollar Profits Piling Up

And corporate treasurers and presidents point out that the announced profit figures themselves can give the wrong impression to the general public, unless they're lined up against all the other changes in the economy.

But the dollar profits are piling up. Much of this is because sales volume and increased production multiply earnings at a fast rate after the break-even point is passed. Part of the fatter net income is due to the lower federal tax on gross corporate earnings. A lot is the result of cost-cutting and labor-saving devices.

Management argues that the profit increase so far is merely a catching up after earlier stagnation. And it says that today's profits are still much too low if industry is to expand and provide all the higher-priced plant and machinery that are called for to bring the economy up to potentiality.

Kingston Point Park

Kingston Point Park was in its heyday. On a Sunday afternoon in the summer, families would arrive by steamboat and by trolley to enjoy picnics and band concerts of a more leisurely period. At the other end of the trolley line, busy Wall Street was the focal point for business and financial establishments serving a prosperous and ever-growing hinterland covering much of the nearby valley. Kingston Savings Bank in 1900 erected a new building designed especially for convenient and comfortable banking purposes at 273 Wall Street, its present location. By the end of this decade, the bank's assets had passed the three million mark.

Certificates Go To Bennett and Highland Sheets

The Ulster County TB and Health Association as Ulster County sponsors of the 1963, 27th National School Press Project, presented the National Certificate of Honor to two Ulster County School papers at the recent Association dinner. Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, chairman of the Association's Respiratory Diseases Committee, made the presentations to the Bennett Banner of the Reginald R. Bennett Elementary School, Onteora School System, Boiceville and to the Highland Fling, published by the Highland Senior High School.

Best Entry of Group

The Highland Fling award was presented to Editor-in-chief Michelle Morano whose award winning staff included Virginia Achille, Donna Temm, Conrad Loreto, Sandra Demare, Sherida Stellar, Bernadette Brennie and Joan LaSusa. Robert Wattles, the staff advisor of the Highland Fling also was introduced by Dr. Schwartz. Judging comments noted that the Highland Fling had given "very full coverage" and that the "volume of correct information is good, and the writing is generally above par . . ."

"I am deeply honored to give these awards," Dr. Schwartz noted. He pointed out that the local School Press Project had been governed again in 1963 by the TB and Health Association as the local division of the National School Press Project sponsored by the National Tuberculosis Association, the local group's national affiliate, and by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

"The purpose of the Project," Dr. Schwartz pointed out, "is to disseminate correct, current health information and to alert youth to its responsibility for its own health and the health of the community. The project encourages young journalists, helps to raise standards of school journalism, and encourages citizenship."

Exacting Judging

Three Ulster County School Press entries were submitted by the Ulster County TB and Health Association to state judges, and all three passed the state judging and were submitted to the national judging team. The two Ulster County national winners were selected by the National Judges at their Feb. 14 session.

"The Bennett Banner and Highland Fling won their National Certificates of Honor on very exacting points of judging," Dr. Schwartz pointed out. "Each paper was screened carefully and had to meet national standards in total effort of newspaper staff, accuracy, originality, journalistic style, evidence of research, understanding of subject matter, and total appearance and format of the publication."

Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., association president, commented that the TB group "has sponsored this worthwhile student project for well over 10 years here in Ulster County, and we look forward to its continued efforts and journalism refinements." Past award winners have also been the M.J.M. Chatterbox, Myron J. Michael School, The Cherry Tree, George Washington School; The Quill, Ellenville High School; and The Flying Goose, Rondout Valley Central School.

School papers interested in entering the 1964 School Press Project are invited to contact E. Robert Johnson, the Association Executive Director, at TB and Health headquarters, 124 Green Street. "State and national effort toward the further effective development of this health-journalism project promise to make the National School Press Project and its awards one of the top forms of recognition available to our outstanding school papers and youthful journalists," Johnson said. "We have seen the calibre of school papers in our county, and believe that our entries late in the fall should further reflect the goals of health and good journalism, and produce award recipients for Ulster County again in 1964."

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

MOON FLIGHT: The United States has a better than 50-50 chance of landing a man on the moon by 1970, Dr. Wernher von Braun, director of the Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala., said today.

In a copyright interview in U.S. News and World Report, Von Braun said: "We cannot be absolutely certain, because any critical setback may, of course, still deny us success in time. But I would say, if you asked me for a personal opinion, that we have a better than 50 per cent chance of being on the moon before the decade is out."

BANK INSURANCE: Chairman Wright Patman, of the House Banking Committee, says the American Bankers Association is "deliberately falsifying the facts" in its opposition to an increase from $10,000 to $20,000 in federal insurance on bank deposits.

The Texas Democrat is sponsor of the measure which is scheduled for House action on Wednesday.

LOSING GROUND: Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D - Ohio, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, says the United States is losing ground to the Communists "in every corner of the world."

Writing for the Reader's Digest, Lausche called Secretary of State Dean Rusk a sincere, devoted diplomat but said the State Department has within its ranks "long-entrenched and frequently misguided men whose views too often account for our unsuccessful policies."

Mikoyan in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan of the Soviet Union was received in audience by Emperior Hirohito today. Officials of the imperial household said he was the first Russian of Cabinet rank to be received by the emperor since World War II.

"Does Father HAVE to sing in the bathtub? I can't hear my records!"

Investor Forum

By HARRY C. FRANCE

THE DOLLAR STOCKS

A distinguished Pacific Coast professional man has lost $25,000 in promotions during the past ten years. His motives were of the best, but his judgment was bad.

He has always been looking for an embryo General Motors, Ford or American Telephone that, with a relatively small investment, would make him a fortune.

More than 90 per cent of promotions fail and he has succeeded in picking those that have. The irony of the whole situation is that most of the $25,000 he has lost was taken from his checking account in a leading California bank and if he had bought $25,000 of that bank's stock, his investment would now be worth $50,000.

Years ago, Russell H. Conwell, one of the greatest lecturers ever to live, gave a lecture called "Acres of Diamonds." Its theme was that people looked all over the world for things they cherished and failed to see that acres of diamonds lay at their very feet.

Millions of investors today need to be reminded constantly that sound common stocks are at their very doorstep and there is no need for them to buy unsound promotions and risk-laden stocks.

Every investor in America who carries a checking account in a commercial bank should own some bank stocks. For four years, I worked for a leading international commercial bank. The first year I was there, I bought ten shares for $900. Those shares have been split up 5 for 1, and there have been numerous tax-free stock dividends.

Those 10 shares are now worth more than $15,000 and I am getting $600 a year in cash dividends on my $900 original investment.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific, there are hundreds of sound, well-managed banks. I shall mention five of them here.

The First National Bank of Boston is the biggest bank in New England. It owns the Old Colony Trust Company. During the five-year period: 1959-1963 inclusive, it earned $27.09 a share. In cash dividends it paid out $14.03 — about half of earnings.

Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York, that has accounts with 96 of the top 100 corporations in America, made $29.48 in 1959-'63 and paid out in cash $18.83.

First National Bank of Chicago earned $18.78 and paid $6.33.

National Bank of Detroit earned $26.66 and paid $8.51.

Bank of America (the biggest in the United States), with 850 Pacific Coast branches, earned $15.86 and paid $9.57.

Besides these cash dividends, there were many stock dividends.

First National Bank of Chicago paid in cash only about one-third of its earnings. There were frequent stock dividends.

A New England investor might well buy First National of Boston.

An Eastern seaboard investor might accumulate Morgan Guaranty Trust of New York—the greatest bank in the world, I think. (I worked there four years.)

And from industrial Detroit to dynamic California, investors could well buy shares in the other institutions.

State Young GOP Endorses Rocky For Nomination

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) —The possibility of Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy seeking the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator in the state drew heavy fire at a weekend meeting of the state's Young Republican Clubs here.

State Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo said Saturday night in an address to the group that the "forces of Democratic bossism, the new breed and the old" were attempting to dictate the selection of the Democratic senate candidate in the state.

Franco Has Favorite

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Generalissimo Francisco Franco showed marked favor for Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon Sunday, apparently rebuffing the aspiration of Prince Carlos Hugo of Bourbon-Parma to occupy the Spanish throne.

Franco gave the grandson of Spain's last king second place on the reviewing stand, beside the army minister, during an annual military parade. The prince's wife, Princess Sophie of Greece, sat at Mrs. Franco's right in her box.

Can't Be Sure of Detecting All

Sleuths Find 170 Hidden Transmitters in 15 Years

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. sleuths overseas have discovered that fireplaces can have ears.

One such fireplace was in the office at the residence of the American ambassador in Prague. Late last year State Department security men found a tiny radio hidden in the framework.

The midget transmitter, which could beam conversations in the room to eavesdroppers outside the ambassador's home, was described today as the most sophisticated device yet uncovered in a continuing check on attempts to spy against U.S. envoys abroad.

Find 170 Snoopers

Over the past 15 years some 170 hidden electronic snoopers have been ferreted out of the offices and homes of American officials in foreign lands, mostly behind the Iron Curtain.

The bugging is still going on and so are searches by specially trained State Department security men. Their biggest find announced last week, was 40 microphones in the U.S. Embassy in Moscow.

The Soviet microphones were relatively crude as spy devices go. But they defied U.S. detection for 12 years because they were so deeply embedded in the walls of the embassy and because they sent their signals by wire, not radio.

The State Department has a 95-man security squad operating abroad, headed by a former FBI and Central Intelligence Agency officer, G. Marvin Gentile.

Some of the overseas investigators are engineering graduates who specialize in electronic counter-espionage. Others do personnel security work, such as checking the backgrounds of federal job applicants who have lived overseas.

'Chamber of Horrors'

In Washington, the State Department has a locked "chamber of horrors" room for display of captured gadgets. The security men are briefed on the latest advances in eavesdropping technology.

Armed with modern detecting equipment, the overseas investigators travel out of Frankfurt, Beirut and Tokyo headquarters to "sweep" official quarters in the more than 100 countries where the U.S. government has buildings. If Congress votes the money, they will set up another headquarters in Africa.

Even with the stepped-up program, the security men cannot be 100 per cent sure they have uncovered all the spy devices. It is a standard rule for U.S. diplomats, especially in Communist countries, to assume unfriendly ears are trying to listen in.

Hard to Fool Monitors

Just turning on a water faucet or blaring a hi-fi set is not enough to offset a secret listening device. Skilled monitors can still pick out the conversation.

The best safeguard devised so far is "secure," or bug-proof, rooms specially constructed in embassies. Talk is possible in these rooms-within-rooms without fear of eavesdropping.

The embassies are regarded as easier to keep free of bugging than diplomats' homes. That's because embassies have a 24-hour guard, while homes are often unattended or are visited by local people who could be agents.

When the security men do turn up a hidden gadget, they face another problem: what secrets did the eavesdropper get? Also, they must check on what non-secret but still embarrassing information the snooper might have picked up to use as blackmail against his diplomat victim.

Committee Named On Hospital Costs

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Marion B. Folsom, a cabinet member in former President Eisenhower's Republican administration, is the chairman of a committee assigned to find ways of keeping the quality of hospital care up in New York State and costs as low as possible.

Folsom, former U.S. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, is a resident of Rochester and a director of the Eastman Kodak Co.

Gov. Rockefeller said Sunday he had named Folsom and six other members to the committee on hospital costs. Others on the committee include.

Joseph P. Molony of Buffalo, District 4 director for the United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO, AND Roy H. Park of Ithaca, business executive and a trustee of Tompkins County Hospital.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A seventh victim died today of burns suffered in a fire that swept the parish hall of All Hallows Catholic Church during a Samoan fire dance Saturday night.

The victims were members of the city's Samoan community.

Five Generations

AZTEC, N. M. (AP)—Ray B. Current is observing his 54th anniversary in business. He operates the Aztec Barber Shop and has been in the same location on Main Street for the entire 54 years. The Aztec Barber Shop is the third oldest business in Aztec. Oldest is the Aztec Independent-Review which has operated 76 years. The 60-year-old Citizens Bank is second oldest. Current says he has done barber work for as many as five generations of some local families.

STORY TIME—Children of the afternoon class at Fair Street Nursery School prepare to listen as the book is opened for story time. Nursery School Registration Is Set This Week

Registration for the fall term at the Fair Street Nursery School and open house will be held at the school, 209 Fair Street, Kingston, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 26 and 27 between 9 a. m. and 3:30 p. m.

Visitors always may drop in and see the school in operation, but a special invitation is extended each year at registration time to parents of three and four year old children to come in and visit. It is an opportunity to observe first hand this busy, child-sized world where, under the guidance of experienced and professional teachers, children learn a great deal about themselves, others, and the world they live in.

Fair Street Nursery School is sponsored by the consistory of the Fair Street Reformed Church. It is a non-sectarian, cooperative school which is operated without profit as a service to the Kingston area and surrounding communities. Having met the highest standards for nursery education, the school is accredited, licensed and supervised by the State Education Department. It is located in quarters designed for it in the modern Educational Building of the Fair Street Reformed Church and has a large, well-equipped play yard adjacent to it.

The school is governed by a board of directors; Mrs. Frieda Dingee, president; the Rev. Edwin C. Coon, vice president; Dr. Milton Grover, secretary; Mrs. John Mulvin, treasurer. Other members include Mrs. John Roberts, Mrs. Frank Matthews, Mrs. Herbert Lown, Mrs. John W. Johnson, Dr. Bert MacFadden, Mrs. Bruce Felton, Warren Russell, Herbert Sumliner, Robert Brown and Carl Modjeska.

The teaching staff for the school's 15th year will be headed by Mrs. Benjamin Emerick as director and teacher. She is a graduate of New Jersey State Teachers' College where she majored in elementary education. After teaching for four years in South Orange, N. J., she moved to Kingston where she assisted in the founding of the Fair Street Nursery School which she has directed since its beginning. She has been honored to be chosen for the third summer as instructor in nursery school education at the National Laboratory School for the Reformed Church of America at Hope College, Holland, Mich.

Mrs. Lincoln Christensen will remain on the staff as teacher of the three-year-olds for her fifth year with Fair Street Nursery School. She is a graduate of Wheaton College, Mass., and did post graduate work at Radcliffe. Prior to coming to Kingston, Mrs. Christensen taught in schools at Cambridge, Mass., Washington, D. C., and New York City.

The calendar of the Fair Street Nursery School follows that of the Kingston Consolidated Schools. The program includes in part visits to many local businesses and other places of interest. Also included are a special Fathers' Day at school and a Grandparents' Day, as well as several informative parents' programs during the year. A large and well-selected library of books dealing with understanding the development of young children is available to parents of the school, and the school has one of the finest libraries of children's books in the area.

New Paltz State University College has used Fair Street Nursery School for many years as a training center for their student teaching program. The school has also served Cobbleskill in the same capacity for the past two years. The school has been a model for more than 30 groups throughout the United States and two foreign countries.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Television re-runs present faithful viewers with problems not encountered in other entertainment areas.

Few television shows prove so utterly fascinating that viewers want to savor them a second time around. That is particularly true of comedy—where an important ingredient is the viewer's surprise—and in the action-adventure stories.

There may be some who can chuckle repeatedly at the surprised look on a lady's face—on "Candid Camera" Sunday night—when she finds that a cigarette she had just put into an ashtray had disappeared. This viewer didn't laugh the first time. Nor did I roar as did the studio audience at the anger of an earnest plumber puzzled by having beer run out of a leaky faucet and confronted with insults from the make-believe businessman who summoned him.

The second re - run problem for most of us viewers is that we are creatures of habits formed during the cold weather months. We sampled the network offerings last September and October, made our choices of preferred shows—and stuck with them.

It would seem that re - run time should give a follower of CBS, social work drama, "East Side, West Side," a chance to watch the ABC or NBC shows he missed. But it doesn't seem to work out that way.

The warm weather months however, are happy times for the baseball fans, particularly the lucky fans who can see televised games with their favorite teams.

Ed Sullivan had a mighty impressive list of guest stars on his show Sunday night — Duke Ellington, the great Lipizzaner horses, Michaelangelo's Pieta, the Beatles and more. But what kept me preoccupied was trying to figure out why the sponsor had announcer George Fenniman in the commercial carrying a pitcher of ice tea by helicopter to some people who were having a cookout in what looked like their back yard. It just seemed it would have been easier to make it in their kitchen.

Tonight is NBC's well publicized "Emmy Awards" show, 10-11:30 EDT—and for the first time in the history of televised awards ceremonies, it will be more interesting to note who keeps away than who turns up.

Health for All

Funny Notions

A little bit of camphor tied around the neck doesn't keep out disease. Rock candy won't cure a cough or cold. There's no such thing as "brain food." And shortness of breath isn't "natural" in middle-aged or elderly people.

Most of us by now have learned to disregard the first three of those once-popular myths. But when it comes to the fourth, many are still floating contentedly in the romantic mists of medical superstition.

How "natural" is it for people in their 40s, 50s, even 60s to get shortwinded when they haven't been putting out any exceptional effort? Answer: Not the least bit. After trotting briskly up a flight of stairs, hauling a heavy table across a room, or running a 100-yard dash, anybody's entitled to puff and pant a little. But when it comes to just ordinary exertion — walking around, doing light household chores, or working normally at a job—age is no excuse for failure of the breathing appartus to function properly.

And yet we've all heard the home-made explanations: "Getting on in years—gotta stop and catch my breath!" Or, "Wind ain't what it used to be when I was 25!" Maybe it isn't, but doctors stress that this is not a natural development. A healthy person's wind is adequate—at 17 or 70.

In short, the complaint that one is "too old" to breathe properly may be a way of rationalizing — instead of facing — a symptom of disease.

Old medical superstitions make quaint conversation pieces but thoroughly dubious guides to health. A better guide is the one now being voiced throughout the land by the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated groups in their May 1-June 15 Alert against respiratory diseases: "Short of breath? Cough too much? Don't take chances with Respiratory Disease. See a doctor."

BRING UNINVITED CHILDREN TO DINNER

Q: Will you please tell me how I can avoid a recurrence of a very upsetting incident? I invited three couples to my house for cocktails and dinner. One couple has two children. I made no mention of the children and since the invitation was given one week in advance I thought that would give them ample time to engage a baby sitter. I was shocked and chagrined when they arrived with their two children. They romped the house, interrupted conversation and in general spoiled my well-planned evening. I know that my smile instead of being spontaneous became quite frozen and brittle as the evening wore on and I am sure the parents sensed my displeasure and felt hurt. I thought the fact that the party was an evening one would be enough to insure against such contingency.

A: You are quite right and this couple was remiss in bringing their uninvited children to your dinner party. To prevent this from happening again, the next time you invite them, say: "If you can find someone to take care of the children next Thursday, would you and John like to come to dinner?"

Eating Grapefruit at Table

Q: I would like to know if, after eating the fruit from a half a grapefruit, it is proper to pick it up in the hand and squeeze the juice into a spoon and drink it? I have a friend who insists that this is acceptable manners. What is your opinion?

A: At a family table, squeezing the remaining juice of a grapefruit into one's spoon is quite all right, but one should not do this at a lunch or dinner party.

Wearing Ring Over Glove

A: Most certainly not!

Composer Addresses Music Appreciation Group in Kingston; His Music Is Played

Geoffrey O'Hara, well known composer and lecturer, feels that "the absence of good music today has given rise to such groups as the Beatles."

Speaking Friday, May 22, at a luncheon meeting of the Music Appreciation Group of Kingston, Mr. O'Hara of "K-K-K-Katy," fame, delighted his audience with interesting facts about his background and the world of music in general.

One of seven remaining charter members of ASCAP, Mr. O'Hara stressed that "in any profession you have to start at the bottom. I made my way gradually. I played the organ when I was 12 and at 18 I learned there was such a thing as written music. I became a professional tenor in the Episcopal Church and later joined the minstrels for more money."

O'Hara finally became a song plugger in Tin Pan Alley and he was successful in selling his own compositions to outstanding singers of his day including Enrico Caruso.

O'Hara included interesting facts about the time he worked with the American Indians on music therepy long before this art was taken seriously in America. He was the Pioneer Army Song Leader in World War 1 and his songs helped name the American troops "The Singing Armies."

The composer, who was honored with the Lafayette Baton in 1955, also described the world of music today as far more difficult for composers than it was in his time.

"Sheet music is on its way out," he said. "Today, the recording takes first place. Publishers no longer want sheet music. You have to record your number and send it to them for approval. It was different when I first started.

All we did was talk into a publisher's office with the words on a piece of paper, sat down at a piano, and auditioned. Today you must interest a leading singing to record your composition before you can interest a publisher."

Asked whether the music or words come first, Mr. O'Hara stated that in his case he has always worked with the prepared text first.

Frederic Snyder, fellow - lecturer, introduced the guest speaker and the guest of honor Dr. George F. Chandler. In his introductory address, Mr. Snyder referred to music as " . . . the sun of the mind and the light of the heart."

Mrs. John Sterley conducted the program.

Two soloists were present to sing several of Mr. O'Hara's compositions. They were John McCullough, well known tenor and president of Community Concerts Association, and Nelson G. Burhans of West Camp, baritone. Accompanist was Mrs. Barbara Sparks of Saugerties.

Mr. McCullough sang "I walked Today Where Jesus Walked," and "There Is No Death." Mr. Burhans sang "The Living God."

Also serving on the luncheon committee were Mrs. William Ochs and Mrs. Arthur T. Pedersen.

Tuesday Primary Will Test Barry's Florida Backing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's strength among Florida Republicans will be tested Tuesday in a primary that highlights this week's political schedule.

However, much of the political interest is on a race that won't be decided until June 2: The Arizona senator's battle with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York for California's 86 Republican convention votes.

Other events this week include Tuesday's runoff primary in Oklahoma and Saturday's primary in North Carolina and a Republican convention in Mississippi, also Saturday.

The Republican National Convention arrangements committee meets here today to go over final plans and choose the three top convention officers.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., and Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon appear to be the likely choices for permanent and temporary chairmen. There is strong support for Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the party's national chairman, to deliver the keynote address.

The Florida GOP primary is to decide whether a slate of delegates pledged to Goldwater and endorsed by him, or an unpledged slate, most of whose members favor Goldwater, will cast the state's 34 convention votes.

Either way the senator is assured a good bloc of votes. He also is expected to pick up Mississippi's 13 votes at that state's GOP convention.

At the start of the week, The Associated Press survey of first ballot votes showed this lineup:

Barry Goldwater	304
William W. Scranton	70
Henry Cabot Lodge	44
Nelson W. Rockefeller	40
Margaret Chase Smith	15
Richard M. Nixon	11
Favorite sons	102
Uncommitted	225

The Florida election also includes a Democratic gubernatorial runoff primary between Mayor Haydon Burns of Jacksonville, who led the field in the May 5 primary, and Mayor Robert King High of Miami.

The full skirt swept back into a chapel length circular train featuring a court obi sash at the back waistline. Bodice and skirt were enhanced with Alencon lace motifs embroidered with tiny seed pearls secured the triple tiered silk illusion veil. She carried phalianopsis orchids with lily of the valley in a cascade arrangement with Baltic ivy.

Miss Mary Hatt of Poughkeepsie, sister of the bridegroom was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Priscilla Brown of Kingston and Miss Irene Sahler of Ulster Park, both cousins of the bride.

They were gowned alike in lilac DeLuna peau fashioned with Empire bodices, three quarter length sleeves and circlet necklines. The sheath front skirts were floor length and featured side and back fullness. The honor attendant wore a single matching rose with a flyaway tulle veil and the bridesmaids wore smaller roses with net leaves. Miss Hatt carried a cascade arrangement of yellow roses with miniature yellow roses and lavender pompons. Other attendants carried cascade arrangements of lavender lilacs and yellow daisies.

Miss Diana Lynn Bickert, cousin of the bride was flower girl in a gown of lilac peau styled with a molded bodice, rounded neckline and puffed sleeves. The gown was floor length and featured an overskirt of white nylon eyedet. She wore a band of matching silk organza petals in her hair and carried a basket of mixed spring flowers.

William K. Kaiser of Poughkeepsie was best man with James H. Rogers and Peter E. Ryan, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, both of Poughkeepsie, as ushers.

After a reception for 100 guests at The Alpine, DeWitt Lake Road, the couple left on a wedding trip through northern New York State. For traveling the bride wore a dressmaker suit of jonquil yellow with white accessories and a corsage of white shaster daisies.

They will make their home in Schultzville, Dutchess County.

There is no limitation, either as to rate or amount, upon ad valorem taxes upon taxable real property in the City which may be required to pay the bonds and the interest thereon. The State Constitution requires the City to pledge its faith and credit for the payment of the principal of the bonds and the interest thereon and to make annual appropriations for the amounts required for the payment of such interest and the redemption of the bonds. The State Constitution also provides that if at any time the appropriating authorities fail to make the required appropriations for the annual debt service on the bonds and certain other obligations of the City, a sufficient sum shall be set apart from the first revenues thereafter received and shall be applied for such purposes, and also that the fiscal officer of the City may be required to set apart and apply such revenues as aforesaid at the suit of any holder of such obligations.

Counties, Cities, Towns, Villages, and a School District in a city (except housing)

The population of the City as shown by the 1960 U. S. Census is estimated to be $29,768. The debt statement to be filed pursuant to §109.00 of the Local Finance Law in connection with the sale of the bonds hereinabove described, prepared as of May 20, 1964, will show the average full valuation of real estate subject to taxation by the City to be $114,657,527, its debt limit to be $8,026,026 and its total net indebtedness subject to the debt limit (exclusive of such bonds) to be $1,651,197. The proceeds of such bonds will be used to retire outstanding indebtedness of $233,600 evidenced by bond anticiation notes. The indebtedness to be evidenced by such bonds will not increase such net indebtedness.

It shall be a condition of the successful bidder's obligation to accept the bonds that such bidder will be furnished, without cost, with (a) the approving opinion of Hawkins, Delafield & Wood to the effect that the bonds are valid and legally binding general obligations of said City of Kingston and that all the taxable real property therein will be subject to the levy of ad valorem taxes to pay said bonds and interest thereon without limitation as to rate or amount, and (b) certificates in form satisfactory to said firm evidencing the proper execution and delivery of the bonds and receipt of payment therefor, including a statement, dated as of the date of such delivery, to the effect that there is no litigation pending or (to the knowledge of the signer or signers thereof) threatened affecting the validity of the bonds.

A detailed report of essential facts will be furnished to any interested bidder on request.

21 Years in Welfare Office

Coming Retirement Reminds Mrs. Alice Bohan of Her Age

By Charles M. McCarthy
Freeman Staff Writer

Alice M. Bohan cleared the hurdles in a breeze as a rangy, athletic miss in college.

She climbed mountainsides in the Woodstock area to carry out her later role as a physical education supervisor.

She took time out to raise a family and after that was accomplished she put in a 21-year career as a caseworker for the Ulster County Welfare Department.

And now they went and blew the whistle on her.

It seems that all of a sudden Mrs. Bohan is 70 years old and she had to be reminded of it by retirement—as of May 31 —from the department.

Alice Bohan, a quiet, demure person whose physical appearance betrays a stature achieved by three careers in which she has proven to be a success, has not had what you would call an "ordinary" life—unless, you call compiling several thousand miles of footwork, including mountain climbing, an ordinary thing.

ANOTHER HURDLE FOR CHAMPION—Mrs. Thomas (Alice) Bohan, of Ulster Park, a 21-year employe of the Ulster County Welfare Department, turned up with a typical smile as she presented retirement papers to Department Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons. Her retirement, effective May 31, will climax a career that included role of star college athlete, physical education instructor and supervisor, housewife and mother, and case worker in Welfare Department. She will be honored at testimonial dinner Thursday at Kingston Post American Legion Home. (Freeman photo)

All Around Champ

Born Alice Chaffee in Brooklyn, Mrs. Bohan graduated from Far Rockaway High School, Queens and took a course at Cornell University College of Agriculture. She then matriculated at the Savage School of Physical Education — which is now incorporated with New York University—where she proved herself to be a part of the school's history. While at Savage, she proceded to establish herself as all-around athletic champion, setting records all over the place. She set the school's all time high jump record when to jump one's height —something over five feet that is — was quite an accomplishment.

After graduation from Savage, she set out to pursue her first career — supervisor of physical training in the Lawrence School District, Town of Hempstead, in Lawrence, L. I. — on foot. She supervised and taught phys ed to children in the Lawrence High School and also supervised the same subject for four elementary schools from 1918 to 1919.

Before that, from 1917 to 1918, she more than hoofed her way around Ulster County. She supervised physical education in the old School District 4 which encompassed 39 rural schools in the towns of Hardenbergh, Woodstock, Hurley, Olive and Shokan. Her duties required instruction of pupils in physical education and games as well as instruction of teachers. She introduced the New York State Physical Training curriculum to 46 teachers in the schools. As she put it herself, "We had to teach the teachers physical education so that they could teach the children."

It was not, therefore, an unusual sight to see Alice surveying her wonderland — the Catskill foothills — on foot. A hike from Phoenicia to Woodstock, let's say, is a brisk challenge for any outdoor enthusiast. But how would you like to have to do it in the winter when the roads weren't plowed and when transportation came to a practical halt when the snow hit.

By 'Shank's Mare'

Alice Bohan made it, somehow. She recalls how she did it — by horse and carriage, train, bus, mailman or just on foot — "but mostly by shank's mare."

But even this rugged young miss rolled on the wheels of progress. She recalls how in 1917 she bought a Ford. But even that had its drawbacks. For that meant taking the water out of the radiator every night during the winter if you didn't want the water to freeze.

And other incidentals, such as using a tire iron and arm and leg muscles when you got a flat tire. Area folk, however, registered contentment when they saw that the little miss was now afforded with the relative protection of a motor car instead of having to make her way over the forest filled mountainsides. (They registered surprise when she told them she never even carried a gun.)

By the time she was ready to settle down to married life with "Tom" Bohan, Mrs. Bohan had served as physical ed instructor at Far Rockaway High School; phys ed instructor for boys and girls and director of after-school atletics for girls from 1916-1917; supervisor of the playground for the Convalescent Home for Children on the Astor Estate at Rhinebeck in June 1916; supervisor at Christ Church Summer School and Camp in New York City, summer of 1916, and playground instructor in Newark, N. J. during the summer of 1915. She also gave private instruction in calisthenics and reducing exercises and did extensive work as basketball player and coach for various church teams.

Housewife and Mother

The next three decades meant the role of housewife and mother for Mrs. Bohan and her husband Thomas Bohan, who is executive secretary of Ulster County Department of Civil Service. Today, they have a daughter, Mary Alice Bohan, who is an artist and copywriter for advertising agencies in New York City. They also have a son, Navy Commander Norman Chaffee Bohan, of Fairfax, Va. and Washington, D. C., married to the former Frances Stout and father of grandchildren David, Michael, Barbara, Richard, Stephan and Jane Bohan.

"Grandmother" Bohan — and somehow the name doesn't seem to fit Alice Bohan, who still looks the part of a rangy, handsome woman athlete—is a member of the Ulster County Civil Service Employes Association; the American Legion Auxiliary of Esopus Post 1298, and the board of directors of the Port Ewen Library.

She will be honored at a testimonial dinner at 7:30 p. m., Thursday, May 28, at the post home, 18 West O'Reilly Street.

Mrs. Bohan's husband, who recently was named an honorary life member of Kingston Post 150, takes a philosophical view about his wife—of whom he is justifiably proud—preceding him into retirement. "After all," he said, "we have some 80 acres of land and she's a good gardener." Besides, he said, "there's plenty of work and she's a master mechanic.

And after all, she had to be

Young Says Rocky Greatest Vote-Getter

MALONE, N.Y. (AP) — New York's Republican state chairman says that if Sen. Barry Goldwater heads the party ticket this year, Democrats could win control of the state Legislature.

Fred A. Young said Gov. Rockefeller was "the Republican Party's greatest vote-getter" and should be named to oppose President Johnson in the November elections.

Young, speaking Saturday night at a meeting of the Women's Republican Club of Franklin County, did not mention Goldwater by name, but referred to him in the terms Rockefeller has been using in discussing the Arizona conservative.

Phouma Demand Is Retreat by Lao Force

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — A retreat by Communist Pathet Lao forces to their former positions in the Plaine des Jarres is the condition given by neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma for his joining a proposed new 14-nation conference on the Laotian crisis.

The premier told newsmen Sunday his government would attend the conference "only on the condition that a ceasefire comes about immediately throughout Laotian territory and on the other hand the Pathet Lao, who have deliberately attacked us and dislodged us from our positions in the Plaine des Jarres, retreat to their original positions."

Offer Tax Relief

MALONE, N.Y. (AP) — Officials of communities in three North Country counties want to offer tax relief to the Rutland Railroad in a move to keep the New York section of the railroad in operating condition.

About 40 supervisors, elected officials and community leaders from St. Lawrence, Clinton and Franklin counties met Saturday with Rutland officers in an effort to maintain the Vermont-based carrier's trackage in New York State.

Race for Moon 'Crazy'

CANBERRA (AP) — Sir John Eccles, a Nobel Prize winner, says the race for the moon is "futile, fantastic and crazy."

"I don't know the point of going to the moon," Sir John said in a speech to the Australian National Science Faculties Association conference in Canberra. "It's an awfully dull place with just dust, mountains and no climate."

CampaigningGoes Into Final Week In Coast Primary

The presidential hopes of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater clash June 2. The plum: 86 votes at the Republican National Convention.

The candidates each campaigned today in an area where they are weakest — Goldwater in the north and Rockefeller in the south.

On Bustamente's Goal

Sport Club Ties Troy In Final Minutes, 3-3

Carlos Bustamente"s goal with only three minutes left to play enabled the Kingston Sport Club to tie the Troy Sport Club, 3-3, and retain their slim lead in the Central New York Soccer Association.

The Troy club, in its best performance ever against the locals, took the lead with penalty shot at the 12-minute mark of the opening period. Eight minutes later, Tony Fitzharris, back in action after a four-weeks suspension, tied the score at 1-1.

Bustamente slammed his first goal from an assist by Lee Roberts at the 55-minute mark to put Kingston ahead, 2-1, only to have the Trojans tie it again with a penalty shot at 62 minutes. The locals then had to scramble back to set up Bustamente's tying goal.

In a preliminary game, Manager Tony Alexander's second team scored a 4-3 win over Middletown's newly formed soccer team. With only a few practices behind them, Middletown showed excellent teamwork. There is a strong possibility that Middletown will acquire a Central New York league franchise next season.

In international competition Sunday, Hamburg of Germany pulled an upset over Liverpool of England, 2-0, at Randalls Island.

The English Nationals play against the USA national team Wednesday at 8 p. m. Cars will be going to the game at Randalls Island. Anyone wishing to go is asked to contact Bill Oehler at Oehlers's Mountain Lodge.

Ernie Beesmer Wins 25-Lap Stock Car Race at Accord

Don Hoose won his second straight sedan feature in a race that saw Eric Gundberg of Accord roll over four times on the backstretch and walk away from his car. Ed Harkins took the sedan reverse start race.

What Campers Want

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — Family campers willingly forego many "comforts of home" but want some simple physical facilities at their campsites, A University of Illinois study of 158 families revealed what they looked for in camping sites. Good clean water for drinking headed the list. Hot showers ranked low on the list. So did electricity and flush toilets. Harvey Schweitzer, extension rural sociologist, said nearly all families agreed that a graveled drive and pad for tent or trailer, cooking grill, picnic table and wood supply were satisfactory.

Stuart Aids Sox To Sweep

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dick Stuart, whose glove sometimes beats Boston, now has come close to whipping the Red Sox with his bat.

The Boston slugger's bat put Kansas City ahead with a home run in the first game of a doubleheader Sunday.

Then Stuart clouted a grand slam home run for a 6-2 victory. He came back with a two-run homer that gave Boston a 3-1 triumph in the nightcap

The home run that put the Athletics into a 2-1 lead actually was hit by Jim Gentile, who had borrowed one of Stuart's bats.

The big first baseman's grand slam off Moe Drabowsky in the eighth inning broke a 2-2 tie. It was his first homer since April 28 when he also smashed a grand slam. He also connected with a man aboard in the fourth inning of the nightcap, giving him four this season.

Stuart's average is only .230, but he has 28 runs batted in, third best in the American League. Last year he hit 42 homers and drove in 118 runs.

Orioles Sweep

Of five scheduled doubleheaders in the AL, Baltimore had the only other sweep, beating Minnesota 2-0 and 7-6. Chicago downed Washington, then lost 3-0 while New York defeated Los Angeles 8-5 after dropping a 3-0 decision. Detroit got by Cleveland 7-5. Rain washed out the second game.

Stuart's blast in the opener enabled Jack Lamabe, who came to Boston from Pittsburgh with the first baseman, to win his fifth game in six decisions. Rookie Ed Connolly won his first major league game in the nightcap with relief help from Bob Heffner and Dick Radatz.

The Orioles were on the verge of losing the second game when they struck for three runs in the ninth. Jerry Adair's homer, a walk, an infield hit and an error brought home the tying runs. Then Luis Aparicio knocked in Jackie Brandt with a sacrifice fly.

Harmon Killebrew socked a two-run homer for the Twins in the eighth, tying the game 4-4, and Tony Oliva connected with one on in the ninth.

Robin Roberts set down the Twins on five hits in the opener, reducing his earned run average to 1.88 on a 2-2 record.

The White Sox had a five-game winning streak until Buster Narum limited them to six hits in the second game. The Senators gave him two runs in the first on singles by Don Blasingame, John Kennedy and Chuck Hinton and Don Lock's sacrifice fly.

Pinch hitter Floyd Robinson doubled with the bases loaded in the eighth, driving in two runs and bringing the White Sox from behind in the opener. J. C. Martin's sacrifice fly accounted for a third run in the inning. The Senators had taken a 4-3 lead in the eighth on Kennedy's single and Hinton's double.

Mickey Mantle sparked the

Mantle Homers

Yankees to their second-game triumph after Dean Chance blanked them on three hits in the opener. Mantle homered in the second, then triggered a four-run rally in the sixth with a two-strike bunt. The Yankees trailed 5-2 going into the inning. Ed Kirkpatrick hammered a two-run homer for the Angels in the second.

Los Angeles actually won the first game in the first inning. Billy Moran doubled home Lee Thomas and Bob Rodgers, then scored on a double by Tom Satriano.

Joe Torre Hits Well For Braves

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Boy, are you fat!" Warren Spahn exclaimed nine years ago when Joe Torre first appeared in a Milwaukee dressing room, accompanied by big brother Frank, then the Braves' regular first baseman.

Spahn didn't get an argument —the younger Torre, at 15, weighed 240 pounds—but today the Braves' pitching ace would be the first to admit that the fattest think about Joe is his .370 batting average.

On the other hand, if you had asked Bobby Bragan Sunday, after Torre's hitting rampage led the Braves to a 7-4, 10-0 doubleheader sweep of St. Louis, the Milwaukee manager would have told you that Joe is the fattest commodity in the game.

"He's the most valuable piece of baseball property today," Bragan said, following Torre's 7-for-10 spree that lifted him from seventh to third position in the National League batting derby. "I wouldn't trade him for anybody, not even Willie Mays, because I'd be giving up eight years."

Torre's current streak lends weight to Bragan's claim. The catcher-first baseman, whose three-week spring holdout led both leagues, has hit at a .418 clip since May 1, raising his average 79 points from .291. He hit his fifth and sixth home runs of the month Sunday for a total of 9—five less than his 1963 output.

Keeping Close

While Milwaukee closed to within 1½ games of the NL lead, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati kept pace with double victories. The Pirates stunned San Francisco 3-0 and 5-3; the Reds downed Chicago 6-5 and 12-4. Los Angeles employed Sandy Koufax in relief to nail down a 3-0 victory over Philadelphia and Houston blanked New York 5-0 in a night game.

Torre singled four times in the Braves' first-game victory, credited to Spahn, and drove in two runs. His two homers and a single — good for three more RBI — Backed Denny Lemaster's three-hit pitching in the nightcap.

The Brooklyn native has 54 hits, second in the league, and is third in RBI.

Pittsburgh southpaw Bob Veale stopped San Francisco on two hits and fanned seven Giants in the opener for his fourth victory. Rookie right-hander Tom Butters drove in three Pirate runs in the second game and recorded his first major league victory with help from relievers Bob Priddy and Al McBean.

Mays Slips to 393

Mays had one hit in five at-bats and his batting average fell from .400 to .393.

Chicago's Billy Williams regained the top spot, going 3-for-6 to climb from .394 to .398, but the Cubs succumbed to Bill Henry's clutch relief pitching in the opener and an eight-run Cincinnati inning in the finale.

Henry halted Chicago's two-run ninth inning rally to save the victory for Jim O'Toole. Tommy Harper and Vada Pinson each hit safely twice in the Reds' third inning second-game outburst.

Koufax, making his first relief appearance since 1962, quelled a Philadelphia threat in the seventh inning and the Dodgers whipped the Phillies for the first time in seven meetings.

Joe Moeller, the winner, allowed only one hit through the first six innings but faltered in the seventh when Johnny Callison led off with a single and Wes Covington followed with a double. Koufax retired the next three batters and gave up one hit the rest of the way.

Rookie Wes Parker cracked two doubles and a triple to pace the Dodgers' attack.

Houston right-hander Bob Bruce ran his record to 6-1, firing a four-hitter and striking out 10 Mets. Mike White drove in three runs with a first inning single and a double in the seventh.

Bill Pratt is Named Top Athelete at UCCG

Bill Pratt was named the top athlete of the year at Ulster County Community College. The selection of Pratt was made known at the school's first annual awards dinner last week at Williams Lake. Thirty-four major varsity letters and 18 minor varsity letters were given.

Pratt is the first three-letter winner in the school, having played on the basketball and baseball teams as well as being on the bowling team.

Golf — Charles Fatum, best shooter and Pat Manfro, most valuable.

DiBernardo said that cross country will be started in September at the local school. He told of an expanded 23-game basketball schedule and said that the baseball schedule will also be expanded.

Ulster has joined a conference with seven other colleges and will play those schools in all the sports.

Kingston Youth Loses in Finals

Michael Payne of Newburgh defeated David Roberts, 14-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. John Roberts of Kingston, in the finals of the Greater Poughkeepsie Junior Chamber of Commerce Sunday at the Poughkeepsie Tennis Club. The scores were 6-2, 6-4.

Payne will now represent the Jaycees, along with Norman Fox of the Anderson School, in the State Jaycee tournament in July.

Roberts gained the finals by beating John Guernsey of Poughkeepsie, 6-0, 6-0; William Howard of Anderson School, by default; and David Guernsey, 6-1, 9-7.

LeRoy Fein, tournament chairman, called Roberts a fine young tennis player with a lot of drive and enthusiasm and the potential become one of the top players in the area.

The number of kids it holds has never been settled.
The Volkswagen Station Wagon is a good four feet shorter than conventional wagons. Yet it holds more than the biggest wagon you can buy. (Herbert, stop that this minute!)
It holds an army of kids. Or eight adults. None of them skinny: the seats are five feet wide. All of them tall: the seats are higher than in conventional wagons. (Herbert, don't you dare!)
Take out the middle and rear seats, and you can carry a seesaw, a slide, a rocking horse. (Wait till I tell your father!)
Keep the rear seat in and you can still carry bigger, bulkier things than you could in a conventional wagon. A crib or a baby carriage. A chest of drawers standing upright. An open playpen. They fit comfortably through the wide side doors. (Herbert!)
All the way back, behind the rear seat, there's room for 9 or 10 pieces of luggage. Easy to load or unload through the back door.
Shown: the VW Deluxe Station Wagon with sunroof and 21 windows, $2,765.00.* The VW Standard model is only $2,605.00.* Hundreds of dollars less than any other wagon and perfect for people with lots of kids.
Or just one like Herbert.

One Excuse

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — An industrial engineering student at New Haven College failed to turn in a mid-term paper on time. But he had an unusual explanation for instructor Gene Simons. The student said the paper was in his locker at a company where he worked while going to school. The employes were on strike and he couldn't cross the picket line to get to his locker, he said.

me that Rockefeller sits right in the middle of Gen. Eisenhower's statement."

Retired Gen. C. T. (Buck) Lanham, active in the campaign to draft Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge for the nomination, said Eisenhower's statement of GOP principles fits Lodge and could cover Rockefeller or Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania as well.

Harold E. Stassen, an announced candidate, said in Philadelphia: "We needed these words from him (Eisenhower). I hope he takes an increasingly active role in the crucial 1964 decision of our Republican party."

Probe Ellenville Woman's Death

The death of Dorothy Haskin, 40, of 3 Hickory Street, Ellenville, who was found dead when authorities arrived at her home Sunday shortly after noon, is under investigation by Ellenville Chief of Police Abe Rand, State Police Investigator Michael Mahoney and Coroner Arthur C. Chipp.

An autopsy was ordered performed by Coroner Chipp after she was pronounced dead at her home, 3 Hickory Street, by Dr. Charles Rosenstock.

It was reported she had been at a party Saturday night and was taken ill at a Clinton Avenue home. She reportedly was taken home and about 1:10 p. m. Sunday James Chapman, also of 3 Hickory Street, reported to Chief Rand that she was ill. The first aid and rescue squad was summoned as well as Dr. Rosenstock. He pronounced her dead on arrival.

Steel Plant Included

He said the assistance would include a steel plant with an annual capacity of one million tons and a 10,000-acre model farm where Soviet techniques would be used to reclaim the desert. He left it to Nasser to tell the cheering crowd the amount of the aid.

Terms of the loan were not disclosed, but it was presumed that they called for repayment over 12 years at 2.5 per cent interest. The previous $500 million in Soviet credits to Egypt was on this basis.

The United States has supplied Egype with $750 million in assistance in the last 10 years.

The U.S. State Department warned last fall that further U.S. assistance was imperiled by Nasser's intervention in Yemen's civil war and the Senate tacked a rider onto the foreign aid bill barring aid to countries "engaged in or preparing for aggressive military effort."

Stand on Cuba

In the Khrushchev - Nasser communique, Nasser defended the "legitimate right of the Cuban people to defend their sovereignty" after Khrushchev warned that U.S. reconnaissance flights over the island could have "most fatal consequences for those who undertake such gambles."

Both leaders denounced "attempts to torpedo the Geneva agreements of 1962 with regard to Laos," but they did not say whether they thought the United States or Communist China was responsible for the crisis in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Nasser endorsed the Soviet Union's bid to attend the coming meeting of Asian - African states as an Asian power. Red China says the Soviet Union is predominantly a European power and should be barred.
